Red China Confirms Mao Stepping Down As Chief Of State

Will Keep Job As Party Chairman

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Mao Tze-tung, Communist China's political, economic and governmental boss, is quitting as chief of state next month.

Peiping confirmed it Tuesday but emphasized that Mao will remain at the helm of Red China as boss of the Chinese Communist party, said diplomatic advices reaching Warsaw.

Foreign Minister Chen Yi notified foreign diplomats in Peiping that the 65-year-old father of the Red Chinese revolution — though keeping his big job as party chairman—will retire from the presidency upon the expiration of his term in January "to conserve himself to still more important tasks."

Though the retirement was pictured by the Chinese as strictly voluntary, Western envoys in this Polish Communist capital expressed belief that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev might have had a hand in it.

They said that if Khrushchev did not precipitate Mao's stepdown, they were certain he was pleased with it. They believed the retirement was discussed at Monday's meeting of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee in Moscow.

The Soviet Union, they said, had been worried about two things in relations with its biggest Communist neighbor:

1. The possibility of adverse effects from Mao's drastic commune policy, which masses workers and their families into labor battalions for Red China's campaign in agriculture and industry.

2. Fear of an adventurist foreign policy in the Far East at a time when Soviet attention centers on Berlin and the Middle East.

Chen emphasized the voluntary aspect of the retirement at a briefing of ambassadors, ministers and charges d'affaires.

The people of China will be disturbed by the news, Chen said, but the decision will be communicated to them in a way to "banish all fear and apprehension."

Diplomatic dispatches concerning the Peiping briefing, and a copy of a resolution of the Chinese Communist party's Central Committee accepting Mao's decision reached Warsaw about the same time.

Andy Contends Coya's Political Foes Duped Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Andy Knutson testified under oath Tuesday that political opponents of his wife, Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn), duped him into issuing a celebrated "Coya come home" appeal.

Mrs. Knutson was the only Democrat in Congress to lose to a Republican in the Nov. 4 election. She told fellow House members her husband's appeal was used repeatedly and effectively against her during the campaign.

Husband and wife, still at odds maritally, appeared before a special House committee created to ride herd on 1958 campaign expenditures.

Knutson said he never would have signed the May 4 come home letter had he known at the time who was behind it.

"Yes, I was sober," he soberly told a questioner. But he said that while he "got a hang of what the letter meant" he didn't know the meaning of all the words.

A handwriting expert has attributed the original version to a political ally of Odin Langen, the Republican who defeated Mrs. Knutson. Langen has disclaimed any part in what the congresswoman claims was a conspiracy to get her to quit politics.

Her blonde hair contrasting pleasingly with a blue wool dress, Mrs. Knutson said Langen repeatedly quoted the come home letter over television and radio.

Asked whether distribution of the letter and stories about it affected her election, Mrs. Knutson replied: "I certainly think it affected it. I lost and I was the only Democratic incumbent to lose."

She said she wants the whole story out in the open now so that what she calls a conspiracy can't be perpetrated on others.

The letter urging her to come home to Oklee, Minn., said among other things that her congressional executive assitant, William Kjeldahl, actually ran her office and dictated to her. Mrs. Knutson said this just wasn't so.

Her husband, a lean man of 50 who runs a small hotel at Oklee, filed and later dropped a $200,000 alienation of affection suit against Kjeldahl. He testified he was goaded into doing it by gossip and the carrying of tales and had no evidence of any misconduct on the part of his wife and her aide.

"Moans" Heard Over Telephone Prove Snores

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP) — A telephone operator called police to report a telephone off the hook, and someone moaning into it.

Police rushed to the house where the telephone was listed, ran up three flights of stairs and burst into an apartment.

They found a man with the telephone receiver on his chest. He was lying down—snoring.

Foes Of Iraqi Regime Facing Gallows Threat

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of Iraq's Communist-backed regime are reported facing a silent and terrifying threat — a hangman's gallows outside the Baghdad jail.

This information has reached diplomatic officials who are watching what they consider to be a powerful new upsurge in Communist strength throughout Iraq.

The gallows have been erected in the past few days, they said, amid mounting Red pressure on Premier Abdel Karim Kassem for a savage crackdown on alleged enemies of the revolutionary regime.

The development coincides with what are called pretty solid rumors that some low-level foes already have been executed after swift, secret trials. They apparently were accused of plotting to overthrow the regime as part of an alleged conspiracy exposed by the Baghdad regime last week.

The arrival Monday in Baghdad of William M. Rountree, U.S. Assistant secretary of state, represents a move by the Eisenhower administration to assess the future of the oil-rich country.

Rountree's observation, plus the regime's success in protecting him from fanatic Red demonstrators, will play a major role in helping the United States chart future policies toward Kassem's regime.

A major Communist-led riot occurred in the southern Iraq city of Basra Friday, three days before Rountree's arrival. Iraqi censors apparently have blocked news of this.

Red-led mobs were reported to have virtually taken over Basra for hours, overturning automobiles and roughing up Iraqi army officers. Iraq troops put down the demonstration late in the day.

Anti-Western sentiment is reported boiling in the northern Kurdish areas, too. This has been fanned by Communist agitators, but there are few reliable reports on what is occurring in that region.

Vote Rejected In News Strike

NEW YORK (UPI) — Striking deliverymen Tuesday night rejected a federal mediator's proposal that they vote Thursday on the same contract which the union previously had turned down. The deliverymen's action dashed hopes that a quick end might be in sight for New York's seven-day newspaper strike.

Joseph F. Finnegan, chief of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, had obtained an agreement from the deliverymen's negotiators to put the contract proposals before the union's membership at another referendum Thursday.

The contract terms were those negotiated Dec. 8 and which were turned down the next day by balloting in which only 35 per cent of the union membership participated.

Tuesday night the deliverymen held a regular membership meeting, and afterward their president, Samuel Feldman, said, "the membership has voted down the vote and there will be no vote on Thursday."

Fuel Oil Price Upped

BALTIMORE (AP) — Esso Standard Oil Co. has increased the price of fuel oil for homes by .3 cents a gallon, the third hike in a little more than four months totaling 1.3 cents.

The new price to householders announced Tuesday will be 14.9 cents.

Ike, Cabinet Discuss Legislative Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower and his Cabinet discussed the administration's 1959 legislative program for about two hours at a special meeting Tuesday.

The White House provided no details on the session. The Cabinet members were not available to newsmen after the meeting.

The legislative program will be set forth in the President's State of the Union message to Congress next month.

California Brush Fire Endangers 80 Cabins

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Calif. (AP) — Under a sky-blackening smoke cloud, California's worst brush fire of the year broke fire lines at two points Tuesday and threatened eighty summer cabins.

"Whether we can save the cabins remains to be seen," said a forestry official.

The area, in Long Canyon, is steep and rugged.

Also endangered was a nudist camp. The four persons living there prepared to evacuate.

Since Sunday the wind-whipped blaze has blackened 50,000 acres of valuable watershed and grazing land in picturesque rolling foothills.

A task force of 2,000 firefighters—many with only a few hours sleep in three days — waged determined but hazardous warfare from land and air.

NATO Allies Reject Soviet Berlin Move

Dulles Is "Quite Certain" Kremlin Won't Risk War

PARIS (UPI) — The 15 nations of NATO Tuesday night rejected the Soviet ultimatum on Berlin after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told them h was "quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war" on the issue.

The members of the NATO Council of Ministers warned unanimously they would hold the Russians responsible for any action endangering free communications with the isolated city.

The council endorsed the position already taken by the United States, France, Britain and West Germany after Dulles explained it point by point.

"I am quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin," he said. "Therefore, we can proceed with confidence."

Iceland forgot its dispute with Britain over fishing and Turkey and Greece laid aside their differences over Cyprus to join in the declaration.

Reaffirms Right To Remain

"The demands expressed by the Soviet government have created a situation which must be faced with determination," the official communique declared.

The communique, solemn and toughly worded, reaffirmed the right of the Wsetern Allies to remain in Berlin.

It left the door open for negotiations but said the Berlin question could only be settled "in the framework of an agreement with the USSR on Germany as a whole."

NATO Secretary General Paul Henri-Spaak of Belgium told newsmen afterward he was extremely impressed with the session.

"The striking thing was that all nations of NATO, from the most powerful to the most modest, agreed that there was no question of negotiating under a threat of an ultimatum," Spaak said.

Ready To Negotiate

But he pointed out the Allies were ready to negotiate.

"It must be emphasized that the Western declaration on Berlin contains no provocation whatsoever," he said. "Our communique simply means this—menace does not pay."

The Western powers will begin at once drafting their replies to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's demand that the West get out of Berlin and make it a "free city." The replies will be based on the NATO communique.

Bomber Falls In Tampa Bay

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A jet bomber crashed and exploded in Tampa Bay Tuesday night, about 300 yards off-shore from a thickly populated St. Petersburg residential area.

No survivors were found in the first hour of search.

MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa tentatively identified the craft as a six-engine B47 jet bomber from MacDill. A spokesman said B47s usually carry three-man crews.

A witness said he saw the plane's right wing on fire just before the craft hit the water. He said the jet appeared to settle for "30 seconds to a minute, then exploded and burst into flames again."

The crash occurred about 30 blocks south of St. Petersburg's municipal pier, the heart of the city's resort area.

Two helicopters and two boats from the St. Petersburg station went to the scene. Also searching the area were a fire boat and a crash boat from MacDill.

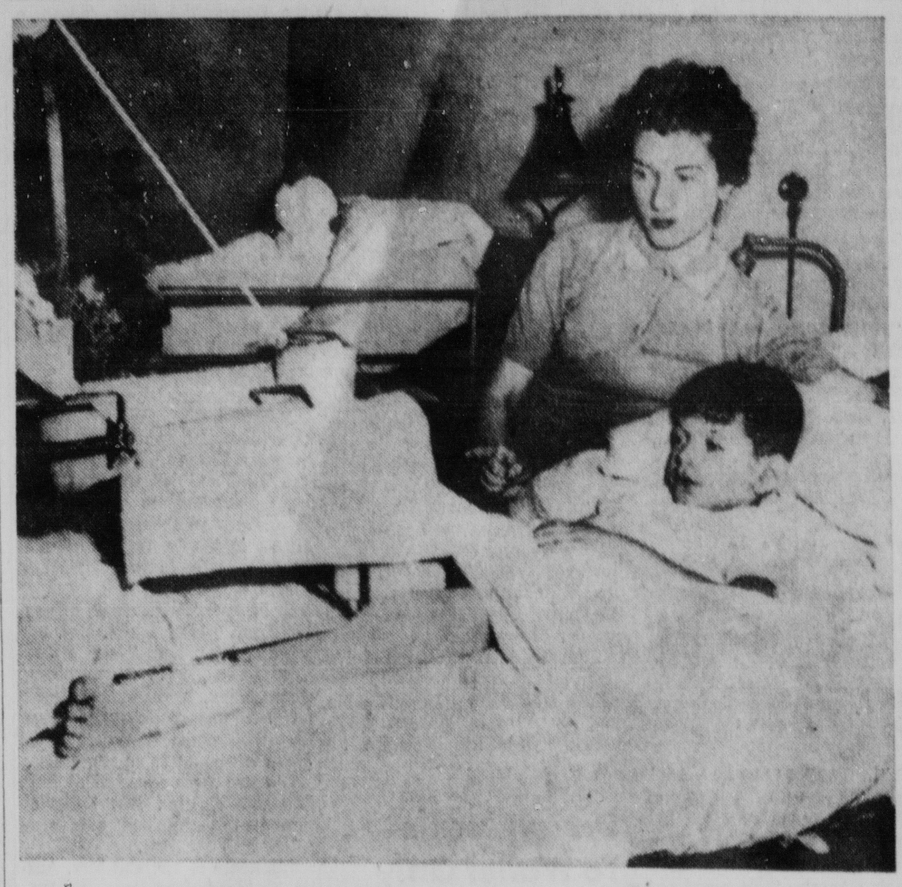

Balloonists Believed Past 1,300-Mile Mark

SANTA CRUZ, Tenerife, Canary Islands (UPI) — Favorable winds may have carried the balloon "The Small World" and its crew of four past the 1,300-mile mark on its adventurous crossing of the Atlantic, weather experts said Tuesday.

They said that if weather patterns now forming over the Atlantic continue the balloon and its English crew will reach Brazil.

Instead, the boy said, he was placed in a hallway of a building where two schoolboys found him hours later. (AP Photofax)

House Demos Exclude Alford From Caucus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democrats failed to invite Arkansas segregationist Dale Alford to their party caucus Jan. 6, it was disclosed Tuesday, paving the way for a decision on whether he will be considered a member of the Democratic majority in the new Congress.

Alford insists he is a Democrat. But he defeated the party's regular nominee, Rep. Brooks Hays, on a last-minute write-in campaign in the Little Rock congressional election.

Alford's name was not included in a list of Democrats invited to the party's caucus. The meeting is to be held the day before the opening of the House session Jan. 7.

His exclusion meant an almost certain vote in the caucus on whether he should be entitled to privileges of a member of the majority. Such privileges include patronage and accumulation of seniority toward committee assignment.

Alford's membership in the House was not at stake. But it could be challenged as a result of a complaint lodged with the Special House Elections Committee that fraud and conspiracy figured in his election.

The committee is expected to reach a final decision Wednesday on whether to investigate the complaint. Several members said there was no doubt it would decide to do so.

Alford's omission from the caucus came as a surprise. The House clerk already had counted Alford as one of 283 House Democrats in the new Congress.

Family Of Six Wiped Out By Heater Fumes

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Neighbors Tuesday discovered the bodies of a family of six who apparently died Saturday night from carbon monoxide fumes emitted by a faulty gas heater.

Dead were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Steele Jr., each 29, and their four children, Debbie, 4; Teddy, 9; Timmy, 7; and Mike, 2.

One Of Nation's New Supersonic B58s Crashes

Of three crewmen reported aboard two were accounted for. Both parachuted and were picked up separately and flown by helicopter to a hospital at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis.

Neither was identified, although an Air Force spokesman said he understood one was a lieutenant-colonel, the pilot.

It was the first crash of a Hustler bomber, which travels more than twice the speed of sound — between 1,400 and 1,500 miles an hour.

The Air Force said the big delta-winged craft was on a test flight — checking navigational equipment—from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex.

Airline Strike Set By Pilots

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Air Line Pilots Asssociation Tuesday night set a strike deadline for one minute to midnight Friday night against American Airlines.

At the moment, the ALPA said, it would call out 1,500 pilots on strike to back up demands that the third man in the cockpits of the jet airliners of the future be a qualified pilot.

Eastern Airlines, the nation's busiest air carrier, has been grounded for weeks by twin strikes by the mechanics union and flight engineers. Company officials have reached an agreement with the mechanics, but it must still be ratified by rank-and-file membership. The engineers' dispute remains deadlocked.

A walkout of Trans World Airlines flight mechanics was settled in Kansas City last week.

High Court Will Rule On Voter Literacy Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to pass on the validity of a North Carolina literacy test for voters. The test was challenged by a Negro voter who contended it resulted in discrimination.

A 1957 law says every person seeking to register as a voter must be able to read and write any section of the North Carolina constitution. The North Carolina Supreme Court decided that since the law applied to all persons who seek to register, it does not discriminate because of race.

Louise Lassiter declined to take the literacy test in an appearance before the registrar of Seaboard Precinct in Northampton County, N.C., on June 22, 1957. She was refused registration and later began proceedings before a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Raleigh to have the law declared invalid. The district court sent the case to the North Carolina Supreme Court, directing that it give its interpretation of the state law.

When the state court upheld the law, Louise Lassier appealed to the Supreme Court.

Nation's Marathon Cold Wave Breaking

By United Press International

A new snow storm blew across the Dakotas Tuesday and heavy frost killed whole fields of crops in southernmost Texas. But the big weather news was the nation's marathon cold wave was breaking.

After two weeks, southerly and westerly winds began to blow once more across the Great Plains. Temperatures struggled upwards from the zero level and got into the 40's and 50s through Missouri.

Weathermen picked their words carefully in predicting whether the warmup would spread all the way across to the shivering East. Although the warm air was racing across Minnesota and the Dakotas, there was danger that it might cool off drastically in its journey across vast expanses of snow drifts and frozen ground.

Missile Shot Marks Debut Of New Range

First Time IRBM Fired By Regular Air Force Crew

The deadly white dart rose slowly from its launching pad at this Strategic Air Command base, then gathered speed swiftly. Three minutes later it was out of sight and racing toward its target area at speeds approaching 10,000 m. p.h.

The roar of its takeoff was heard for miles around.

"Let's go, you baby girl," an Air Force officer shouted prayerfully as the medium range ballistic started on its journey.

Ammo For U. S. Campaign

The success of the shot was strong ammunition for America's campaign to secure missile bases overseas. Thor bases have been set up in the British Isles and negotiations are under way for bases in other countries.

Russia has warned its smaller neighbors it would regard as an unfriendly act any decision to allow the United States to set up missile bases close to the Iron Curtain. The newest demonstration of America's missile readiness is expected to influence some of the reluctant nations.

The 65-foot high Thor was fired by the same type of crew that would launch it in the field under combat conditions.

It was the first launching at this new Air Force missile base and the free world's first firing of a ballistic under push button warfare circumstances. The 11-man crew fired the missile at 3:43 p. m., only 11 minutes after starting to fill it with fuel.

The weapon can carry a nuclear warhead, but did not Tuesday.

The weather was sunny and warm with only a slight breeze. But coastal fog was starting to roll in as the bird took wing.

Shot Delayed 3½ Hours

The missile was in sight for a little over three minutes before fading from sight. A mighty shout arose from nearly 200 newsmen, watching from 1½ miles away, as the white needle rose vertically, then nosed over toward the west.

The shot was delayed 3½ hours by unexplained technical difficulties.

America's allies, some already armed with Thors—known as intermediate range ballistic missiles—have waited for weeks to see how the big birds perform in the hands of regular Air Force crews.

82 Reported Dead In Bogota Dept. Store Fire

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Fire broke out in a downtown department store crowded with Christmas shoppers Tuesday night. Shortly afterward the building's doors were closed—apparently to prevent looting—and a large number of persons died in the flames and smoke.

A police official said at least 82 persons, most of them women and children, were killed.

Almost 100 other persons were injured or treated for smoke poisoning. More than 7,000 homeward-bound workers jammed the area around the burning building, hampering firemen who turned their water hoses on them to keep back the crowd.

Hospital sourcessaid the dead comprised 66 women, 5 children and 11 men.

16-Year-Old Boy Says Child's Bedtime Antics Touched Off Frenzy Of Killings

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A tall, pale boy who said a child's bedtime antics and mother's screams drove him into a frenzy of killings, stood with bowed head as the names of his five victims were read.

This was at the arraignment Tuesday of Carl A. Eder, 16, on a multiple-murder charge. He was certified to the Juvenile Division of Superior Court, which will determine whether he is to be tried as an adult or juvenile.

The names of the victims, read from the murder complaint by Municipal Judge Fenton Garfield in suburban El Cajon, were Lois Pendergast, 37, and her children, David, 9; Thomas, 6; Diane, 4; and Allen, 2.

Eder, who slouches a bit from his 6-feet-2, bowed his head at the name of David and seemed near tears as the other children were named.

He was advised of his rights and taken back to jail.

His capture Monday night ended a hunt that had started when Thomas Pendergast, 39, a San Diego aircraft pipefitter, found his family murdered Friday evening.

Eder had been hiding out in an unused ballroom owned by the city in the Mission Beach district. He had been befriended by the Pendergasts and taken into their home six weeks earlier. He helped care for the children.

He was quoted by officers: "Diane was in the bedroom, jumping up and down on the bed."

Blood came from the child's head, he said, and Mrs. Pendergast screamed.

The youth said he then got a gun and, when Mrs. Pendergast screamed again, he shot her. He shot her again after she fell.

"Then I looked for a knife and killed the little kids," he said.

Since Sunday the wind-whipped blaze has blackened 50,000 acres of valuable watershed and grazing land in picturesque rolling foothills.

A task force of 2,000 firefighters—many with only a few hours sleep in three days — waged determined but hazardous warfare from land and air.

Dulles Is "Quite Certain" Kremlin Won't Risk War

PARIS (UPI) — The 15 nations of NATO Tuesday night rejected the Soviet ultimatum on Berlin after Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told them h was "quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war" on the issue.

The members of the NATO Council of Ministers warned unanimously they would hold the Russians responsible for any action endangering free communications with the isolated city.

The council endorsed the position already taken by the United States, France, Britain and West Germany after Dulles explained it point by point.

"I am quite certain the Soviet Union will not risk war over Berlin," he said. "Therefore, we can proceed with confidence."

Iceland forgot its dispute with Britain over fishing and Turkey and Greece laid aside their differences over Cyprus to join in the declaration.

Reaffirms Right To Remain

"The demands expressed by the Soviet government have created a situation which must be faced with determination," the official communique declared.

The communique, solemn and toughly worded, reaffirmed the right of the Wsetern Allies to remain in Berlin.

It left the door open for negotiations but said the Berlin question could only be settled "in the framework of an agreement with the USSR on Germany as a whole."

NATO Secretary General Paul Henri-Spaak of Belgium told newsmen afterward he was extremely impressed with the session.

"The striking thing was that all nations of NATO, from the most powerful to the most modest, agreed that there was no question of negotiating under a threat of an ultimatum," Spaak said.

Ready To Negotiate

But he pointed out the Allies were ready to negotiate.

"It must be emphasized that the Western declaration on Berlin contains no provocation whatsoever," he said. "Our communique simply means this—menace does not pay."

The Western powers will begin at once drafting their replies to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's demand that the West get out of Berlin and make it a "free city." The replies will be based on the NATO communique.

Bomber Falls In Tampa Bay

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—A jet bomber crashed and exploded in Tampa Bay Tuesday night, about 300 yards off-shore from a thickly populated St. Petersburg residential area.

No survivors were found in the first hour of search.

MacDill Air Force Base in Tampa tentatively identified the craft as a six-engine B47 jet bomber from MacDill. A spokesman said B47s usually carry three-man crews.

A witness said he saw the plane's right wing on fire just before the craft hit the water. He said the jet appeared to settle for "30 seconds to a minute, then exploded and burst into flames again."

The crash occurred about 30 blocks south of St. Petersburg's municipal pier, the heart of the city's resort area.

Two helicopters and two boats from the St. Petersburg station went to the scene. Also searching the area were a fire boat and a crash boat from MacDill.

Balloonists Believed Past 1,300-Mile Mark

SANTA CRUZ, Tenerife, Canary Islands (UPI) — Favorable winds may have carried the balloon "The Small World" and its crew of four past the 1,300-mile mark on its adventurous crossing of the Atlantic, weather experts said Tuesday.

They said that if weather patterns now forming over the Atlantic continue the balloon and its English crew will reach Brazil.

Property Confiscated

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Senate has ordered the seizure of property of former dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, arrested Dec. 3 on a charge of revolutionary plotting.

Run Down, Abandoned By Autoist

Seven-year-old Michael Brown is comforted by his mother, Mrs. Paul Brown, at American Hospital, Chicago, where the boy is being treated for a broken right leg and head cuts. Michael told police he was struck by a motorist while walking home from school. The boy said the driver put him in his auto and said he was going to take him to a hospital. Instead, the boy said, he was placed in a hallway of a building where two schoolboys found him hours later. (AP Photofax)

House Demos Exclude Alford From Caucus

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Democrats failed to invite Arkansas segregationist Dale Alford to their party caucus Jan. 6, it was disclosed Tuesday, paving the way for a decision on whether he will be considered a member of the Democratic majority in the new Congress.

Alford insists he is a Democrat. But he defeated the party's regular nominee, Rep. Brooks Hays, on a last-minute write-in campaign in the Little Rock congressional election.

Alford's name was not included in a list of Democrats invited to the party's caucus. The meeting is to be held the day before the opening of the House session Jan. 7.

His exclusion meant an almost certain vote in the caucus on whether he should be entitled to privileges of a member of the majority. Such privileges include patronage and accumulation of seniority toward committee assignment.

Alford's membership in the House was not at stake. But it could be challenged as a result of a complaint lodged with the Special House Elections Committee that fraud and conspiracy figured in his election.

The committee is expected to reach a final decision Wednesday on whether to investigate the complaint. Several members said there was no doubt it would decide to do so.

Alford's omission from the caucus came as a surprise. The House clerk already had counted Alford as one of 283 House Democrats in the new Congress.

Family Of Six Wiped Out By Heater Fumes

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Neighbors Tuesday discovered the bodies of a family of six who apparently died Saturday night from carbon monoxide fumes emitted by a faulty gas heater.

Dead were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Steele Jr., each 29, and their four children, Debbie, 4; Teddy, 9; Timmy, 7; and Mike, 2.

One Of Nation's New Supersonic B58s Crashes

Of three crewmen reported aboard two were accounted for. Both parachuted and were picked up separately and flown by helicopter to a hospital at Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis.

Neither was identified, although an Air Force spokesman said he understood one was a lieutenant-colonel, the pilot.

It was the first crash of a Hustler bomber, which travels more than twice the speed of sound — between 1,400 and 1,500 miles an hour.

The Air Force said the big delta-winged craft was on a test flight — checking navigational equipment—from Carswell Air Force Base, Fort Worth, Tex.

Airline Strike Set By Pilots

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Air Line Pilots Asssociation Tuesday night set a strike deadline for one minute to midnight Friday night against American Airlines.

At the moment, the ALPA said, it would call out 1,500 pilots on strike to back up demands that the third man in the cockpits of the jet airliners of the future be a qualified pilot.

Eastern Airlines, the nation's busiest air carrier, has been grounded for weeks by twin strikes by the mechanics union and flight engineers. Company officials have reached an agreement with the mechanics, but it must still be ratified by rank-and-file membership. The engineers' dispute remains deadlocked.

A walkout of Trans World Airlines flight mechanics was settled in Kansas City last week.

High Court Will Rule On Voter Literacy Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court agreed Tuesday to pass on the validity of a North Carolina literacy test for voters. The test was challenged by a Negro voter who contended it resulted in discrimination.

A 1957 law says every person seeking to register as a voter must be able to read and write any section of the North Carolina constitution. The North Carolina Supreme Court decided that since the law applied to all persons who seek to register, it does not discriminate because of race.

Louise Lassiter declined to take the literacy test in an appearance before the registrar of Seaboard Precinct in Northampton County, N.C., on June 22, 1957. She was refused registration and later began proceedings before a special three-judge U.S. District Court in Raleigh to have the law declared invalid. The district court sent the case to the North Carolina Supreme Court, directing that it give its interpretation of the state law.

Nation's Marathon Cold Wave Breaking

By United Press International

A new snow storm blew across the Dakotas Tuesday and heavy frost killed whole fields of crops in southernmost Texas. But the big weather news was the nation's marathon cold wave was breaking.

After two weeks, southerly and westerly winds began to blow once more across the Great Plains. Temperatures struggled upwards from the zero level and got into the 40's and 50s through Missouri.

Weathermen picked their words carefully in predicting whether the warmup would spread all the way across to the shivering East. Although the warm air was racing across Minnesota and the Dakotas, there was danger that it might cool off drastically in its journey across vast expanses of snow drifts and frozen ground.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A tall, pale boy who said a child's bedtime antics and mother's screams drove him into a frenzy of killings, stood with bowed head as the names of his five victims were read.

This was at the arraignment Tuesday of Carl A. Eder, 16, on a multiple-murder charge. He was certified to the Juvenile Division of Superior Court, which will determine whether he is to be tried as an adult or juvenile.

The names of the victims, read from the murder complaint by Municipal Judge Fenton Garfield in suburban El Cajon, were Lois Pendergast, 37, and her children, David, 9; Thomas, 6; Diane, 4; and Allen, 2.

Eder, who slouches a bit from his 6-feet-2, bowed his head at the name of David and seemed near tears as the other children were named.

He was advised of his rights and taken back to jail.

His capture Monday night ended a hunt that had started when Thomas Pendergast, 39, a San Diego aircraft pipefitter, found his family murdered Friday evening.

Eder had been hiding out in an unused ballroom owned by the city in the Mission Beach district. He had been befriended by the Pendergasts and taken into their home six weeks earlier. He helped care for the children.

He was quoted by officers: "Diane was in the bedroom, jumping up and down on the bed."

Blood came from the child's head, he said, and Mrs. Pendergast screamed.

The youth said he then got a gun and, when Mrs. Pendergast screamed again, he shot her. He shot her again after she fell.

"Then I looked for a knife and killed the little kids," he said.

Missile Shot Marks Debut Of New Range

First Time IRBM Fired By Regular Air Force Crew

The deadly white dart rose slowly from its launching pad at this Strategic Air Command base, then gathered speed swiftly. Three minutes later it was out of sight and racing toward its target area at speeds approaching 10,000 m. p.h.

The roar of its takeoff was heard for miles around.

"Let's go, you baby girl," an Air Force officer shouted prayerfully as the medium range ballistic started on its journey.

Ammo For U. S. Campaign

The success of the shot was strong ammunition for America's campaign to secure missile bases overseas. Thor bases have been set up in the British Isles and negotiations are under way for bases in other countries.

Russia has warned its smaller neighbors it would regard as an unfriendly act any decision to allow the United States to set up missile bases close to the Iron Curtain. The newest demonstration of America's missile readiness is expected to influence some of the reluctant nations.

The 65-foot high Thor was fired by the same type of crew that would launch it in the field under combat conditions.

It was the first launching at this new Air Force missile base and the free world's first firing of a ballistic under push button warfare circumstances. The 11-man crew fired the missile at 3:43 p. m., only 11 minutes after starting to fill it with fuel.

The weapon can carry a nuclear warhead, but did not Tuesday.

The weather was sunny and warm with only a slight breeze. But coastal fog was starting to roll in as the bird took wing.

Shot Delayed 3½ Hours

The missile was in sight for a little over three minutes before fading from sight. A mighty shout arose from nearly 200 newsmen, watching from 1½ miles away, as the white needle rose vertically, then nosed over toward the west.

The shot was delayed 3½ hours by unexplained technical difficulties.

America's allies, some already armed with Thors—known as intermediate range ballistic missiles—have waited for weeks to see how the big birds perform in the hands of regular Air Force crews.

82 Reported Dead In Bogota Dept. Store Fire

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — Fire broke out in a downtown department store crowded with Christmas shoppers Tuesday night. Shortly afterward the building's doors were closed—apparently to prevent looting—and a large number of persons died in the flames and smoke.

A police official said at least 82 persons, most of them women and children, were killed.

Almost 100 other persons were injured or treated for smoke poisoning. More than 7,000 homeward-bound workers jammed the area around the burning building, hampering firemen who turned their water hoses on them to keep back the crowd.

Hospital sourcessaid the dead comprised 66 women, 5 children and 11 men.

Love Triangle Ends In Killing Of German Exchange Student

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A love triangle involving a German exchange student and the couple that took him in, ended in violent death at the University of California early Tuesday.

For two hours a jealous husband stalked his intended prey in Leconte Hall, making a room by room search of the college physics building.

On the third floor, Wolfgang Ludwig Marx, 26, of Herrnhut, Germany, a brilliant young student, was working alone on an electronics project.

Marx must have heard footsteps at 12:50 a.m. He opened the laboratory door and was confronted by a man with a pistol.

The gun fired five times. Marx fell dead, a bullet through his heart.

The killer dropped his .22 caliber weapon as he fled, but returned later for it and was taken into custody.

John W. Hampton, 31, readily admitted the killing, police Sgt. Robert Ludden said, and, booked on suspicion of murder, related this story:

Marx became a boarder at the Hampton's home and a student at the university in 1955. He had difficulty with the English language. But Mrs. Hampton, the former Madeleine Baum of Weisbaden, Germany, spoke fluent German.

Hampton said the relationship developed into a love affair. He ordered Marx out of his home. Marx then went into the U.S. Army in May 1957. Upon his return last September the relationship was resumed, Hampton said.

Hampton told police his wife admitted the affair and asked for a divorce. She is the mother of three young boys.

"I loved her and I couldn't stand it," Hampton said. "This thing was driving me crazy."

Police Sgt. George Martin said Mrs. Hampton, told of the shooting, screamed: "My God! How is Marx?"

She collapsed when told Marx was dead.

U.S. Plane Sets Airlift Record

DOVER, Del. (AP)—The U. S. Air Force set a new world record Tuesday by flying a plane with 117,900 pounds of cargo — more than twice the weight of its own previous record airlift and nearly three times a 1957 mark set by the Russians.

A giant C113 Douglas Cargomaster of the Military Air Transport Service took off from Dover Air Force Base and flew for one hour with the heaviest load in the history of aviation. The operation, dubbed "Big Lift," commemorated the 55th anniversary of powered flight.

The new record topped the previous world mark set last September by an Air Force KC135 Stratotanker which lifted 78,089 pounds. Today's lift was nearly three times a world mark set in 1957 by a Soviet TU104.

Last W.Va. Pen Escapee Seized

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Elwood McClure, 40, Charleston, the last of three prisoners who escaped last month under cover of a heavy fog from Moundsville Penitentiary was captured at a motel on U. S. 60 between St. Albans and South Charleston late Tuesday.

McClure was sentenced to life under the habitual criminal act. The other two escapees were captured earlier.

Robert R. Taylor, 45, was captured about a week after the breakout in Norfolk, Va. Donald Harless, 36, of nearby Marmet, was taken into custody Dec. 9 at the home of his wife's parents here.

Three State troopers, headed by Sgt. W. S. Webb of South Charleston detachment, followed up a tip and surprised McClure at the motel.

He said McClure was not alone but declined to identify the person or persons accompanying him.

Auto Driving Teacher Freed Of Bribe Charge

BALTIMORE (AP) — A driving instructor was freed Tuesday of a charge of handling a $10 bribe from a girl who said she flunked a test on purpose.

Then prosecution said it would not press charges against another defendant, Laird B. Rose, 44-year-old examiner for the Department of Motor Vehicles. He was accused of accepting the money via Lutwyche.

Miss Patricia Ann Birrane of Baltimore told the jury that she gave Lutwyche $10 to make certain she passed her driver's license exam.

The 19-year-old girl also testified Lutwyche had first suggested that he could get "help" for her when she went to the DMV last August to take the written exam.

Miss Birrane said she was motivated in part by a desire to help her brother, Edward, get a news story for the Baltimore News-Post.

The prosecution pointed out the girl and her brother were trying to do a public service by exposing corruption. But Judge Sodaro noted they failed to act in conjunction with any law enforcement officials.

Defense attorneys argued that the main state's witnesses were part of the alleged offense and there was a question whether their testimony could be believed.

Car Wrecking Job Completed By Train

First he was involved in a collision with a truck. His car was damaged but he was unhurt so he drove on.

Then his car stalled on a railroad crossing. A freight train came around the bend.

Conaway got out of the car in time to make a futile effort to flag down the train.

Dirksen Plans Fight For GOP Post In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said Tuesday he will fight for and expects to win the post of Senate GOP floor leader.

The Illinois senator, describing himself as a down-the-line supporter of President Eisenhower "for whom I have carried the flag when the legislative going was rough," told reporters: "I'm definitely a candidate. I think we shall be able to command sufficient voting strength. I hope we shall be able to do so."

Dirksen is the central target in a fight against the Senate Republican leadership launched Monday by a 10-member group, headed by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, which views the present leadership as behind the times.

Dirksen spoke out as a new call for compromise and harmony failed to soothe leaders of the party uprising.

The call came from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All GOP Senators. A similar line was taken Monday night by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, senior Senate Republican and chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

These two conferred during the day with Dirksen, who also carried on the recruiting campaign among fellow senators.

Aiken said his group would continue its "no compromise fight for election of a floor leader, whip, and three other officers whose views are in keeping with the times."

Dream Leads To Wallet Only It Wasn't His

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — Until noon Tuesday, Elmer Madsen, a Bristol factory worker, says he never placed much stock in dreams.

Even now, and despite what has happened, Madsen is not so sure.

But here's what he says did happen—and you can draw your own conclusions.

Monday night, Madsen discovered he had lost his wallet containing $10. In his dreams, he says, he saw the wallet lying in a parking lot near his factory.

During lunch hour he strolled over to the parking lot and sure enough—he found a wallet. But it wasn't his.

This wallet contained $28 and some papers belonging to Paul Swingle. A grateful Swingle accepted the wallet from Madsen. Nothing was said about how Swingle feels about dreams.

W. Germany To Have 12 Air Wings In Year

FASSBERG, Germany (AP)—Lt. Gen. Josef Kammhuber, chief of the West German Luftwaffe, announced Tuesday that his fledgling air force will have 12 combat-ready wings by the end of 1959.

They will be five fighter-bomber wings, three fighter, two reconnaissance and two transport wings. Within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, West Germany is allowed an air force of 1,200 combat aircraft.

Kammhuber was attending inauguration ceremonies of the 34th fighter-bomber wing which consists of three squadrons totaling 75 U.S.-built F84 jets. It is the fourth fighter-bomber wing in operation.

Mao's Retirement Not Expected To Change Red Chinese Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials see no change in Red China's policy, either for better or worse, as a result of Mao Tze-tung's decision to bow out as head of the government.

The key factor, in Washington's view, is that Mao remains as head of China's Communist party. Thus, he is still the boss, no matter who is the figurehead.

The State Department highlighted this in a statement by spokesman Lincoln White: "We note that press reports say that Mao retains his positions in the leadership of the Communist party. These, of course, are the posts which wield real power under the totalitarian Communist system."

Behind this official statement was a solid conviction that Mao, still vigorous at 65, is in firm control of China's destiny.

This conviction apparently is not shared by Nationalist Chinese officials on Formosa or among Western diplomats in Warsaw. Reports from both points speculated that Mao was in trouble with his own people as well as with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But George Yeh, Nationalist China's ambassador here and former foreign minister, took a dim view of such speculation. He told the Associated Press, "Let us not take this as Mao's personal defeat or the beginning of a more liberal regime. I also think that relations between Moscow and Peiping would remain more or less as they are."

Ex-Con, Woman Friend Seized In Jewel Theft

NAPLES, Fla. (UPI) —A longtime hoodlum, who once convinced a Florida governor to pardon him, and his woman friend were expected to make bond Wednesday on charges of stealing $10,000 in jewels from the winter home here of a wealthy West Virginian.

Ted Jacob Rinehart, 32, ex-convict from Poplar Bluffs, Mo., and Tampa, Fla., and Ailene Ford Thomas, 40, Fort Worth, Tex., were being held under $20,000 bond. A warrant charged Rinehart with grand larceny and the Thomas woman as an accessory.

The two were arrested at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last Saturday through the combined efforts of police and the FBI.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Wood, Wheeling, W. Va., publisher, was entered Nov. 30. Thieves removed $10,000 worth of jewels, including a $6,000 diamond ring, from a jewelry box. The Woods said they left the house unlocked.

The theft was not discovered until Monday night after the Sunday burglary.

Rinehart has a criminal record dating back to 1944, authorities said. This was the fourth time he has been arrested since he talked acting Florida Gov. Charley Johns into giving him a pardon in 1954 while serving 15 years at Faiford State Prison for multiple offenses, including safe - cracking and road gang escapes.

The prosecution pointed out the girl and her brother were trying to do a public service by exposing corruption. But Judge Sodaro noted they failed to act in conjunction with any law enforcement officials.

Defense attorneys argued that the main state's witnesses were part of the alleged offense and there was a question whether their testimony could be believed.

Car Wrecking Job Completed By Train

First he was involved in a collision with a truck. His car was damaged but he was unhurt so he drove on.

Then his car stalled on a railroad crossing. A freight train came around the bend.

Conaway got out of the car in time to make a futile effort to flag down the train.

Dirksen Plans Fight For GOP Post In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Everett M. Dirksen said Tuesday he will fight for and expects to win the post of Senate GOP floor leader.

The Illinois senator, describing himself as a down-the-line supporter of President Eisenhower "for whom I have carried the flag when the legislative going was rough," told reporters: "I'm definitely a candidate. I think we shall be able to command sufficient voting strength. I hope we shall be able to do so."

Dirksen is the central target in a fight against the Senate Republican leadership launched Monday by a 10-member group, headed by Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, which views the present leadership as behind the times.

Dirksen spoke out as a new call for compromise and harmony failed to soothe leaders of the party uprising.

The call came from Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, chairman of the Conference of All GOP Senators. A similar line was taken Monday night by Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, senior Senate Republican and chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee.

These two conferred during the day with Dirksen, who also carried on the recruiting campaign among fellow senators.

Aiken said his group would continue its "no compromise fight for election of a floor leader, whip, and three other officers whose views are in keeping with the times."

Dream Leads To Wallet Only It Wasn't His

BRISTOL, Conn. (AP) — Until noon Tuesday, Elmer Madsen, a Bristol factory worker, says he never placed much stock in dreams.

Even now, and despite what has happened, Madsen is not so sure.

But here's what he says did happen—and you can draw your own conclusions.

Monday night, Madsen discovered he had lost his wallet containing $10. In his dreams, he says, he saw the wallet lying in a parking lot near his factory.

During lunch hour he strolled over to the parking lot and sure enough—he found a wallet. But it wasn't his.

This wallet contained $28 and some papers belonging to Paul Swingle. A grateful Swingle accepted the wallet from Madsen. Nothing was said about how Swingle feels about dreams.

W. Germany To Have 12 Air Wings In Year

FASSBERG, Germany (AP)—Lt. Gen. Josef Kammhuber, chief of the West German Luftwaffe, announced Tuesday that his fledgling air force will have 12 combat-ready wings by the end of 1959.

They will be five fighter-bomber wings, three fighter, two reconnaissance and two transport wings. Within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, West Germany is allowed an air force of 1,200 combat aircraft.

Kammhuber was attending inauguration ceremonies of the 34th fighter-bomber wing which consists of three squadrons totaling 75 U.S.-built F84 jets. It is the fourth fighter-bomber wing in operation.

Mao's Retirement Not Expected To Change Red Chinese Policy

WASHINGTON (AP)—American officials see no change in Red China's policy, either for better or worse, as a result of Mao Tze-tung's decision to bow out as head of the government.

The key factor, in Washington's view, is that Mao remains as head of China's Communist party. Thus, he is still the boss, no matter who is the figurehead.

The State Department highlighted this in a statement by spokesman Lincoln White: "We note that press reports say that Mao retains his positions in the leadership of the Communist party. These, of course, are the posts which wield real power under the totalitarian Communist system."

Behind this official statement was a solid conviction that Mao, still vigorous at 65, is in firm control of China's destiny.

This conviction apparently is not shared by Nationalist Chinese officials on Formosa or among Western diplomats in Warsaw. Reports from both points speculated that Mao was in trouble with his own people as well as with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

But George Yeh, Nationalist China's ambassador here and former foreign minister, took a dim view of such speculation. He told the Associated Press, "Let us not take this as Mao's personal defeat or the beginning of a more liberal regime. I also think that relations between Moscow and Peiping would remain more or less as they are."

Ex-Con, Woman Friend Seized In Jewel Theft

NAPLES, Fla. (UPI) —A longtime hoodlum, who once convinced a Florida governor to pardon him, and his woman friend were expected to make bond Wednesday on charges of stealing $10,000 in jewels from the winter home here of a wealthy West Virginian.

Ted Jacob Rinehart, 32, ex-convict from Poplar Bluffs, Mo., and Tampa, Fla., and Ailene Ford Thomas, 40, Fort Worth, Tex., were being held under $20,000 bond. A warrant charged Rinehart with grand larceny and the Thomas woman as an accessory.

The two were arrested at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., last Saturday through the combined efforts of police and the FBI.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin V. Wood, Wheeling, W. Va., publisher, was entered Nov. 30. Thieves removed $10,000 worth of jewels, including a $6,000 diamond ring, from a jewelry box. The Woods said they left the house unlocked.

The theft was not discovered until Monday night after the Sunday burglary.

Rinehart has a criminal record dating back to 1944, authorities said. This was the fourth time he has been arrested since he talked acting Florida Gov. Charley Johns into giving him a pardon in 1954 while serving 15 years at Faiford State Prison for multiple offenses, including safe - cracking and road gang escapes.

Massive Campaign Begins To Find Cancer-Curing Drug

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, disclosed Monday the government and medical profession have launched a massive campaign to find a drug which will cure cancer.

He told a news conference the research had produced "encouraging results" in the treatment of at least one kind of cancer.

He also said the government had spent 30 millions dollars so far this year investigating cancer, which snuffs out 250,000 lives annually in this country.

Dr. John R. Heller, director of the government's National Cancer Institute, told the same news conference that "exciting advances" have been made. He said they suggest that some kinds of cancer may be caused by a virus.

Heller revealed an anti-cancer vaccine made from virus material taken from mice with leukemia, or cancer of the blood, had proved 80 to 90 per cent effective with mice.

He said this indicated leukemia might be caused by a virus. But he cautioned, "it still is a long way from mice to men."

Flemming said a cancer chemotherapy program, treatment with chemical compounds, was in full scale operation. He said it was one of the most extensive campaigns ever undertaken to find a cure for a major disease.

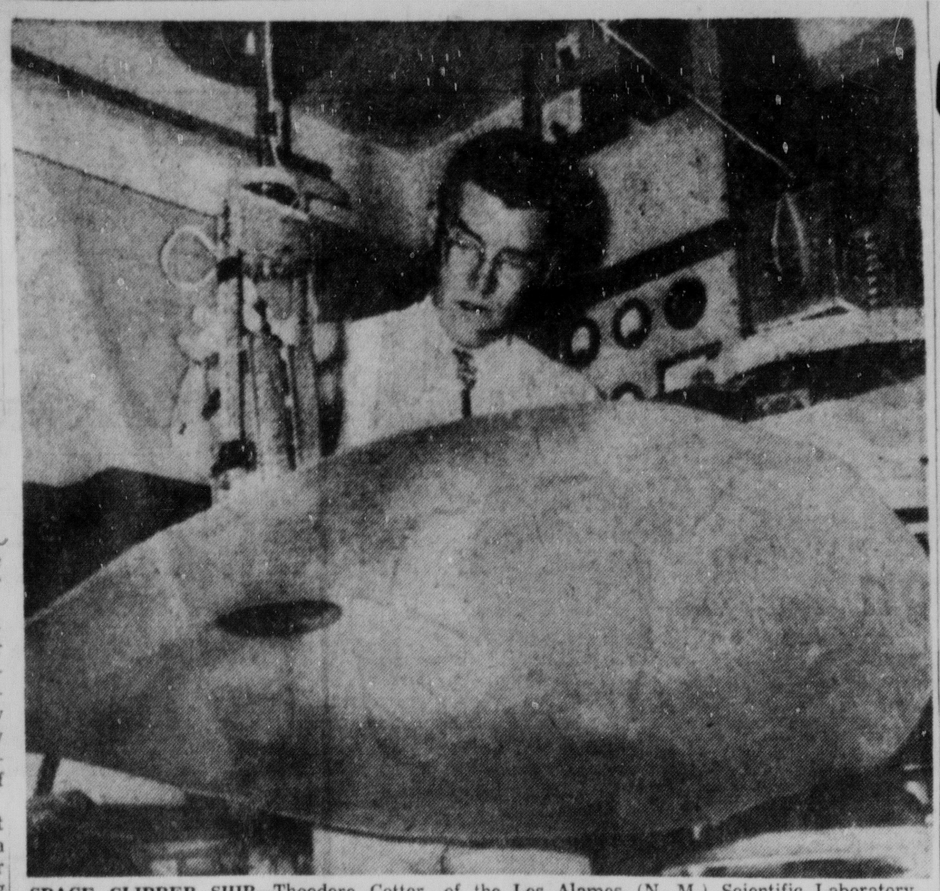

The secretary said more than 40,000 chemicals and other materials are being tested annually or more than a million mice. He said 400 to 600 of the chemicals showed enough promise to warrant trying them on larger animals.

In this second phase of testing, he said, nine out of 10 drugs are rejected either as ineffective or too poisonous for man to take.

Finally, he said, about 40 chemicals each year are approved for clinical trials on people who actually have cancer. About 20 anti-cancer drugs have temporarily relieved symptoms and in many cases prolonged the life of patients suffering from 20 kinds of malignant cancer.

But Flemming cautioned against premature or false hopes that a cancer cure has been found. So far he said, "none of the drugs being tested has proved to be a cure."

In one case, though, he said scientists have had "encouraging results" in treating a rare tumor of the uterus with methotrexate.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Democratic rule, proclaimed as a hallmark of Baptists throughout their history, is at the heart of a conflict today that has shaken their most venerable institution.

And it has reverberated across the whole Protestant theological realm.

Ordinarily, even when one seminary professor is fired outright, it causes concern among colleagues around the country. But last June, the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., fired 13 en masse.

The rafters have been resounding ever since, and the end is not yet.

Aside from the peripheral issues, the crux of the explosion was over who was to control the seminary—the faculty collectively, or its administrative head.

The dismissed professors, clinging to a tradition in which the majority faculty voice guided policy, appointments and promotions, wanted to keep this prerogative. The president and trustees said no.

Some paradoxical factors are involved.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, the seminary president, has been one of the most stalwart Southern Baptist defenders of teaching freedom —of an individual church scholar's right to explore truth as he sees it.

This is a cherished liberty of Protestantism, and Dr. McCall's firm stand on it is widely recognized in theological circles. Many times, he has fended off pressures to make his professors toe a rigid doctrinal line.

The ousted professors had called Dr. McCall's administration high-handed and autocratic, in so far as general policy making was concerned.

It was rumored that he would manage to prevent the American Assn. of Theological Schools, the interdenominational accrediting agency for seminaries, from probing the affair, since he was its vice president.

Yet he himself asked such an inquiry.

Last week, the association investigation committee issued its report, critizing the dismissal procedures by Dr. McCall and the trustees as too hasty and wthout full hearings, and asking that amends be made within a year.

Whether the seminary will retain its accredited status, the report said, will be considered at the end of that time—which will be the seminary's 100th anniversary. On that dramatic milestone, its standing will be at stake.

Since the association is authorized only to appraise the character of institutions and not individuals, its report was confined strictly to administrative processes, and not the conduct of individuals on either side.

Neither did it detail the nature of the basic dispute.

When it comes down to these fundamentals, however, sources among the nonpartisan investigators say they concluded that parties on both sides had made mistakes, and shared in causing the crisis.

These unofficial findings were cited:

1. That the 13 professors veered off the relevant issue in making an unjustified personal attack on Dr. McCall's integrity in a joint complaint to trustees.

2. That they put the administration in an untenable position by threatening to resign in bloc if changes weren't made.

3. That the seminary administration, under 1942 bylaw changes, had clear authority to control program and personnel placements without faculty concurrence, but only recently began to exercise this power more fully.

4. That most seminaries, even those where such full control is vested in the administration, still continue to exercise it with discretion and use some sort of democratic methods for canvassing faculty sentiments on decisions.

5. That the professors felt the theological faculty and scholarship were being downgraded in a new centralizing of administrative machinery, and development of technical, nontheological departments, such as in Christian education.

Many other side elements entered into the clash, so out went the 13—about one half the 27 theologians in the seminary's faculty of 44. Several have been replaced.

A curious aspect of the whole shakeup is that the trustees, at the same time it fired the men, offered them reinstatement—on assurance that they would cooperate with seminary bylaws and administration.

Only one did so. Most of the rest have obtained other posts.

It was this "dual action" of the administration, both in firing and inviting the professors back, that drew criticism of the investigators. They said it appeared that this was a roundabout device to get rid only of two leaders of the group.

Teaching qualifications of none of the them were questioned.

Massive Campaign Begins To Find Cancer-Curing Drug

By HELEN THOMAS
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, disclosed Monday the government and medical profession have launched a massive campaign to find a drug which will cure cancer.

He told a news conference the research had produced "encouraging results" in the treatment of at least one kind of cancer.

He also said the government had spent 30 millions dollars so far this year investigating cancer, which snuffs out 250,000 lives annually in this country.

Dr. John R. Heller, director of the government's National Cancer Institute, told the same news conference that "exciting advances" have been made. He said they suggest that some kinds of cancer may be caused by a virus.

Heller revealed an anti-cancer vaccine made from virus material taken from mice with leukemia, or cancer of the blood, had proved 80 to 90 per cent effective with mice.

He said this indicated leukemia might be caused by a virus. But he cautioned, "it still is a long way from mice to men."

Flemming said a cancer chemotherapy program, treatment with chemical compounds, was in full scale operation. He said it was one of the most extensive campaigns ever undertaken to find a cure for a major disease.

The secretary said more than 40,000 chemicals and other materials are being tested annually or more than a million mice. He said 400 to 600 of the chemicals showed enough promise to warrant trying them on larger animals.

In this second phase of testing, he said, nine out of 10 drugs are rejected either as ineffective or too poisonous for man to take.

Finally, he said, about 40 chemicals each year are approved for clinical trials on people who actually have cancer. About 20 anti-cancer drugs have temporarily relieved symptoms and in many cases prolonged the life of patients suffering from 20 kinds of malignant cancer.

But Flemming cautioned against premature or false hopes that a cancer cure has been found. So far he said, "none of the drugs being tested has proved to be a cure."

In one case, though, he said scientists have had "encouraging results" in treating a rare tumor of the uterus with methotrexate.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

Democratic rule, proclaimed as a hallmark of Baptists throughout their history, is at the heart of a conflict today that has shaken their most venerable institution.

And it has reverberated across the whole Protestant theological realm.

Ordinarily, even when one seminary professor is fired outright, it causes concern among colleagues around the country. But last June, the Southern Baptist Seminary at Louisville, Ky., fired 13 en masse.

The rafters have been resounding ever since, and the end is not yet.

Aside from the peripheral issues, the crux of the explosion was over who was to control the seminary—the faculty collectively, or its administrative head.

The dismissed professors, clinging to a tradition in which the majority faculty voice guided policy, appointments and promotions, wanted to keep this prerogative. The president and trustees said no.

Some paradoxical factors are involved.

Dr. Duke K. McCall, the seminary president, has been one of the most stalwart Southern Baptist defenders of teaching freedom—of an individual church scholar's right to explore truth as he sees it.

This is a cherished liberty of Protestantism, and Dr. McCall's firm stand on it is widely recognized in theological circles. Many times, he has fended off pressures to make his professors toe a rigid doctrinal line.

The ousted professors had called Dr. McCall's administration high-handed and autocratic, in so far as general policy making was concerned.

It was rumored that he would manage to prevent the American Assn. of Theological Schools, the interdenominational accrediting agency for seminaries, from probing the affair, since he was its vice president.

Yet he himself asked such an inquiry.

Last week, the association investigation committee issued its report, critizing the dismissal procedures by Dr. McCall and the trustees as too hasty and wthout full hearings, and asking that amends be made within a year.

Whether the seminary will retain its accredited status, the report said, will be considered at the end of that time—which will be the seminary's 100th anniversary. On that dramatic milestone, its standing will be at stake.

Since the association is authorized only to appraise the character of institutions and not individuals, its report was confined strictly to administrative processes, and not the conduct of individuals on either side.

Neither did it detail the nature of the basic dispute.

When it comes down to these fundamentals, however, sources among the nonpartisan investigators say they concluded that parties on both sides had made mistakes, and shared in causing the crisis.

These unofficial findings were cited:

1. That the 13 professors veered off the relevant issue in making an unjustified personal attack on Dr. McCall's integrity in a joint complaint to trustees.

2. That they put the administration in an untenable position by threatening to resign in bloc if changes weren't made.

3. That the seminary administration, under 1942 bylaw changes, had clear authority to control program and personnel placements without faculty concurrence, but only recently began to exercise this power more fully.

4. That most seminaries, even those where such full control is vested in the administration, still continue to exercise it with discretion and use some sort of democratic methods for canvassing faculty sentiments on decisions.

5. That the professors felt the theological faculty and scholarship were being downgraded in a new centralizing of administrative machinery, and development of technical, nontheological departments, such as in Christian education.

Many other side elements entered into the clash, so out went the 13—about one half the 27 theologians in the seminary's faculty of 44. Several have been replaced.

A curious aspect of the whole shakeup is that the trustees, at the same time it fired the men, offered them reinstatement—on assurance that they would cooperate with seminary bylaws and administration.

Only one did so. Most of the rest have obtained other posts.

It was this "dual action" of the administration, both in firing and inviting the professors back, that drew criticism of the investigators. They said it appeared that this was a roundabout device to get rid only of two leaders of the group.

Teaching qualifications of none of the them were questioned.

NEW YORK — Tooled in from Miami to New York in two hours and eight minutes on National Airlines' Boeing 707, leased from Pan Am. But it took us almost that long to get from the plane to the point where the luggage was delivered.

"Port Authority wouldn't permit us at our regular gate," a girl in uniform said, as the 110 passengers trooped off. "To get your bags you'll have to walk through the entire terminal, down to the end." Which was no great hardship, as hardships go, but it is a symptom of the curious contradictions that carry over from the conventional air age into the era of the jet.

The most amazing kind of research and development produced the 5 million dollar Boeing 707. It performs absolute wonders in demolishing time and space. Our pilot laconically remarked, as we soared over Wilmington, N.C., "we are now cruising at 27,000 feet. The temperature outside the cabin is 35 below zero. Our true air speed is 580 miles an hour." Breathtaking.

He brought the massive aircraft down to a perfect landing and purred toward the terminal. A superb aircraft, fathered by geniuses culled from hosts of trades, had just completed a memorable flight.

But somebody forgot to roll out the portable staircase which the passengers needed to descend. That took ten minutes. Then the question of having to park on one side of the huge field while the baggage went to another. What with this and normal delays, we were longer getting away from the field than it had taken to fly from Washington to New York.

I'm such an unreconstructed airplane buff that nothing in the way of inconveniences ever quite overcomes the thrill of being part of and present at the miracle of flight. Still, the often sorely regulated lines have a log of bugs to eradicate from their relations with the passengers before that happy day when all is adequate, even in the mind of the hypercritical.

For example, on this particular 707 the seat configuration was pairs abreast in the front half of the cabin and threes abreast in the rear. It is downright uncomfortable to sit three abreast (actually six abreast) in an airplane, no matter how huge it is. The stewardesses find it hard to work in the slender aisle. The seats are narrow, the leg-room almost as non-existent as it is in some New York legitimate theaters.

The cramped section of the wondrous 707 in which we flew up from Miami was listed as "first class." The much roomier forward section was termed "de luxe." Costs ten bucks more. Everybody in the back section would have been happy to pay a sawbuck for a comfortable ride in the astounding aircraft. But in the eyes of the bloke in charge of seat-configuration the caste system must be unrelenting. One was forced to wonder, looking at fellow passengers sitting virtually arm in arm (some didn't have room enough to receive the proferred tray of sandwiches) what would be considered "tourist" in the mind of the guy who figured out the seating arrangement. One blanched at the prospect of "economy class" for it represents further compression. Probably each passenger in that category would be given a pygmie pill, upon boarding, and the stewardess there would be a lady head shrinker.

Still, as we said a bit ago, it's a great experience. The jet age is truly here. Another Pan Am 707 was being loaded with kerosene and crepes suzette as we deplaned from the National jet. Inside the terminal, our friends Joe and Kay Binns were weighing in a mountain of luggage. "We're taking it to Paris right now," Joe said. "Imagine, we'll be there in six or seven hours."

And if all went well, including the Port Authority at Le Bourget and the French Red Caps and baggage handlers, the Binns' reached the Ritz no more than two or three hours after touching down.

Bible Class Gives Toys To Church Kindergarten

The Semper Fidelis Bible Class of First EUB Church donated toys for the kindergarten and voted to send a donation of $25 to the EUB Quincy Orphanage and Home, at the Christmas meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Nesbitt, Rose Hill Avenue. Mrs. Ralph Isiminger was assistant hostess. Mrs. Wallace Wolford, Project chairman, made the presentation of toys.

Mrs. Homer B. Carlton presided at the short business session at which time routine reports were given by Mrs. Humbird Sommerkamp and Mrs. Walter Long. Christmas remembrance gifts for shut-in members, will be sent by Mrs. Paul Gross and Mrs. Walter Long, Sunshine chairmen.

A program, arranged by Mrs. Long was presented and opened with a piano prelude, "Silent Night," played by Mrs. Nesbitt. "The Christian Lights" was the theme for a candlelight service. Taking part were Mrs. Joseph Shuman, Miss Charlotte Wolford, Mrs. Nesbitt, Mrs. Donald Pentenoy, Mrs. Wolford and Mrs. Frank Hasenbuhler. A duet, "O Holy Night," was sung by Miss Bernice Wolford and Miss Charlotte Wolford. Mrs. Long read the Scripture of the Christmas story.

A social concluded the evening and refreshments were served. The Christmas motif was carried out in stars, Christmas wreaths, and Christmas trees. Jingle gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. John S. Cook was a guest. Other members attending were Mrs. Earl Zembower, Mrs. Catherine Wilson, Mrs. Madge Wharton, Mrs. William Goldsborough, Mrs. Edgar Shumaker, Mrs. Harry Wolford, Mrs. Jesse Weaver, Mrs. Mary See, Mrs. Belva Crabtree, Mrs. Walter Clark and Mrs. Frank Wilson.

Spring Gap Club Joins In Project

The Spring Gap Homemakers Club made plans for participation in preparing Christmas baskets for the aged of the community, at the Christmas party held recently at the home of Mrs. Joseph Steger, Brice Hollow Road.

Following luncheon, a brief business session was held. Prayer was offered by Mrs. Foster Smith. Mrs. Walter Taschenberger was named the new vice president for the coming year; and Mrs. Donald Monnett, secretary.

Christmas carols were sung by the group and jingle gifts were exchanged. Others present were Mrs. George McGregor and children, Charles and Karen; Mrs. James Taschenberger and daughter, Terry; Mrs. William McKenzie, Mrs. Ralph Boyd, Mrs. Lynn Bishop, Mrs. Cyrus Lewis, Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. Norman Twigg, Mrs. Pearl Twigg and Mrs. Crystal Monnett.

The Rankin-Martin Circle of First Presbyterian Church will have a covered dish supper and program at 7 tonight in the Men's Bible Class room.

Bible Class Has Yule Program

The Ladies Friendship Circle Bible Class of Park Place Church presented a program for Christmas at the monthly meeting in the church. Mrs. Reginald Wolfe was Program chairman for the evening. Carols were sung and the Christmas prayer given by Mrs. Elizabeth Moody.

A dialogue was presented, entitled, "A Candle for Jesus." Taking part were Mrs. Wolfe, Mrs. Ralph Rice, Mrs. Cora Wakefield, Mrs. Louis Plummer, Denna Rice, William Porter, Diane Mallow and Jane Miller. The "Story of Jesus" was given by Deanna Rice. William Porter told the story of "Lighting a Candle for Jesus at Christmastime." Dianna Mallow and Jane Miller sang the "Happy Birthday" and lighted a birthday cake for the Infant Jesus, respectively. The story, "The Child Jesus," was given by Mrs. Cora Wakefield. A group of children sang, "Silent Night, Holy Night." Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Plummer gave a reading, "Recollections of Jesus." Mrs. William Porter extended greetings and gave benediction.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vernon Miller, Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Lelia Lancaster and Mrs. Bessie Chenowith. The Christmas theme was carried out in the decorations and favors. Miss Geraldine Wolfe presented gifts to the officers. Jingles were distributed by Mrs. Lester Carle, and Mrs. Alvin Youngblood.

Auxiliary To Sponsor Party

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Baltimore Pike Fire Company will sponsor a Christmas party for the children of the community Friday at 7:30 p. m. in the fire hall.

Devotions will be conducted by Mrs Edith Riggleman. The Mt. Pleasant Methodist Junior Choir, directed by Miss Joan Luttrell, will sing. Frances Fansler is to play an accordian solo.

There will be a visit from Santa with treats for the children.

Gold Star Mothers To Meet Tonight

The Gold Star Mothers will meet at 7:30 tonight at the American Legion Home. The mothers are asked to bring home made cookies and candy to be sent to Newton Baker VA Center.

A jingle party and Christmas program will follow the meeting.

Legend On Carol Singing

One legend attributes the first Christmas carol to St. Francis of Assisi. The story is that St. Francis built the first creche and started the custom of singing carols around it in the 13th Century to combat a heresy of that time which denied that Christ was Divine.

Although this explanation of carols has an engaging logic, they actually pre-date St. Francis by many hundreds of years. Carols originated almost as early as Christmas became a regular feast in the Christian calendar.

Dancing accompanied those early carols — the word carol comes from the Italian "carolare" meaning a "dance ring." But dancing was frowned upon by the early church as irreligious and that part gradually died out.

Most of our traditional carols are drawn from British and continental hymns written between 1200 and 1500. Many of the most popular ones, however, date from much more recent times when carol-singing underwent a great revival.

It was Christmas Eve in 1818 that Joseph Mohr, minister of the tiny Bavarian village of Oberndorf, sat down and wrote the verses of the world-famous carol. The same day he sent them to his friend, Frantz Gruber, organist and schoolmaster, who, within a few hours wrote the melody. Hours later it was sung for the first time—in the church at Oberndorf before the midnight service.

Just before Christmas the church organ broke down. As the organ mender worked in the church, he heard the carol sung many times, and it so appealed to him that he learned it.

Returning to his home in Zillerthal, he sang it to the four Strasser sisters, who toured Germany and Austria singing folksongs. They included "Silent Night" in their repertoire as a "folksong," and it became popular all over Europe. It was not until after Mohr was dead, and Gruber was an old man, that the true author and composer were given recognition.

Legend On Carol Singing

One legend attributes the first Christmas carol to St. Francis of Assisi. The story is that St. Francis built the first creche and started the custom of singing carols around it in the 13th Century to combat a heresy of that time which denied that Christ was Divine.

Although this explanation of carols has an engaging logic, they actually pre-date St. Francis by many hundreds of years. Carols originated almost as early as Christmas became a regular feast in the Christian calendar.

Dancing accompanied those early carols — the word carol comes from the Italian "carolare" meaning a "dance ring." But dancing was frowned upon by the early church as irreligious and that part gradually died out.

Most of our traditional carols are drawn from British and continental hymns written between 1200 and 1500. Many of the most popular ones, however, date from much more recent times when carol-singing underwent a great revival.

It was Christmas Eve in 1818 that Joseph Mohr, minister of the tiny Bavarian village of Oberndorf, sat down and wrote the verses of the world-famous carol. The same day he sent them to his friend, Frantz Gruber, organist and schoolmaster, who, within a few hours wrote the melody. Cold Facts About Ice Cream

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — And here we are, on what seems the most unlikely day of the year, celebrating the start of a National Ice Cream Week.

Outside, people shiver along slippery streets, sore because they waited so long to do their Christmas shopping and mailing. If they are aware that they should be rejoicing in "ice cream for the holidays" week, their unsmiling faces don't show it.

That's probably because they haven't received a letter from a public relations man named Hardwig Peres Posert II, whose typewriter seems completely dazzled by the holiday spirit.

"It is of this bright, intangible aura of festiveness," Posert writes, "that we speak when visions of sugar plums dance in our heads and childhood names of dessert delights lie sweet on the tongue.

"And of these corporel symbols of a fairy world, ice cream has remained unsung among the poets while yet relished for centuries by king and commoner."

After you sweep away those visions of sugar plums, the cold facts come through. Ice cream makers have trouble selling their stuff in November, December, January and February, and so hope to offset this by getting ice cream on holiday menus.

However unseasonable, Posert has some interesting facts at that.

Quick now, who invented ice cream?

Why the Chinese of course, maybe as long as three thousand years ago. Not until Marco Polo went touring did the Europeans get the recipe. Old Marco must have had a greedy eye for good eating. He also brought back spaghetti.

Ice cream became the delight, and exclusive property of royalty. Catherine de Medici of Italy married King Henry II of France, and introduced Italian fruit ice to the appreciative high - toned Frenchmen.

A French chef named Jacques hired out to King Charles I of England. Charley paid Jacques 500 pounds a year to keep the ice cream secret positively secret. But Jacques didn't. He passed the secret along to the people.

Does this mean that a man who will eat ice cream in secret can't be trusted?

George Washington liked it. At James Madison's second inaugural ball, strawberry ice cream was served. The strawberries had been saved from the White House garden, and the cream came from the White House cows.

In 1846 a U.S. housewife, Nancy Johnson, invented the hand-crank freezer. In 1874 Robert M. Green of Philadelphia invented the ice cream soda. Twenty years later the sundae was born.

Ice cream historians say the sundae first appeared in Evanston, Ill., although Pittsburgh, Pa., and Two Rivers, Wis., have supporters who will fight you at the jerk of a soda if you say so in their presence.

The sundae has a curious history. So many were loitering around the sweet shops of Evanston that a law was pushed through prohibiting the Sunday sale of sodas. So the sodaless soda was invented, soon to be known as the Sunday Soda, or sundae.

And though it still seems that a man struggling home through the cold won't have his thoughts centered on a nice dish of ice cream, you can't blame Hardwig Peres Posert II for trying.

PLEADS INNOCENT—Miss Mildred Paperman, secretary of industrialist Bernard Goldfine, is shown in Federal Court at Boston where she pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of contempt for failing to produce records of various Goldfine enterprises under tax investigation. (AP Photofax)

Spanish Champagne Routed To Britain

LONDON (AP) — Six thousand bottles of champagne—the Spanish variety—were unloaded here Monday, in time for the Christmas drinking splurge.

They're the first of a consignment of 20,000 bottles routed to Britain by sea after being turned back at the Spanish frontier by the infuriated French. The French insist that champagne can come only from France.

The Costa Brava Wine Co., which imports the drink, was found innocent by a British court last month of a charge of using a false descrption in selling the wine under the label "Spanish champagne."

Steel Output Last Week Below Expectation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel production last week fell 30,000 tons below expectations but this week is scheduled to advance to the highest level in more than a year, the American Iron & Steel Institute reported Monday.

Output this week is scheduled at 23,036,000 tons or 75.4 per cent capacity. This would be the highest since the 2,041,000 tons turned out in the week of Oct. 28, 1957.

But last week mills operating at 73.5 per cent of capacity only turned out 1,985,000 tons, against the 2,015,000 tons that had been scheduled.

The institute gave no reason for the decline from expectations but it was understood in steel industry circles that inclement weather may have been a factor.

This week's improvement is said to reflect increased order volume from the auto industry along with the general replenishing of inventories.

A month ago production at 74.1 per cent of capacity yielded 2 million tons, while a year ago output at 68.1 per cent produced 1,742,000 tons.

Quick now, who invented ice cream?

Why the Chinese of course, maybe as long as three thousand years ago. Not until Marco Polo went touring did the Europeans get the recipe. Old Marco must have had a greedy eye for good eating. He also brought back spaghetti.

Ice cream became the delight, and exclusive property of royalty. Catherine de Medici of Italy married King Henry II of France, and introduced Italian fruit ice to the appreciative high - toned Frenchmen.

A French chef named Jacques hired out to King Charles I of England. Charley paid Jacques 500 pounds a year to keep the ice cream secret positively secret. But Jacques didn't. He passed the secret along to the people.

Does this mean that a man who will eat ice cream in secret can't be trusted?

George Washington liked it. At James Madison's second inaugural ball, strawberry ice cream was served. The strawberries had been saved from the White House garden, and the cream came from the White House cows.

In 1846 a U.S. housewife, Nancy Johnson, invented the hand-crank freezer. In 1874 Robert M. Green of Philadelphia invented the ice cream soda. Twenty years later the sundae was born.

Ice cream historians say the sundae first appeared in Evanston, Ill., although Pittsburgh, Pa., and Two Rivers, Wis., have supporters who will fight you at the jerk of a soda if you say so in their presence.

The sundae has a curious history. So many were loitering around the sweet shops of Evanston that a law was pushed through prohibiting the Sunday sale of sodas. So the sodaless soda was invented, soon to be known as the Sunday Soda, or sundae.

Spanish Champagne Routed To Britain

LONDON (AP) — Six thousand bottles of champagne—the Spanish variety—were unloaded here Monday, in time for the Christmas drinking splurge.

They're the first of a consignment of 20,000 bottles routed to Britain by sea after being turned back at the Spanish frontier by the infuriated French. The French insist that champagne can come only from France.

The Costa Brava Wine Co., which imports the drink, was found innocent by a British court last month of a charge of using a false descrption in selling the wine under the label "Spanish champagne."

Steel Output Last Week Below Expectation

NEW YORK (UPI) — Steel production last week fell 30,000 tons below expectations but this week is scheduled to advance to the highest level in more than a year, the American Iron & Steel Institute reported Monday.

Output this week is scheduled at 23,036,000 tons or 75.4 per cent capacity. This would be the highest since the 2,041,000 tons turned out in the week of Oct. 28, 1957.

But last week mills operating at 73.5 per cent of capacity only turned out 1,985,000 tons, against the 2,015,000 tons that had been scheduled.

The institute gave no reason for the decline from expectations but it was understood in steel industry circles that inclement weather may have been a factor.

This week's improvement is said to reflect increased order volume from the auto industry along with the general replenishing of inventories.

A month ago production at 74.1 per cent of capacity yielded 2 million tons, while a year ago output at 68.1 per cent produced 1,742,000 tons.

W. ARNOLD GUNTHER

W. A. Gunther Dies At Local Hospital

W. Arnold (Doc) Gunther, 64, bacteriologist here for the State Health Department, died yesterday in Sacred Heart Hospital where he had been a patient since November 19.

Mr. Gunther, who resided at 526 Cumberland Street, joined the staff at the Health Department here in 1914.

In 1953 he was granted a patent on a device which was termed a major advance by persons who work with microscopes. The invention was an attachment which provides means for shifting specimen slides in such a manner that the area of successively observed fields covers exactly a given section of the slide.

The invention added great speed to the work of members of his profession and minimized the variation in counting of bacteria. The device was under development for about six years before Gunther received his patent.

A native of Baltimore, he was born January 21, 1894, a son of the late Joseph A. and Regina Elizabeth (Dumler) Gunther.

Mr. Gunther was graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons in Baltimore, and took a six-month course in bacteriology at Johns Hopkins University.

"Doc" started with the State Health Department in 1911 and was sent to Cumberland to open a branch laboratory in 1914. He had 47 years service with the State Health Department.

He was a member of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church, the Holy Name Society of the church, Cumberland Council 586, Knights of Columbus, and the Order of Alhambra.

He was a past grand knight of the Knights of Columbus.

"Doc" was one of the organizers of the Cumberland Caseys basketball team which ruled the hardwood game in the Cumberland area for years. The team was first formed as the "Checkerboards" and later became known as the Caseys A. A. meeting and beating the top professional road teams in the country. The original team was composed of Ernie Hartman, John Minke, Bill Keegan, Fred Coyle, Tom Mullaney, Jim Kelly and Leo Barley.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Emily May (Young) Gunther; a daughter, Mrs. James D. Tuttle, Baltimore; two brothers, Cyril L. and Charles M. Gunther, both of Baltimore; a sister, Mrs. J. Lee Tormey, Baltimore, and a grandchild.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home where the family will receive friends from 2 to 4 p. m. and from 7 to 9 p. m.

A requiem mass will be celebrated on Thursday at 10 a. m. in SS. Peter and Paul. Following the mass the body will be taken to the Strong Funeral Home, 3207 North Avenue, Baltimore.

Interment will be held on Friday in the New Cathedral Cemetery in Baltimore.

The Holy Name Society of SS. Peter and Paul Church will recite the rosary today at 8 p.m. at the funeral home.

W. Va. Demos Mark Down 1958 Comeback Year

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI) —Political historians will mark down 1958 as the year in which West Virginia swung back into the Democratic column, only two years after the party suffered its biggest reverses in 30 years.

Except for the governorship—not at stake in the off-year election —the Democrats nailed down nearly every major office in sight.

Also highlighting the year in government and politics was infighting between the Republican state administration and the Democratic - controlled Legislature, and between Gov. Cecil H. Underwood and the Democratic majority on the Board of Public Works.

Death removed a number of prominent political figures from the scene during 1958, setting up an unusually long off-year election ballot. Added to the ballot were a U. S. Senate seat and three statewide offices not normally at stake in an off-year election.

A political career that spanned 50 years ended Jan. 18 when Sen. M. M. Neely died of cancer. The state's champion vote-getter had served as mayor of Fairmont, five terms in the House, a record five terms in the Senate—where he was serving when death came at the age of 83 — and as governor from 1941 to 1945.

Two Judges Die

State Supreme Court Judge James B. Riley died unexpectedly in July leaving the second vacancy within two years on the high court. Judge William T. Lovins resigned late in 1956 because of ill health and died soon afterward.

And little more than a year ago secretary of state D. Pitt O'Brien was the victim of an unexpected heart attack.

The unexpired terms to be filled because of these deaths and the regular six-year U. S. Senate seat and six congressional posts plus many local offices created a spirited off-year election.

The Democrats made a clean sweep of the major offices, with one exception. Only 1st District Congressman Arch Moore of Moundsville withstood the onslaught.

Former Congressman Jennings Randolph, who downed three opponents including ex-Gov. William C. Marland in a lively primary, defeated Republican - appointed John D. Hoblitzell for the unexpired two years of Neely's senate term.

Byrd Still Unbeaten

Rep. Robert C. Byrd of Sophia, Raleigh County kept unblemished his record over never having lost a political contest, in winning a six-year Senate seat over incumbent Chapman Revercomb of Charleston.

Circuit Judges Thornton Berry of Welch and Harlan Calhoun of Moorefield were elected to the unexpired terms on the State Supreme Court and former president of the now defunct Board of Control, Joe F. Burdett of Pt. Pleasant, was named secretary of state.

Burdett was winner over Republican - appointed Mrs. Helen Holt, widow of the late U. S. Sen. Rush D. Holt.

An unusual aspect of the election was in the re-election of the state's only congresswoman, Mrs. Elizabeth Kee of Bluefield. She was unopposed in the Democratic primary and Republicans failed to field a candidate to oppose her in the general election.

Four changes to the state constitution were ratified in the election. They provide for appointment rather than election of the state school superintendent, elimination of property taxes on bank deposits and money, authority for corporations to issue non - voting stock, and allow counties to extend excess levies for schools.

Death also claimed House Speaker W. E. Flannery during the year — only a few weeks after he announced plans to run for Congress. Named by the Democratic House majority to succeed the five-time speaker was Harry R. Pauley of Jaeger.

Fight Over Taxes

The biggest squabble between state Democrats and Republicans came during the 30-day session of the Legislature early in the year. They clashed on the perennial issues of new money for improvements to public schools and roads.

Gov. Underwood unveiled bold programs for both and took an extra step by proposing new tax measures to produce $50,000,000 annually for financing them. The programs were rejected by Democratic lawmakers who claimed new taxes were out of order while the state economy was in a recession.

For the fourth straight year the lawmakers were called into extraordinary session. A one - day session was held in June to adjust state law so as to allow unemployed workers to receive additional jobless benefits authorized by Congress, and to revise unemployment compensation fund laws.

New Miami Airport Terminal Opened

MIAMI (UPI) — The new Miami International Airport Terminal, designed to handle seven million passengers annually in the jet age, and featuring a bar with automatic whisky dispensers, opened Monday.

Although the huge terminal won't go into full operation until next month, five airlines were moved in and were ready for business Monday.

The 26 million dollar terminal took four years to build and is expected to handle 20,000 passengers daily when normal airline traffic is restored during the winter season.

In addition to the bar with the automatic whisky dispensers, a 250-room, five-story hotel will be completed in 1959.

Westminster Main Street Fire Guts One Building And Damages Another

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—A stubborn general alarm fire, fought in sub-freezing temperatures by firemen from five Carroll County communities, gutted a two-story brick building and severely damaged an adjoining residence on Westminster's Main Street Tuesday.

The loss may top $100,000, firemen estimated.

Completely burned out was a public laundromat, Lewman's Launderama, which occupied the first floor of the two-story building, and two apartments on the second floor. The two-story dwelling adjoining the laundromat was severely damaged by fire, smoke and water on the second floor, attic and roof.

The fire, believed to have started in a hot water heater at the rear of the laundromat, was discovered about 1:30 p. m. and quickly spread through the building.

Four families were evacuated without mishap although firemen had difficulty persuading one unidentified woman to leave her apartment without several chinchillas she raised. The chinchillas apparently perished.

Firemen from Westminster, New Windsor, Reese, Taneytown and Pleasant Valley fought the blaze for more than two hours in 26-degree cold which froze water on their hoses, ladders and the streets, hampering movement and making the firefighting treacherous.

Also impeding the efforts to put out the fire was a metal roof on the laundromat building. Firemen were unable to penetrate it from above as the fire raged beneath it, boiling out dense black clouds of smoke visible throughout Westminster.

Filth Found In Grain Elevator

BALTIMORE (AP) — A grain elevator in Washington County found overrun with filth would be closed under an injunction order asked by the U.S. attorney's office.

The request for a preliminary injunction names Myron L. Bloom Sr. of St. James as owner of the elevator. He is a veteran of 16 years in the Maryland House of Delegates who was beaten in last spring's primary.

The motion filedin U.S. District Court Tuesday noted that insect, bird and rat filth had been found in grain at the elevator and at a Bartonville, Va., mill where some had been shipped.

Inspections were carried out last April, May and July said Richard E. Williams, chief of the Baltimore office of the Food and Drug Administration. Some wheat was found to have as many as 11 whole insects and 140 insect parts per one-and-a-third pounds of grain.

The injunction seeks to block handling of wheat for interstate shipment. About 50 per cent of the elevator's 20,000 bushel capacity is used in interstate commerce, said Williams.

Student On Trial Today On Bomb Hoax Charges

TOWSON, Md. (AP) — A freshman who admitted he routed 600 sleeping students at 4:30 a.m. with a false bomb report, will be tried Wednesday on a misdemeanor charge.

Goerge Alston Stevens III of Owings Mills admitted he was the one who telephoned the hoax report to Towson State Teachers College last Friday. The 22-year-old veteran of the Merchant Marine said a twinge of conscience prompted the confession. He hadn't been able to sleep for three nights.

He could give police no reason for having made the false report to a dormitory supervisor.

Dr. Earl T. Hawkins, college president, said Stevens "seemed perplexed that he had done it and was reasonably calm while telling me what he had done."

Baltimore County police charged him with making a false report to authorities. Conviction could result in a $500 fine, six month in jail or both.

Strikes Drop Airport Traffic

BALTIMORE (AP) — Strikes against three airline users of Friendship International Airport were reflected in traffic figures which Monday showed a drop of 35 per cent at the field last month.

The Department of Aviation reported passenger business fell off 19 per cent from the same month a year ago and there was a 24-per cent decline in air freight.

Capital Airlines was closed down by a strike from Oct. 17 through Nov. 24. Trans-World Airlines was not operating from Nov. 21 to Dec. 8 and Eastern Air Lines, still struck, has not operated a full schedule out of Friendship since Nov. 23.

Eastern and Capital normally are the biggest operators at Friendship. J. W. Smith, Eastern's sales manager, said his company appeared headed for a record November in Baltimore before the strike began.

Total passenger traffic for all air carriers at Friendship last month was 26,218, compared with 32,343 in November, 1957. Total movements of air carriers was 2,456, a drop of 1,311 from the 3,767 movements in the same month a year ago. Air freight dropped from 851,171 pounds in November, 1957, to 646,286 pounds last month.

The only bright spot in the airport's statistics for November was air express poundage which increased 1,577 pounds from 204,771 a year ago to 206,308 last month.

Md. Commission Upholds Industry Tax Boost Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland industry using federal property will have to pay higher taxes if a ruling of the State Tax Commission holds up.

The commission held that Bendix Aviation Corp. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. could be assessed for such property. Bendix has $4,665,000 worth and Westinghouse $2,801,100.

Also appealing the assessments are other government contractors including Martin Co., plane, missile and rocket builders. Martin has some 80 million dollars in such assessable property.

Total revenue that would go to state and local governments is estimated at $150,000.

The tax commission took its cue from a Supreme Court decision involving a Michigan case, where such taxing power was upheld.

There was no immediate word whether Bendix and Westinghouse would appeal to court. Presumably the military will enter into the discussions, since certain contracts may make the federal government liable for some of the newly assessed taxes.

Three Children Perish In Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three children died Tuesday from smoke inhalation when fire broke out in a row-house apartment while the mother was at a store.

The victims were Rodney Henderson, 4; his brother James, 2, and a stepsister, Catherine Folkes, 6.

The mother, Mrs. Margie Henderson, 27, also was under a doctor's care in a state of shock.

Honest Student Given $150 Reward

He put it in his pocket and it was two weeks before he had it appraised and found out the diamond was worth some $1,500.

Swinson got in touch with the department store, learned the owner's name and returned it to the grateful woman, Mrs. Mary B. Johnson. She sent the University of Maryland student a $150 check as a reward.

Model Struck By Yule Tree Seeks $15,000

BALTIMORE (AP) — The yule cheer tossed her way was too forceful, says a model, so she's suing for $15,000 damages for collision with a Christmas tree.

Attorneys filed the suit in Federal Court in behalf of Frances Allen, 36, who claimed a tree struck her in the head, fracturing her nose and giving her a brain concussion.

She said the incident happened four days before Christmas last year when an employe stacking trees outside a food store tossed one wildly. Named defendant was Food Fair Stores Inc.

Jury To Decide Who Gets Seized $12,332

BALTIMORE (AP) — A jury will decide who gets the much-sought $12,332 seized by police in a raid at the home of convicted gambler Frank F. Comi.

U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled a jury should say who will get the money, which is claimed by Comi, city police and the Bureau of Internal Revenue for back taxes.

Comi was sentenced in Criminal Court in 1956 to five years in prison and a $7,000 fine on lottery charges.

The government claims he owes $27,500 in excise taxes and penalties.

Police Commissioner James Hepbron had claimed title in behalf of the department to the money found by police when they raided Comi's home in October 1955.

Total movements of air carriers was 2,456, a drop of 1,311 from the 3,767 movements in the same month a year ago. Air freight dropped from 851,171 pounds in November, 1957, to 646,286 pounds last month.

The only bright spot in the airport's statistics for November was air express poundage which increased 1,577 pounds from 204,771 a year ago to 206,308 last month.

Md. Commission Upholds Industry Tax Boost Plan

BALTIMORE (AP) — Maryland industry using federal property will have to pay higher taxes if a ruling of the State Tax Commission holds up.

The commission held that Bendix Aviation Corp. and Westinghouse Electric Corp. could be assessed for such property. Bendix has $4,665,000 worth and Westinghouse $2,801,100.

Also appealing the assessments are other government contractors including Martin Co., plane, missile and rocket builders. Martin has some 80 million dollars in such assessable property.

Total revenue that would go to state and local governments is estimated at $150,000.

The tax commission took its cue from a Supreme Court decision involving a Michigan case, where such taxing power was upheld.

There was no immediate word whether Bendix and Westinghouse would appeal to court. Presumably the military will enter into the discussions, since certain contracts may make the federal government liable for some of the newly assessed taxes.

Three Children Perish In Fire

BALTIMORE (AP) — Three children died Tuesday from smoke inhalation when fire broke out in a row-house apartment while the mother was at a store.

The victims were Rodney Henderson, 4; his brother James, 2, and a stepsister, Catherine Folkes, 6.

The mother, Mrs. Margie Henderson, 27, also was under a doctor's care in a state of shock.

The blaze was of undetermined origin.

Honest Student Given $150 Reward

He put it in his pocket and it was two weeks before he had it appraised and found out the diamond was worth some $1,500.

Swinson got in touch with the department store, learned the owner's name and returned it to the grateful woman, Mrs. Mary B. Johnson. She sent the University of Maryland student a $150 check as a reward.

Model Struck By Yule Tree Seeks $15,000

BALTIMORE (AP) — The yule cheer tossed her way was too forceful, says a model, so she's suing for $15,000 damages for collision with a Christmas tree.

Attorneys filed the suit in Federal Court in behalf of Frances Allen, 36, who claimed a tree struck her in the head, fracturing her nose and giving her a brain concussion.

She said the incident happened four days before Christmas last year when an employe stacking trees outside a food store tossed one wildly. Named defendant was Food Fair Stores Inc.

Jury To Decide Who Gets Seized $12,332

BALTIMORE (AP) — A jury will decide who gets the much-sought $12,332 seized by police in a raid at the home of convicted gambler Frank F. Comi.

U.S. District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen ruled a jury should say who will get the money, which is claimed by Comi, city police and the Bureau of Internal Revenue for back taxes.

Comi was sentenced in Criminal Court in 1956 to five years in prison and a $7,000 fine on lottery charges.

The government claims he owes $27,500 in excise taxes and penalties.

Police Commissioner James Hepbron had claimed title in behalf of the department to the money found by police when they raided Comi's home in October 1955.

Road Opening Today

BETHESDA, Md. (AP)—A new section of the Washington National Pike will be opened in ceremonies here Wednesday.

Gov. McKeldin will snip the ribbon when the section from Montrose Road to Old Georgetown Road is opened to motorists. Ceremonies will be held at Old Georgetown Road and the new pike near Lux Lane.

Market Climbs But Late Profit-Taking Cuts Gains

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market enjoyed another advance Tuesday although modest profit-taking brought final prices down from early highs.

As it has so often in recent weeks, attention centered on a few stocks in special situations.

American Motors was the day's most heavily traded issue. It rose well over a point to a new high, then slipped to a net loss of ¼ point on realizing following a statement by company President George Romney that earnings in the first fiscal quarter are running way ahead of last year.

Chrysler added over a point, Ford nearly 1 and Studebaker Packard held a fraction of an early good gain scored as the company announced it is considering acquiring New York Auction Co., Inc. It was the day's third most active issue. Fruehauf Trailer, second most active, ran up 1⅞ to 19.

Electronics issues continued in demand with Zenith up another 9 points to 205; Raytheon and Motorola up well over 2 points; Western Union up 2 ex-dividend and American Telephone 2 points higher.

Warner Lambert, recent strong feature, rose another 4. Wilson-Jones gained 2¾ to 19 as Swingline, Inc., invited tenders of the stock at $20 a share. Gulf rose nearly 3 in the international oils while Skelly fell more than 2 in the domestic oils. Lukens featured steels with a gain of close to 3 points and Armco, Republic, and U.S. Steel rose around a point. Chemicals were gradually higher although Thiokol fell 5. Allied rose 1, Union Carbide 1⅝, Reichhold 2 points.

Of a total 1,247 issues traded, 512 were higher, 479 lower.

Strike Over Bonus

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — More than 400 editorial and shop workers of the Caracas newspapers Ultimas Noticias, La Esfera and El Mundo went on strike Tuesday because La Esfera's workers received a Christmas bonus of only 15 days' pay. Year-end bonus payments are required by Venezuelan law, on the basis of the companies' earnings for the year.

ATTENTION KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

All members of Cumberland Council #586, Knights of Columbus, are requested to meet at Scarpelli's Funeral Home, tonight at 8 p. m. The Rosary will be recited at that time for the repose of the soul of our late brother, W. Arnold Gunther.

N.Y. Eggs And Butter

Chicago Grains

Wheat closed up 1½ to off ⅝ cent; corn (old) up ¼ to ⅝ cent; (new) unchanged to up ½ cent; oats unchanged to up ½ cent; rye up ¼ to 2⅜ cents; soybeans off ⅜ to up 1 cent.

Deferred wheat deliveries rose less sharply than December and March. Cash houses sold May in a quiet trade.

A good resting demand for March corn was reported. Mills sold the contract. Spreading transactions were the market's main feature.

Oats were steady in a mixed trade. Commission houses bought March and sold May. Cash brokers bought December.

Selling struck soybeans. Northwest houses bought some anuary beans but scattered selling by local traders weakened the market. March beans underwent most selling.

Grains at outside markets were easy. The range:

Schools To Close For Holiday Friday

Public and parochial school students in Allegany County will get an extra weekend off for the Christmas holiday.

Only Baltimore City, Dorchester, Harford and Prince Georges counties' schools will join Allegany in the extra weekend holiday. Elsewhere in the state, schools will not close until Tuesday, December 23. But they will observe the same starting date next year.

Somerset County school officials had considered reopening Jan. 2, ahead of the remainder of the state. They changed plans Sunday, however, when the parent-teacher organization protested.

There is quite a variation in the dismissal time.

The last day before vacation will be a full school day in Baltimore City and 12 counties — Allegany, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Garrett, Harford, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Queen Annes, Talbot, Washington and Worcester.

School children in Frederick and Wicomico will get a head start with dismissal at noon. Charles County schools will close at 12:30 p. m.

It will be 1 p. m. in Calvert, Dorchester and Howard; 1:30 in Kent County, and 2 or 2:30 in Caroline, Cecil, St. Marys and Somerset.

Market Climbs But Late Profit-Taking Cuts Gains

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market enjoyed another advance Tuesday although modest profit-taking brought final prices down from early highs.

As it has so often in recent weeks, attention centered on a few stocks in special situations.

American Motors was the day's most heavily traded issue. It rose well over a point to a new high, then slipped to a net loss of ¼ point on realizing following a statement by company President George Romney that earnings in the first fiscal quarter are running way ahead of last year.

Chrysler added over a point, Ford nearly 1 and Studebaker Packard held a fraction of an early good gain scored as the company announced it is considering acquiring New York Auction Co., Inc. It was the day's third most active issue. Fruehauf Trailer, second most active, ran up 1⅞ to 19.

Electronics issues continued in demand with Zenith up another 9 points to 205; Raytheon and Motorola up well over 2 points; Western Union up 2 ex-dividend and American Telephone 2 points higher.

Warner Lambert, recent strong feature, rose another 4. Wilson-Jones gained 2¾ to 19 as Swingline, Inc., invited tenders of the stock at $20 a share. Gulf rose nearly 3 in the international oils while Skelly fell more than 2 in the domestic oils. Lukens featured steels with a gain of close to 3 points and Armco, Republic, and U.S. Steel rose around a point. Chemicals were gradually higher although Thiokol fell 5. Allied rose 1, Union Carbide 1⅝, Reichhold 2 points.

Of a total 1,247 issues traded, 512 were higher, 479 lower.

Strike Over Bonus

CARACAS, Venezuela (UPI) — More than 400 editorial and shop workers of the Caracas newspapers Ultimas Noticias, La Esfera and El Mundo went on strike Tuesday because La Esfera's workers received a Christmas bonus of only 15 days' pay. Year-end bonus payments are required by Venezuelan law, on the basis of the companies' earnings for the year.

ATTENTION KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

All members of Cumberland Council #586, Knights of Columbus, are requested to meet at Scarpelli's Funeral Home, tonight at 8 p. m. The Rosary will be recited at that time for the repose of the soul of our late brother, W. Arnold Gunther.

N.Y. Eggs And Butter

Chicago Grains

Wheat closed up 1⅛ to off ⅝ cent; corn (old) up ¼ to ⅝ cent; (new) unchanged to up ½ cent; oats unchanged to up ½ cent; rye up ¼ to 2⅝ cents; soybeans off ⅜ to up 1 cent.

Deferred wheat deliveries rose less sharply than December and March. Cash houses sold May in a quiet trade.

A good resting demand for March corn was reported. Mills sold the contract. Spreading transactions were the market's main feature.

Oats were steady in a mixed trade. Commission houses bought March and sold May. Cash brokers bought December.

Selling struck soybeans. Northwest houses bought some anuary beans but scattered selling by local traders weakened the market. March beans underwent most selling.

Grains at outside markets were easy. The range:

Schools To Close For Holiday Friday

Public and parochial school students in Allegany County will get an extra weekend off for the Christmas holiday.

Only Baltimore City, Dorchester, Harford and Prince Georges counties' schools will join Allegany in the extra weekend holiday. Elsewhere in the state, schools will not close until Tuesday, December 23. But they will observe the same starting date next year.

Somerset County school officials had considered reopening Jan. 2, ahead of the remainder of the state. They changed plans Sunday, however, when the parent-teacher organization protested.

There is quite a variation in the dismissal time.

The last day before vacation will be a full school day in Baltimore City and 12 counties — Allegany, Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Carroll, Garrett, Harford, Montgomery, Prince Georges, Queen Annes, Talbot, Washington and Worcester.

School children in Frederick and Wicomico will get a head start with dismissal at noon. Charles County schools will close at 12:30 p. m.

It will be 1 p. m. in Calvert, Dorchester and Howard; 1:30 in Kent County, and 2 or 2:30 in Caroline, Cecil, St. Marys and Somerset.

Bishop Walsh Termed Political Hostage

Bishop James E. Walsh of Cumberland, who has been a Catholic Maryknoll missionary in China for more than 30 years, has been arrested by the Chinese Communists and is believed to be a 'political hostage."

This information is contained in a letter which was hand-delivered yesterday to U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall by the U. S. State Department in Washington.

The letter from the State Department reads in part as follows:

"Bishop Walsh is the first American citizen known to have been arrested by the Chinese Communists since the start of the ambassadorial talks in August of 1955, which were convened for the express purpose of securing the release of Americans detained by the Chinese Communists.

"Of the 41 Americans detained by the Chinese Communists by Peiping as of August, 1955, four still remain prisoners prior to Bishop Walsh's arrest.

"While the details of the charges against him are not known, the conclusion is unavoidable that this 67-year-old Maryknoll missionary who has devoted nearly 30 years of his life to the service of God and the Chinese people, has now become a political hostage.

The State Department letter continues: "The Department of State has taken a very serious view of this latest development. You are assured that every effort will continue to be made to obtain freedom for Bishop Walsh.

"The Department of State is determined that no stone will be left unturned in its search for a means to secure the release of Bishop Walsh and four other persons."

The letter was signed by William B. Macomber Jr., assistant secretary of state, and was addressed to Sen. Beall.

The department also delved into the background of Bishop Walsh's stay in Red China and his own decision to remain there.

It said that the Chinese Communists first reported that Bishop Walsh was under arrest on December 12 during talks with the West at Warsaw. It said he had been arrested for an "unspecified violation of the law."

Bishop Walsh of the Maryknoll Order, had refused to leave China and is the last Catholic high ecclesiastic remaining there.

The last word received from him was in mid-October when he was living in Shanghai, according to Rev. John E. Kelly, information director for the National Catholic Welfare Council.

Archbishop Pretonius Lacchio, 57, an Italian, said that more than 300 Chinese priests and clergymen have met the same fate as the 180 other foreigners behind the Bamboo Curtain. They either died in prison or were killed.

Bishop Walsh is a veteran of three decades of service in China. He has been severely limited in his activities for the past several years, although he had never been placed under arrest.

Surplus Food To Be Distributed Here Next Week

So that persons who have applied for surplus food will receive the five foodstuffs available in time for Christmas, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday ordered a "crash program."

It will be necessary to distribute the food in Cumberland next week at the old Royale Dairy building at the orner of Arch and Second streets. There is not enough time left to schedule the distribution at various county communities.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said the distribution solely in Cumberland this month will be the only time such a procedure will be necessary and that a schedule for the January allotment will be drawn in plenty of time.

Grant Wiebel, supervisor of the program, said he had 2,500 pound bags of rice prepared and about 1',000 pounds will be needed for the initial distribution. The commissioners instructed Wiebel to employ four typists to process the 3,500 or more applications so that the persons eligible will receive their certificates in time for the distribution Monday through Wednesday of next week.

Wiebel told the board he would have the certificates in the mail by Friday and that the certificates will indicate the day the applicant is to call for his allotment of the five commodities.

One-third of the applicants will be handled on Monday, and the rest on Tuesday and Wednesday at the same ratio. Available a- butter, rice, dried milk, cheese and corn meal.

A number of men have been sent to Wiebel by the Associated Charities to help with bagging of the rice. The food was shipped here by the federal government in 100-pound bags.

The longest lived creature in the world today is said to be the tortoise, some of which live to be 300 years old.

FIRST NATIONAL CHARGE ACCOUNT

YELLOW DIRECTORY SALES—SERVICES

1. Q. WHAT IS THE FIRST NATIONAL CHARGE ACCOUNT SERVICE?
A. It is the newest of banking services offered the shoppers of this area by the First National Bank of Cumberland. This Service enables the holder of a First National Charge Account card to purchase merchandise and services sold by over 100 participating members by merely presenting their bank issued credit card and saying "charge it."

2. Q. WHAT DOES THIS CHARGING PRIVILEGE COST ME?
A. Absolutely nothing extra. The price of the article is the same whether you pay cash or charge it. You pay no service charge whatsoever.

3. Q. HOW AM I BILLED?
A. Once each month you will receive one statement from the First National Charge Account Service. Enclosed with this statement will be the original sales slips from each store so you can verify each item on your statement. Even though you use your charge card at a dozen stores, you get only ONE statement, and therefore will have only ONE check to write or ONE cash payment to make.

4. Q. HOW AND WHEN IS MY ACCOUNT PAYABLE?
A. Each month's purchases are payable over a three month period, ⅓ each month.
Amount currently due must be paid within 30 days from the bill closing date on your statement.

5. Q. WHERE DO I PAY MY STATEMENT?
A. You pay at any window in The First National Bank—either by mail with a check or in person by cash.

THE GREATEST CONVENIENCE Ever Offered Today's SMART Shoppers

USE YOUR ACCOUNT TODAY

6. Q. HOW DO I OBTAIN A FIRST NATIONAL CHARGE ACCOUNT?
A. Pick up an application at The First National Bank or at any store displaying the charge account emblem. Complete and sign the application and either leave it at the Bank or store or mail it to us. A charge account identification card will be issued promptly when approved.

7. Q. SHOULD I ALWAYS CARRY MY CHARGE ACCOUNT CREDIT CARD?
A. YES. Make it a habit to carry your charge account card with you and you're always ready to buy—whether you're on a shopping trip or just happen to be near a store and suddenly remember certain needs or see unusual bargains.

8. Q. SUPPOSE I LOSE MY CHARGE CARD?
A. Notify the Bank immediately. The old one will be cancelled, if necessary, and you will receive a new one.

9.—Q. HOW WILL I KNOW WHAT STORES OFFER THIS CHARGE SERVICE?
A. Look for the First National Charge Account emblem. Merchants offering this service will display it on their store windows and doors. For your ready reference follow the below list of members participating in this service. As new ones are added, watch for the charge account emblem in their advertisements or appearing on their store fronts.

10.—Q. DO I HAVE TO BE A CUSTOMER OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK TO ENJOY THIS SHOPPING SERVICE?
A. No. This shopping aid is available to all shoppers of Cumberland and nearby communities.

Bishop Walsh Termed Political Hostage

Bishop James E. Walsh of Cumberland, who has been a Catholic Maryknoll missionary in China for more than 30 years, has been arrested by the Chinese Communists and is believed to be a 'political hostage."

This information is contained in a letter which was hand-delivered yesterday to U. S. Senator J. Glenn Beall by the U. S. State Department in Washington.

The letter from the State Department reads in part as follows:

"Bishop Walsh is the first American citizen known to have been arrested by the Chinese Communists since the start of the ambassadorial talks in August of 1955, which were convened for the express purpose of securing the release of Americans detained by the Chinese Communists.

"Of the 41 Americans detained by the Chinese Communists by Peiping as of August, 1955, four still remain prisoners prior to Bishop Walsh's arrest.

"While the details of the charges against him are not known, the conclusion is unavoidable that this 67-year-old Maryknoll missionary who has devoted nearly 30 years of his life to the service of God and the Chinese people, has now become a political hostage.

The State Department letter continues: "The Department of State has taken a very serious view of this latest development. You are assured that every effort will continue to be made to obtain freedom for Bishop Walsh.

"The Department of State is determined that no stone will be left unturned in its search for a means to secure the release of Bishop Walsh and four other persons."

The letter was signed by William B. Macomber Jr., assistant secretary of state, and was addressed to Sen. Beall.

The department also delved into the background of Bishop Walsh's stay in Red China and his own decision to remain there.

It said that the Chinese Communists first reported that Bishop Walsh was under arrest on December 12 during talks with the West at Warsaw. It said he had been arrested for an "unspecified violation of the law."

Bishop Walsh of the Maryknoll Order, had refused to leave China and is the last Catholic high ecclesiastic remaining there.

The last word received from him was in mid-October when he was living in Shanghai, according to Rev. John E. Kelly, information director for the National Catholic Welfare Council.

Archbishop Pretonius Lacchio, 57, an Italian, said that more than 300 Chinese priests and clergymen have met the same fate as the 180 other foreigners behind the Bamboo Curtain. They either died in prison or were killed.

Bishop Walsh is a veteran of three decades of service in China. He has been severely limited in his activities for the past several years, although he had never been placed under arrest.

Surplus Food To Be Distributed Here Next Week

So that persons who have applied for surplus food will receive the five foodstuffs available in time for Christmas, the Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday ordered a "crash program."

It will be necessary to distribute the food in Cumberland next week at the old Royale Dairy building at the corner of Arch and Second streets. There is not enough time left to schedule the distribution at various county communities.

Commissioner John J. Rowan said the distribution solely in Cumberland this month will be the only time such a procedure will be necessary and that a schedule for the January allotment will be drawn in plenty of time.

Grant Wiebel, supervisor of the program, said he had 2,500 pound bags of rice prepared and about 1',000 pounds will be needed for the initial distribution. The commissioners instructed Wiebel to employ four typists to process the 3,500 or more applications so that the persons eligible will receive their certificates in time for the distribution Monday through Wednesday of next week.

Wiebel told the board he would have the certificates in the mail by Friday and that the certificates will indicate the day the applicant is to call for his allotment of the five commodities.

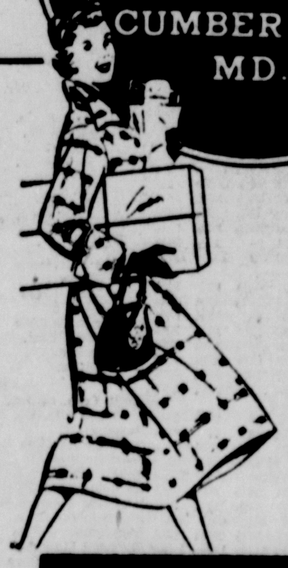

One-third of the applicants will be handled on Monday, and the rest on Tuesday and Wednesday at the same ratio. Available are butter, rice, dried milk, cheese and corn meal.

A number of men have been sent to Wiebel by the Associated Charities to help with bagging of the rice. The food was shipped here by the federal government in 100-pound bags.

The longest lived creature in the world today is said to be the tortoise, some of which live to be 300 years old.

YELLOW DIRECTORY SALES—SERVICES

1. Q. WHAT IS THE FIRST NATIONAL CHARGE ACCOUNT SERVICE?
A. It is the newest of banking services offered the shoppers of this area by the First National Bank of Cumberland. This Service enables the holder of a First National Charge Account card to purchase merchandise and services sold by over 100 participating members by merely presenting their bank issued credit card and saying "charge it."

2. Q. WHAT DOES THIS CHARGING PRIVILEGE COST ME?
A. Absolutely nothing extra. The price of the article is the same whether you pay cash or charge it. You pay no service charge whatsoever.

3. Q. HOW AM I BILLED?
A. Once each month you will receive one statement from the First National Charge Account Service. Enclosed with this statement will be the original sales slips from each store so you can verify each item on your statement. Even though you use your charge card at a dozen stores, you get only ONE statement, and therefore will have only ONE check to write or ONE cash payment to make.

4. Q. HOW AND WHEN IS MY ACCOUNT PAYABLE?
A. Each month's purchases are payable over a three month period, ⅓ each month.
Amount currently due must be paid within 30 days from the bill closing date on your statement.

5. Q. WHERE DO I PAY MY STATEMENT?
A. You pay at any window in The First National Bank—either by mail with a check or in person by cash.

6. Q. HOW DO I OBTAIN A FIRST NATIONAL CHARGE ACCOUNT?
A. Pick up an application at The First National Bank or at any store displaying the charge account emblem. Complete and sign the application and either leave it at the Bank or store or mail it to us. A charge account identification card will be issued promptly when approved.

7. Q. SHOULD I ALWAYS CARRY MY CHARGE ACCOUNT CREDIT CARD?
A. YES. Make it a habit to carry your charge account card with you and you're always ready to buy—whether you're on a shopping trip or just happen to be near a store and suddenly remember certain needs or see unusual bargains.

8. Q. SUPPOSE I LOSE MY CHARGE CARD?
A. Notify the Bank immediately. The old one will be cancelled, if necessary, and you will receive a new one.

9.—Q. HOW WILL I KNOW WHAT STORES OFFER THIS CHARGE SERVICE?
A. Look for the First National Charge Account emblem. Merchants offering this service will display it on their store windows and doors. For your ready reference follow the below list of members participating in this service. As new ones are added, watch for the charge account emblem in their advertisements or appearing on their store fronts.

10.—Q. DO I HAVE TO BE A CUSTOMER OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK TO ENJOY THIS SHOPPING SERVICE?
A. No. This shopping aid is available to all shoppers of Cumberland and nearby communities.

Heavenly Glow Is Nearest Now

Christmas and the entire yuletide season have that resplendent glow which many materialists have viewed as only the glitter of commercial trappings. For Christmas in its essence is the spirit of man functioning at its highest.

The best of Christmas is thinking of and doing for others. The worst is the vying of people in equal circumstances to return gift for gift, a rivalry in generosity where generosity is surplus. But as always the best dominates the worst, so that Christmas year after year kindles a flame of good feeling and kindliness in the human heart.

Some say Christmas is only a gesture because most people fail to retain its fine spiritual flavor throughout the humdrum year. That, too, is a falsity because the soul is fed on spiritual experiences.

The glow of Christmas made up of materialist trappings? Decidedly not. It is compounded of the gleam from happy children's eyes, of the gratitude of those helped over a rough place, of the shining countenances of those who feared they were forgotten and found they were not.

Earth comes nearest, at this season, to assuming a heavenly glow.

The Gold Loss

It requires a new kind of thinking to revive an interest in gold. Before 1933, every American was concerned with gold, calculated his wealth in what he believed was gold-backed dollars and expected that any time he wanted to convert his paper money into gold, he could.

President Roosevelt changed the world. He took gold out of the American dollar and was upheld by the Supreme Court in a specious opinion. As a result most Americans forgot about gold, except that they believed that they owned an enormous hoard of the stuff which was buried at Fort Knox. They thought they had about $28,000,000,000 of the metal and that our paper money was firm because of this reserve.

Actually, gold has been leaving the United States in sizeable amounts, $2,200,000,000 having taken flight from this country during 1958 thus far. The estimates I am using are from the "U.S. News & World Report."

Money can be anything that is accepted as having value. Wampum is as good as anything else if it is accepted. For centuries, gold has been acknowledged as a measure of value and therefore the value of money has been hooked on to it. The significance of gold is its acceptability and the confedence it inspires. To say that one has one dollar requires definition as to the value of that dollar. What is it actually worth? When it is gold-backed, its value cannot be less than the gold it represents, or the confidence it inspires.

The reports show that during 1958, gold flowed out of the United States to the amount of $2,200,000,000 and that the following figures are significant:

Great Britain	$900,000,000
Belgium	275,000,000
Switzerland	250,000,000
Italy	190,000,000
Netherlands	170,000,000

And the remainder to other countries including the Bank for International Settlements. It is because the American dollar has been regarded as a "hard currency," one supported by this hoard of gold, that it became the principal currency of the world, much desired everywhere and employed as a basis of stability in other countries. Money in exchange, among foreign countries, operates on confidence and loses in value as confidence lessens.

Nobody knows for sure what amount of gold the Soviet Universal State holds. It is known that gold has been mined steadily throughout the Communist period. It is known that Soviet Russia has excellent gold fields, particularly in the Siberian tundras and that that gold is being taken out of the ground. Unquestionably Russian gold is finding its way into the gold markets of London and Zurich and from such places to the United States where gold can always be sold to the Treasury at $35 an ounce. How much Russian gold the United States has purchased does not appear in the figures. It would, of course, come from other countries.

As long as the United States will pay $35 an ounce to all offers of gold, this country can remain the center of the gold reserve of the world, because whenever there is trouble abroad gold flows back here for safe-keeping. The problem arises as to what would happen if Soviet Russia offered a higher price for gold or offered gold at a lower price? This would be a form of economic warfare that could wreck the economics of the Western world.

This price, $35 an ounce, is not the result of supply and demand, as would be true of any other commodity. It is unrelated to intrinsic merit. It is fixed by an act of Congress and can only be changed by an act of Congress and therefore is a rigid standard of value. If treated only in terms of what it means to the economies of the Western capitalistic world, our gold position is safe. If considered in terms of what might happen in an economic clash between Western capitalism and Eastern Communism, too little information is available to establish what Soviet Russia might do with its gold to damage the West. This is really the most dangerous factor in the gold situation, but it is the one that is usually ignored by political leaders who pay more attention to military and diplomatic factors. Nevertheless, the question of gold is obtruding itself and is being discussed more and more because it is impossible to avoid the subject. As gold leaves the United States, who gets it?

'Wonder How Many Screws I Could Take Out'

Church Bombings May Be Communist Operations

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When the bombing of a Jewish church in Atlanta occurred several weeks ago, this correspondent suggested that the episode had the earmarks of Communist underground operations. The suggestion was met with cynicism by some of those who preferred rather to indict the people of the South or to blame the occurrence in part on those persons who exercise their constitutional right in America to speak or write on the issue of integratoin in the public schools. There were others like the Mayor of Atlanta, however, who pointed out that the bombing seemed to be part of an interstate conspiracy—it wasn't just the work of hoodlums or crackpots in any one locality. Anything interstate is big enough, of course, to be of foreign origin as well.

Now, after considerable investigation, including a visit to the South, Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating, Republican, of New York state, points the finger of suspicion toward the Communists. Here is a United Press-International dispatch of last Saturday from Schenectady, N. Y.:

"Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating said here last night that there was a "strong suspicion' the bombings of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists . . .

"'Moscow made certain that the news of Little Rock and the school bombings reached every corner of the globe', Keating said. 'There is even a strong suspicion among many informed people that the Communists themselves may be fomenting these horrible bombings'."

At first it appeared that the bombings and threats were directed solely at Jewish places of worship, but there have been numerous incidents involving both Protestant and Catholic churches and their schools. Phony threats have become numerous, and, while these could be the work of crackpots affected by suggestions, it is far more likely that the Communist underground, which has agents in every state of the union, would take advantage of the opportunity to achieve headlines. Anything that portrays America as torn constantly by class feeling is grist for the Communist mill.

The Communists, moreover, do aid and abet anti-Semitic organizations on every continent. They help to finance Fascist units in Europe which are active in spreading hate literature. They have access to student bodies in many universities throughout the world, especially in Mexico and Latin America generally. They have lately gotten stronger in Canada, where it will be recalled that a few years ago Igor Gouzenko, an attache of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa, exposed a Canadian-American spy ring of the Communist. The distribution of "hate America" literature has recently increased in Canada.

Fascist units, secretly financed, are a favorite instrument of the Communist apparatus because, on the surface, they seem far from sympathetic with Communism. Senator-elect Keating, in a television interview on Sunday, indicated that some Fascist organizations in America may be implicated in and certainly are exploiting the bombings.

When the tragedy in Arkansas occurred last year, the Communists promptly exploited it on the propaganda waves. As Federal troops moved into Little Rock, the Communists boasted over their radio stations throughout the world that the United States couldn't keep the peace by normal means and had to resort to military force.

While there are doubtless amateurs in the bombing game, the techniques are usually handled by professionals. The Communists have many experienced units engaged in bombing enterprises inside Middle Eastern countries, and their activities emerge wherever the Communist and anti-Communist forces are lined up in bitter hostility to one another. More than a billion dollars are spent annually by the Kremlin in subversive activities in at least 72 countries of the world.

Senator-elect Keating is right in urging that these bombings or threats of bombing inside the United States be covered by Federal criminal laws. In a sense, they are usually interstate in their character anyway, but, if the Federal law specified such crimes, it would enable the FBI to move in more rapidly and to work more closely with local authorities in warding off such happenings.

Senator Ervin of North Carolina, Democrat, and Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, have both spoken publicly in favor of such legislation, which ought to be an indication in itself that the South stands with other law-abiding people in a determination to ferret out and punish the leaders in the bomb plots and their henchmen.

The problems growing out of the presence of a powerful Communist underground inside America will never be solved till many who are influential in the press and in the pulpit stop pooh-poohing it as non-existent. Also, if the Fifth Amendment were amended so that, during a "cold war," Americans could be required to tell of their Communist associations, the FBI would be helped immeasurably. It is not enough for witnesses merely to deny personal complicity. If they would wholeheartedly assist the authorities, it would be of incalculable aid in runing down the interstate conspirators and their masterminds operataing here or in neighboring countries through funds furnished by the Moscow government.

Khrushchev's name, according to a Russian linguist, should be pronounced "Krooshchoff" and not "Krooshcheff." To the man at the next desk this doesn't mean a thing — he always refers to Nikky as "Fat Stuff."

Toasted ants are considered a delicacy by Colombian Indians, says a lecturer. Life down there for the little pests is far from a picnic.

A Maine high school football star has just won first prize in a pastry contest with his cherry pie. The youth is a guard on the gridiron but in the kitchen he's strictly a full bake!

Passenger railroad trains may soon be extinct, we read. Back in 1840 a lot of wise guys predicted the "steam cars" were just a fad!

The Navy has just published a dictionary which gives the meanings of the many abbreviations used by that branch of service. Milt, the sterling printer, says the new book should be titled "Usnad" — "United States Navy Dictionary."

Jim Hagerty's Coaching Failed Ike At His Last Press Conference

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Before President Eisenhower goes into a press conference, Jim Hagerty, his astute public relations adviser, spends 30 minutes to an hour briefing him on likely questions to be asked and how to answer them. On the whole, Ike has been most effective at press conferences. But last week the redoubtable Jim either wasn't on the ball, or his boss ignored his coaching. Result: Ike made no fewer than four amazing statements which could not be documented by fact. They were:

STATEMENT NO. 1 — That plans for dividing up Berlin were made at the Potsdam Conference. From this, Eisenhower drew the inference that the present isolation of Berlin was not his responsibility as former Allied commander-in-chief.

FACT—John Foster Dulles on Nov. 26 put Nikita Khrushchev in his place by reminding him that Berlin had nothing to do with the Potsdam Conference.

"The rights and status of the allies in Berlin and the responsibilities and obligations of the Soviet Union do not in any way whatsoever derive from the Potsdam agreements," said Mr. Dulles. "That subject . . . was not even mention in the Potsdam agreements."

FURTHER FACT—The isolation of Berlin was agreed to in June 1945, about one month prior to the Potsdam Conference. Truman attended the Potsdam Conference, but Eisenhower, as supreme Allied commander in Germany, was in charge of the earlier Berlin conference. He delegated the job to his No. 1 man, Gen. Lucius Clay, now head of Continental Can.

General Clay later wrote: "I think now that I was mistaken in not making free access to Berlin a condition of our withdrawal into our occupation zone."

STATEMENT NO. 2 — The President stated there was no known usefulness for an atom-powered plane. He discounted reports that Russia had such a plane.

FACT—The Air Force has long had a specific and definite use for an atom-powered plane, namely, to keep it constantly flying as a patrol missile carrier ready to attack any enemy that first attacks the United States. The value of an atom-powered plane is exactly that of an atom-powered submarine. It could fly almost indefinitely wtihout refueling. Just as the Nautilus is able to lurk under the Polar ice-caps and could bomb Leningrad in case of a surprise attack, so an atom-powered plane could fly constantly over the borders of the free world, loaded with missiles to launch in case of an enemy attack.

Plans for this plane were placed on the President's desk last March, but he vetoed the money for a crash program to build it.

STATEMENT NO. 3 — The President denied that he had ever permitted anyone to revile Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, in his presence. This was technically true, but he ignored some rather important facts.

FACT — Speaking in Indianapolis Sept. 9, 1952, Eisenhower appeared on the same platform with Sen. William Jenner of Indiana. Jenner held Eisenhower's hand aloft as a referee holds up the hand of a prize-fight winner. Eisenhower remained in that pose while photographers snapped their pictures. He could have taken his hand down. Or he could have declined to appear on the same platform with Jenner in the first place. Instead he endorsed the entire Indiana ticket, using the carefully chosen words "from top to bottom."

Jenner had made a full-dress speech on the Senate floor Sept. 15, 1950, calling Marshall a "front man for traitors" and a "living lie." Because of Congressional immunity, Marshall could not sue him for libel.

Marshall had picked Eisenhower to be the supreme commander in Europe, had promoted him from lietenant colonel to lieutenant general in one year, had worked out the detailed plans for the invasion of Europe. Marshall was the man who actually worked out General Pershing's strategy in France in World War I. He was a military genius. But Pershing and later Eisenhower got credit for the execution of his strategy.

FURTHER FACT — Because there was political reaction to the Indianapolis incident, there was written into Ike's Milwaukee speech two paragraphs praising General Marshall. Milwaukee was picked because it was the home base of Sen. Joe McCarthy, close pal of Jenner's and another critic of Marshall.

Gov. Tom Dewey made a special trip to see Ike and urge him to take a firm stand against McCarthy. He even urged him not to appear in Milwaukee at all. Dewey pointed out that when he ran for President he had declined to endorse Sen. Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia because of his extremist views.

However, when McCarthy learned that the Milwaukee speech contained praise of General Marshall, he called on Eisenhower at the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria, Ill., Oct. 2, just before the Milwaukee speech. Eisenhower yielded to McCarthy. When he spoke in Milwaukee Oct. 4, Marshall's name was not mentioned.

It is quite true that Eisenhower never permitted anyone to revile Marshall in his presence, but he also never defended Marshall publicly in front of those who called him a "front man for traitors" and a "living lie."

STATEMENT NO. 4 — The President said he was not mad at Harry Truman.

FACT — When Eisenhower made his first trip to Kansas City after becoming President, Truman phoned his suite at the Hotel Muehlbach asking to call and pay his respects. Truman was told that Eisenhower was too busy. Truman has not been invited to the White House during the six years of the Eisenhower administration.

According to all precedent and protocol, this is not the way one occupant of the White House treats an ex-occupant of the White House unless he is mad.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

There are some children who do not believe in Santa. This is a sad thing, because I believe in Santa and I know that he is real. The reason why so few big boys and girls believe in him is that they have never seen him. This is silly because the same boys and girls have never seen air either, and they believe in that.

We see Santa's assistants all the time. They are in department stores and on street corners, and they look good in their make-believe whiskers and their padded stomachs and red suits, but they are not Santa. The real Santa is a spirit. He died 1600 years ago and he lives on in the sky above us as a saint. If a saint can hear our prayers, then Santa can read our letters and listen to us when we ask his assistants for something at Christmas time.

The real Santa is known by several names. In many countries, he is called Santa Claus, Kris Kringle, La Befana, Yule Tomten, St. Nicholas and Christkindli. His real name was Nicholas and he was born in Patara, a part of the Greek Empire, around the year 285. He grew up as a holy man—never dreaming that he would some day be St. Nicholas—and he became a priest.

In time he was appointed Bishop of Myra. He was, we can assume, stout and wore snowy whiskers. He loved children most of all and, long before he realized that he was a saint, Nicholas became noted for his miracles. He didn't know how they happened. All he had to do was to hope and pray hard enough for something and wham! it happened.

One of the men of Patara, for example, had three daughters. In those days, a girl couldn't get married unless she had some money to give her husband to help him in his career. The man of Patara had no money at all. Some friends advised him that it would be best if he sold his daughters as slaves.

Nicholas heard about it and he thought it was dreadful. He began to hope and pray that something good would happen and one night at Christmastime he found himself with a bag of gold. He hurried to the home of the poor man of Patara and dropped the bag of gold down the chimney. In a few weeks, the oldest girl was married.

The saint hoped for a second bag of gold, and got it. Then a third bag. In time, all three girls were happily married, and no one knew that Nicholas was the man who sent the bags of gold.

He didn't think it was a good idea for anyone to know, because he didn't want a lot of thanks for something given to him by God.

He did a lot of good things for grownups, but children were the special favorites for Nicholas and he liked to hold off until the birthday of the Infant Saviour before sneaking gifts to them. For a while, he was thrown into prison in chains because he was a Christian, but he kept hoping hard and praying for good things, and good things always happened.

The Romans, for example, got a new emperor named Constantine, and the first thing he did was to free all the Christians in the prisons. Nicholas rubbed the smooth spots where the chains had been around his wrists and ankles, and he went back home and started to do good things for boys and girls.

He was getting pretty old when three men were sentenced to death in Constantinople. They had heard about Nicholas, so they began to hope in a hurry that he would help them. That night, Nicholas appeared in a dream to the emperor. In it, Nicholas warned his majestiy that he would never have a moment's peace unless he freed the three men at once because they had done nothing wrong.

In the morning, Constantine ordered the warden to send the three men to their homes. These are only a few of the things he did. In time, Nicholas died. Centuries later, his bones were taken to Bari, Italy. Even there, he continued to perform miracles for grownups as well as children. He did some of his best work at Christmas, but if someone needed a little miracle in the summertime St. Nicholas came through just the same.

In a week, he will be all over the cold night sky with his reindeer and sled. His whiskers will be split by the wind, and his blue eyes will be watering in the cold. How can anyone say that they do not believe in Santa just because they cannot see him?

He's there. Just hope hard for something and you'll see. . .

Antibiotics Change Bone Infection Treatment

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Penicillin and the sulfonamides revolutionized the outcome of infection of the bone (osteomyelitis). This disease has not been eradicated but its victim no longer spend months in a hospital undergoing treatment or leave with disfiguring scars resulting from multilating operations.

Osteomyelitis is caused by bacteria such as streptococci or staphylococci. In the past, many of the afflicted were children; the microbes reached the bone via the blood stream from infection elsewhere in the body. Nowadays accidents are the most common cause, particularly the compound fracture in which one end of the broken bone protrudes through the skin.

The staphylococcus is the worst offender because it is capable of eating into and destroying a large area of this tissue. Shortly after the micro-organism's invasion, the individual develops chills, fever, rapid pulse, and prostration.

The source of trouble is suspected immediately because severe pain is felt over the end of the involved bone close to a joint. The area is exquisitely tender and the overlying skin swollen. Redness does not appear unless the infection spreads beyond the bone.

X-rays are not a reliable guide early in the course of the disease because bone destruction does not show up for a week or more after the onset of the disease. This was a handicap to the physician of old because the infection had an opportunity to spread widely before detection. The only treatment at that stage was extensive surgery.

Nowadays, antibiotics are used immediately. The surgeon is likely to make a small opening to allow the pus to escape so the infection can be brought under control before extensive bone destruction takes place. Blood transfusions and intravenous fluids may be needed to bolster strength and prevent dehydration. If the disease recurs or extensive scar tissue prevents healing, a more extensive operation may be required.

BATHES WITH DETERGENT

Mrs. Z. writes: I use and like detergents for dishes and laundry but am concerned because my husband insists upon using these products for bathing. Won't his skin be harmed by the degreasing properties of detergents?

REPLY

Time will tell. Any changes that might occur will be temporary. The skin will return to normal after the detergent is discontinued.

METABOLISM AND I. Q.

A. G. M. writes: Is a person with a high metabolism above average in intelligence?

REPLY

No. Low metabolism may lead to mental slugginess but it does not follow that a high metabolism brings keenness of mentality. The person with hyperthyroidism may be so nervous he cannot think or work properly.

HERNIA OF DIAPHRAGM

F. T. writes: How is hiatus hernia treated?

REPLY

In this condition, the upper part of the stomach protrudes through the diaphragm. Usually hiatus hernia is not bothersome and calls for no treatment. When distress is present, it can be minimized by eating sparingly at one sitting and sleeping with the head elevated on two or three pillows at night to keep the stomach as low as posible. Abdominal strain tends to push up the stomach, hence lifting and coughing should be minimized.

TOMORROW: Prostheses for stroke victims.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed Telephone inquiries not accepted Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An aristocatic lady—Knickerbocker family and all that—took a estate in the Berkshire for the summer and hired a localite to take her driving through the countryside every afternoon. On their first excursion, the well-intentioned driver began telling her all about the region and the characters who inhabited it—until the lady silenced him with a curt, "I hired you to drive for me, sir, not to converse with me."

That was the last time the driver opened his mouth. But when he submitted his bill at the end of the month, there was one item thereon the lady didn't understand. He explained it to her: "That's sass, $10. I don't generally take it, but when I do, I charge for it."

Switzerland	250,000,000
Netherlands	170,000,000

And the remainder to other countries including the Bank for International Settlements. It is because the American dollar has been regarded as a "hard currency," one supported by this hoard of gold, that it became the principal currency of the world, much desired everywhere and employed as a basis of stability in other countries. Money in exchange, among foreign countries, operates on confidence and loses in value as confidence lessens.

Nobody knows for sure what amount of gold the Soviet Universal State holds. It is known that gold has been mined steadily throughout the Communist period. It is known that Soviet Russia has excellent gold fields, particularly in the Siberian tundras and that that gold is being taken out of the ground. Unquestionably Russian gold is finding its way into the gold markets of London and Zurich and from such places to the United States where gold can always be sold to the Treasury at $35 an ounce. How much Russian gold the United States has purchased does not appear in the figures. It would, of course, come from other countries.

As long as the United States will pay $35 an ounce to all offers of gold, this country can remain the center of the gold reserve of the world, because whenever there is trouble abroad gold flows back here for safe-keeping. The problem arises as to what would happen if Soviet Russia offered a higher price for gold or offered gold at a lower price? This would be a form of economic warfare that could wreck the economics of the Western world.

This price, $35 an ounce, is not the result of supply and demand, as would be true of any other commodity. It is unrelated to intrinsic merit. It is fixed by an act of Congress and can only be changed by an act of Congress and therefore is a rigid standard of value. If treated only in terms of what it means to the economies of the Western capitalistic world, our gold position is safe. If considered in terms of what might happen in an economic clash between Western capitalism and Eastern Communism, too little information is available to establish what Soviet Russia might do with its gold to damage the West. This is really the most dangerous factor in the gold situation, but it is the one that is usually ignored by political leaders who pay more attention to military and diplomatic factors. Nevertheless, the question of gold is obtruding itself and is being discussed more and more because it is impossible to avoid the subject. As gold leaves the United States, who gets it?

'Wonder How Many Screws I Could Take Out'

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Before President Eisenhower goes into a press conference, Jim Hagerty, his astute public relations adviser, spends 30 minutes to an hour briefing him on likely questions to be asked and how to answer them. On the whole, Ike has been most effective at press conferences. But last week the redoubtable Jim either wasn't on the ball, or his boss ignored his coaching. Result: Ike made no fewer than four amazing statements which could not be documented by fact. They were:

STATEMENT NO. 1 — That plans for dividing up Berlin were made at the Potsdam Conference. From this, Eisenhower drew the inference that the present isolation of Berlin was not his responsibility as former Allied commander-in-chief.

FACT—John Foster Dulles on Nov. 26 put Nikita Khrushchev in his place by reminding him that Berlin had nothing to do with the Potsdam Conference.

"The rights and status of the allies in Berlin and the responsibilities and obligations of the Soviet Union do not in any way whatsoever derive from the Potsdam agreements," said Mr. Dulles. "That subject . . . was not even mention in the Potsdam agreements."

FURTHER FACT—The isolation of Berlin was agreed to in June 1945, about one month prior to the Potsdam Conference. Truman attended the Potsdam Conference, but Eisenhower, as supreme Allied commander in Germany, was in charge of the earlier Berlin conference. He delegated the job to his No. 1 man, Gen. Lucius Clay, now head of Continental Can.

General Clay later wrote: "I think now that I was mistaken in not making free access to Berlin a condition of our withdrawal into our occupation zone."

STATEMENT NO. 2 — The President stated there was no known usefulness for an atom-powered plane. He discounted reports that Russia had such a plane.

FACT—The Air Force has long had a specific and definite use for an atom-powered plane, namely, to keep it constantly flying as a patrol missile carrier ready to attack any enemy that first attacks the United States. The value of an atom-powered plane is exactly that of an atom-powered submarine. It could fly almost indefinitely wtihout refueling. Just as the Nautilus is able to lurk under the Polar ice-caps and could bomb Leningrad in case of a surprise attack, so an atom-powered plane could fly constantly over the borders of the free world, loaded with missiles to launch in case of an enemy attack.

Plans for this plane were placed on the President's desk last March, but he vetoed the money for a crash program to build it.

STATEMENT NO. 3 — The President denied that he had ever permitted anyone to revile Gen. George C. Marshall, former chief of staff, in his presence. This was technically true, but he ignored some rather important facts.

FACT — Speaking in Indianapolis Sept. 9, 1952, Eisenhower appeared on the same platform with Sen. William Jenner of Indiana. Jenner held Eisenhower's hand aloft as a referee holds up the hand of a prize-fight winner. Eisenhower remained in that pose while photographers snapped their pictures. He could have taken his hand down. Or he could have declined to appear on the same platform with Jenner in the first place. Instead he endorsed the entire Indiana ticket, using the carefully chosen words "from top to bottom."

Jenner had made a full-dress speech on the Senate floor Sept. 15, 1950, calling Marshall a "front man for traitors" and a "living lie." Because of Congressional immunity, Marshall could not sue him for libel.

Marshall had picked Eisenhower to be the supreme commander in Europe, had promoted him from lietenant colonel to lieutenant general in one year, had worked out the detailed plans for the invasion of Europe. Marshall was the man who actually worked out General Pershing's strategy in France in World War I. He was a military genius. But Pershing and later Eisenhower got credit for the execution of his strategy.

FURTHER FACT — Because there was political reaction to the Indianapolis incident, there was written into Ike's Milwaukee speech two paragraphs praising General Marshall. Milwaukee was picked because it was the home base of Sen. Joe McCarthy, close pal of Jenner's and another critic of Marshall.

Gov. Tom Dewey made a special trip to see Ike and urge him to take a firm stand against McCarthy. He even urged him not to appear in Milwaukee at all. Dewey pointed out that when he ran for President he had declined to endorse Sen. Chapman Revercomb of West Virginia because of his extremist views.

However, when McCarthy learned that the Milwaukee speech contained praise of General Marshall, he called on Eisenhower at the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria, Ill., Oct. 2, just before the Milwaukee speech. Eisenhower yielded to McCarthy. When he spoke in Milwaukee Oct. 4, Marshall's name was not mentioned.

It is quite true that Eisenhower never permitted anyone to revile Marshall in his presence, but he also never defended Marshall publicly in front of those who called him a "front man for traitors" and a "living lie."

STATEMENT NO. 4 — The President said he was not mad at Harry Truman.

FACT — When Eisenhower made his first trip to Kansas City after becoming President, Truman phoned his suite at the Hotel Muehlbach asking to call and pay his respects. Truman was told that Eisenhower was too busy. Truman has not been invited to the White House during the six years of the Eisenhower administration.

According to all precedent and protocol, this is not the way one occupant of the White House treats an ex-occupant of the White House unless he is mad.

Church Bombings May Be Communist Operations

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — When the bombing of a Jewish church in Atlanta occurred several weeks ago, this correspondent suggested that the episode had the earmarks of Communist underground operations. The suggestion was met with cynicism by some of those who preferred rather to indict the people of the South or to blame the occurrence in part on those persons who exercise their constitutional right in America to speak or write on the issue of integratoin in the public schools. There were others like the Mayor of Atlanta, however, who pointed out that the bombing seemed to be part of an interstate conspiracy—it wasn't just the work of hoodlums or crackpots in any one locality. Anything interstate is big enough, of course, to be of foreign origin as well.

Now, after considerable investigation, including a visit to the South, Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating, Republican, of New York state, points the finger of suspicion toward the Communists. Here is a United Press-International dispatch of last Saturday from Schenectady, N. Y.:

"Senator-elect Kenneth B. Keating said here last night that there was a "strong suspicion' the bombings of schools, homes and places of worship in the South may have been fomented by Communists . . .

"'Moscow made certain that the news of Little Rock and the school bombings reached every corner of the globe', Keating said. 'There is even a strong suspicion among many informed people that the Communists themselves may be fomenting these horrible bombings'."

At first it appeared that the bombings and threats were directed solely at Jewish places of worship, but there have been numerous incidents involving both Protestant and Catholic churches and their schools. Phony threats have become numerous, and, while these could be the work of crackpots affected by suggestions, it is far more likely that the Communist underground, which has agents in every state of the union, would take advantage of the opportunity to achieve headlines. Anything that portrays America as torn constantly by class feeling is grist for the Communist mill.

The Communists, moreover, do aid and abet anti-Semitic organizations on every continent. They help to finance Fascist units in Europe which are active in spreading hate literature. They have access to student bodies in many universities throughout the world, especially in Mexico and Latin America generally. They have lately gotten stronger in Canada, where it will be recalled that a few years ago Igor Gouzenko, an attache of the Soviet embassy in Ottawa, exposed a Canadian-American spy ring of the Communist. The distribution of "hate America" literature has recently increased in Canada.

Fascist units, secretly financed, are a favorite instrument of the Communist apparatus because, on the surface, they seem far from sympathetic with Communism. Senator-elect Keating, in a television interview on Sunday, indicated that some Fascist organizations in America may be implicated in and certainly are exploiting the bombings.

When the tragedy in Arkansas occurred last year, the Communists promptly exploited it on the propaganda waves. As Federal troops moved into Little Rock, the Communists boasted over their radio stations throughout the world that the United States couldn't keep the peace by normal means and had to resort to military force.

While there are doubtless amateurs in the bombing game, the techniques are usually handled by professionals. The Communists have many experienced units engaged in bombing enterprises inside Middle Eastern countries, and their activities emerge wherever the Communist and anti-Communist forces are lined up in bitter hostility to one another. More than a billion dollars are spent annually by the Kremlin in subversive activities in at least 72 countries of the world.

Senator-elect Keating is right in urging that these bombings or threats of bombing inside the United States be covered by Federal criminal laws. In a sense, they are usually interstate in their character anyway, but, if the Federal law specified such crimes, it would enable the FBI to move in more rapidly and to work more closely with local authorities in warding off such happenings.

Senator Ervin of North Carolina, Democrat, and Senator Russell of Georgia, Democrat, have both spoken publicly in favor of such legislation, which ought to be an indication in itself that the South stands with other law-abiding people in a determination to ferret out and punish the leaders in the bomb plots and their henchmen.

The problems growing out of the presence of a powerful Communist underground inside America will never be solved till many who are influential in the press and in the pulpit stop pooh-poohing it as non-existent. Also, if the Fifth Amendment were amended so that, during a "cold war," Americans could be required to tell of their Communist associations, the FBI would be helped immeasurably. It is not enough for witnesses merely to deny persona! complicity. If they would wholeheartedly assist the authorities, it would be of incalculable aid in runing down the interstate conspirators and their masterminds operataing here or in neighboring countries through funds furnished by the Moscow government.

Jim Bishop: Reporter

By Jim Bishop

There are some children who do not believe in Santa. This is a sad thing, because I believe in Santa and I know that he is real. The reason why so few big boys and girls believe in him is that they have never seen him. This is silly because the same boys and girls have never seen air either, and they believe in that.

We see Santa's assistants all the time. They are in department stores and on street corners, and they look good in their make-believe whiskers and their padded stomachs and red suits, but they are not Santa. The real Santa is a spirit. He died 1600 years ago and he lives on in the sky above us as a saint. If a saint can hear our prayers, then Santa can read our letters and listen to us when we ask his assistants for something at Christmas time.

The real Santa is known by several names. In many countries, he is called Santa Claus, Kris Kringle, La Befana, Yule Tomten, St. Nicholas and Christkindli. His real name was Nicholas and he was born in Patara, a part of the Greek Empire, around the year 285. He grew up as a holy man—never dreaming that he would some day be St. Nicholas—and he became a priest.

In time he was appointed Bishop of Myra. He was, we can assume, stout and wore snowy whiskers. He loved children most of all and, long before he realized that he was a saint, Nicholas became noted for his miracles. He didn't know how they happened. All he had to do was to hope and pray hard enough for something and wham! it happened.

One of the men of Patara, for example, had three daughters. In those days, a girl couldn't get married unless she had some money to give her husband to help him in his career. The man of Patara had no money at all. Some friends advised him that it would be best if he sold his daughters as slaves.

Nicholas heard about it and he thought it was dreadful. He began to hope and pray that something good would happen and one night at Christmastime he found himself with a bag of gold. He hurried to the home of the poor man of Patara and dropped the bag of gold down the chimney. In a few weeks, the oldest girl was married.

The saint hoped for a second bag of gold, and got it. Then a third bag. In time, all three girls were happily married, and no one knew that Nicholas was the man who sent the bags of gold.

He didn't think it was a good idea for anyone to know, because he didn't want a lot of thanks for something given to him by God.

He did a lot of good things for grownups, but children were the special favorites for Nicholas and he liked to hold off until the birthday of the Infant Saviour before sneaking gifts to them. For a while, he was thrown into prison in chains because he was a Christian, but he kept hoping hard and praying for good things, and good things always happened.

The Romans, for example, got a new emperor named Constantine and the first thing he did was to free all the Christians in the prisons. Nicholas rubbed the smooth spots where the chains had been around his wrists and ankles, and he went back home and started to do good things for boys and girls.

He was getting pretty old when three men were sentenced to death in Constantinople. They had heard about Nicholas, so they began to hope in a hurry that he would help them. That night, Nicholas appeared in a dream to the emperor. In it, Nicholas warned his majestiy that he would never have a moment's peace unless he freed the three men at once because they had done nothing wrong.

In the morning, Constantine ordered the warden to send the three men to their homes. These are only a few of the things he did. In time, Nicholas died. Centuries later, his bones were taken to Bari, Italy. Even there, he continued to perform miracles for grownups as well as children. He did some of his best work at Christmas, but if someone needed a little miracle in the summertime St. Nicholas came through just the same.

In a week, he will be all over the cold night sky with his reindeer and sled. His whiskers will be split by the wind, and his blue eyes will be watering in the cold. How can anyone say that they do not believe in Santa just because they cannot see him?

He's there. Just hope hard for something and you'll see. . .

Antibiotics Change Bone Infection Treatment

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Penicillin and the sulfonamides revolutionized the outcome of infection of the bone (osteomyelitis). This disease has not been eradicated but its victim no longer spend months in a hospital undergoing treatment or leave with disfiguring scars resulting from multilating operations.

Osteomyelitis is caused by bacteria such as streptococci or staphylococci. In the past, many of the afflicted were children; the microbes reached the bone via the blood stream from infection elsewhere in the body. Nowadays accidents are the most common cause, particularly the compound fracture in which one end of the broken bone protrudes through the skin.

The staphylococcus is the worst offender because it is capable of eating into and destroying a large area of this tissue. Shortly after the micro-organism's invasion, the individual develops chills, fever, rapid pulse, and prostration.

The source of trouble is suspected immediately because severe pain is felt over the end of the involved bone close to a joint. The area is exquisitely tender and the overlying skin swollen. Redness does not appear unless the infection spreads beyond the bone.

X-rays are not a reliable guide early in the course of the disease because bone destruction does not show up for a week or more after the onset of the disease. This was a handicap to the physician of old because the infection had an opportunity to spread widely before detection. The only treatment at that stage was extensive surgery.

Nowadays, antibiotics are used immediately. The surgeon is likely to make a small opening to allow the pus to escape so the infection can be brought under control before extensive bone destruction takes place. Blood transfusions and intravenous fluids may be needed to bolster strength and prevent dehydration. If the disease recurs or extensive scar tissue prevents healing, a more extensive operation may be required.

BATHES WITH DETERGENT

Mrs. Z. writes: I use and like detergents for dishes and laundry but am concerned because my husband insists upon using these products for bathing. Won't his skin be harmed by the degreasing properties of detergents?

REPLY

Time will tell. Any changes that might occur will be temporary. The skin will return to normal after the detergent is discontinued.

METABOLISM AND I. Q.

A. G. M. writes: Is a person with a high metabolism above average in intelligence?

REPLY

No. Low metabolism may lead to mental slugginess but it does not follow that a high metabolism brings keenness of mentality. The person with hyperthyroidism may be so nervous he cannot think or work properly.

HERNIA OF DIAPHRAGM

F. T. writes: How is hiatus hernia treated?

REPLY

In this condition, the upper part of the stomach protrudes through the diaphragm. Usually hiatus hernia is not bothersome and calls for no treatment. When distress is present, it can be minimized by eating sparingly at one sitting and sleeping with the head elevated on two or three pillows at night to keep the stomach as low as posible. Abdominal strain tends to push up the stomach, hence lifting and coughing should be minimized.

TOMORROW: Prostheses for stroke victims.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

An aristrocatic lady—Knickerbocker family and all that—took a estate in the Berkshire for the summer and hired a localite to take her driving through the countryside every afternoon. On their first excursion, the well-intentioned driver began telling her all about the region and the characters who inhabited it—until the lady silenced him with a curt, "I hired you to drive for hire, sir, not to converse with me."

That was the last time the driver opened his mouth. But when he submitted his bill at the end of the month, there was one item thereon the lady didn't understand. He explained it to her: "That's sass, $10. I don't generally take it, but when I do, I charge for it."

W.Va. Board Will Discuss Food Cutoff

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of Public Works is scheduled to meet Wednesday with federal officials here to discuss a government directive to revise its program for distribution of surplus commodities or be cut off from receiving the foodstuffs for indigent persons.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, critical of the State Department of Public Assistance's handling of the certification of recipients, said it would discontinue distribution of surplus commodities to the Mountain State after March 31 unless the program is brought up to minimum federal requirements.

Sen. Jennings Randolph and Sen. - elect Robert C. Byrd, who arranged the meeting, are scheduled to be on hand for the conference. Members of the House from West Virginia also were invited to attend.

The federal agency had criticized the DPA'S system under which voluntary agencies that help with the distribution are allowed to accept donations from recipients.

DPA Director Thomas R. Egbert told the Board of Public Works last week his budget for distribution of surplus food would have to be doubled to $302,460 during the next fiscal year to meet federal requirements, including construction of new warehouses in Wheeling, Parkersburg and the Eastern Panhandle.

Egbert noted that a 5 per cent spending cutback ordered by the board because of declining revenues means the surplus division's budget for the remainder of this year has been slashed $7,170. The amount plus 3,000 would be needed to maintain the commodity distribution at its present level without making any improvements, the director said.

A total of 478,398 West Virginians are eligible to receive surplus commodities, including 86,862 DPA clients and 186,636 unemployed or low-income persons.

Federal officials have said West Virginia leads all other states in the percentage of its population eligible to receive surplus federal commodiites.

Greetings were extended by Thomas Pyle, a member of the staff of the State Board of Education; Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, and Paul D. Beable, principal of Valley High.

Those in attendance were divided into four discussion groups which aired the responsibilities of high school principals in a comprehensive guidance program and also the responsibilities of counselors.

After the discussion periods the participants reassembled and reports were given by recorders of each group including John Snyder, Allegany High School counselor; Mrs. Catherine McGiboney, counselor at Bruce; James D. Preaskorn, counselor at Valley and Ernest Spoerlein, counselor at Southern Garrett County High School.

After the conference ended, interested persons were given an opportunity to visit a coal mine at Ocean. The tour was in charge of Thomas Powell, a mine inspector.

Christmas Displays Near Completion

Large trees have been erected on the grounds of Emmanuel Episcopal Church and at city park area at Race and Seymour Street and at Valley Street.

All of the trees will be lighted Sunday at 9:15 p. m.

City crews were busy yesterday installing a public address system and placing small trees provided by the Water Department on the church grounds.

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay said the Christmas Creche has been built and that figures will be placed in the stable scene on Sunday.

Ridgeley UHF Names Leaders

Temporary officers were elected for the Ridgeley UHF TV Association Monday evening at the Ridgeley High School auditorium. They are to formulate plans for a general public meeting, which will be held early in January. At that time permanent officers will be elected.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the plan to bring UHF TV reception to the area.

Lee Marple, president of the Peoples Community TV Association of Cumberland, explained the operation of the system and stated that when completed, it would be comparable to having a multi-channel UHF station for the entire area.

Christmas Basket Applications Checked

The lists are checked to avoid duplication and to make existing funds stretch to cover all of the needy.

Men Of Emmanuel Will Meet Today

Rev. Lawrence Crawford, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church in Mt. Savage, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Men of Emmanuel at 7:30 p.m. today in the parish house of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Dr. Charles S. Beamer, president, said that the chief item of business will be a discussion of progress in sale of fruit cakes, the group's chief money-making project of the year.

Deaths

MRS. CHARLES COOK

Mrs. Rebecca Cook, 95, died yesterday at the home of her son, John R. Cook, 1022 National Highway, LaVale.

A native of Palto Alto, Pa., she was a daughter of the late John and Lydia (Sheirer) Lowery and the widow of Charles D. Cook.

Mrs. Cook was a member of Centre Street Methodist Church. She moved from Ellerslie to Clarksburg, W. Va. in 1911 and resided there until 1943 when she returned here to live with her son.

Also surviving are two grandchildren, Mrs. Grayson D. Holmes, LaVale, and Mrs. Thomas E. Ruppert, Randallstown, and two great-grandchildren.

The body is at the residence of her son where services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Cooks Mills Cemetery.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Carlton M. Harris, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church.

MRS. CHARLES KROPKE

OAKLAND—Mrs. Josephine H. Kropke, 80, died Monday night in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital here, where she had been admitted the previous day.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, she was born October 28, 1878, in Oslo, Norway. She was a former resident of Washington, D.C., but had resided the past 12 years at Mt. Lake Park.

Her husband, Charles J. Kropke died in 1932.

Mrs. Kropke is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Gardner, Gainesville, Va., Mrs. Mabel Pumphrey and Mrs. Eldred Groves, both of Oakland; a son, Edward Kropke, Silver Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Kropke and Miss Carrie Anderson, both of Chicago, Ill.; seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

She was a member of Bethel Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park.

The body will be sent to Washington, D.C., for funeral services Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Deal Funeral Home, Georgia Avenue. Rev. James Duley will officiate and interment will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, near Washington.

Entry Attempted

City Police are checking the attempted breaking and entering Monday night of the Maccabees Club on Bedford Street. Police said someone attempted to force a side door but entrance was not gained.

Potomac River Group To Study D.C. Problems

Commission Plans Meeting Jan. 29, 30

The water problems of the Washington Metropolitan area will be discussed by the Potomac River Commission when it meets on January 29 and 30 at the Hotel Washington.

For the past two years the commission's meetings have been concentrated in outlying areas of the Potomac Valley.

The theme of the January meeting will be "Protecting Metropolitan Water Quality." Oliver Gasch, United States attorney and chief legal counsel for the commission, will act as moderator of a panel discussion on "Protecting The Water Quality—Whose Responsibility?"

U. S. Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia will be the banquet speaker.

Another feature of the meeting will be a tour of the District of Columbia's new sewage treatment plant at its Blue Plains plant. This plant is rapidly becoming a major factor in the pollution control plans for the entire metropolitan area, as it now provides treatment for the Maryland suburbs and soon will handle the wastes from various Virginia communities as well.

Optimist Kettle Drive Nets $210.90

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, said the collection exceeds that made by any service club last year.

The Bedford Road Optimist Club will man the kettles today from 3 to 9 p.m.

Cranford To Get Juvenile Hearing

James Cranford, about 35, of Maryland Avenue will be tried at 10 a. m. Thursday in Juvenile Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old youth.

City police arrested Cranford early Sunday morning in the company of another teen-ager. He is being held in Allegany County Jail.

Authorities said yesterday the 17-year-old youth also will be tried Thursday on charges of being a delinquent minor.

Terra Alta Woman Found Strangled

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Baltimore police were still looking Tuesday for a motive in the strangulation death Sunday of Mrs. Lottie R. Kight, 60, a former resident of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Authorities said said several suspects had been picked up for questioning, but none of the men was identified. The woman was killed apparently while sweeping the sidewalk.

Blood was found on her hands and near her body, but police said it was not her type. They theorized that the woman had injured her assailant before death.

They said she might have struck the assailant with the broom handle, causing bleeding. A trail of blood spots covered a considerable distance from where the body was found.

W.Va. Board Will Discuss Food Cutoff

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The State Board of Public Works is scheduled to meet Wednesday with federal officials here to discuss a government directive to revise its program for distribution of surplus commodities or be cut off from receiving the foodstuffs for indigent persons.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, critical of the State Department of Public Assistance's handling of the certification of recipients, said it would discontinue distribution of surplus commodities to the Mountain State after March 31 unless the program is brought up to minimum federal requirements.

Sen. Jennings Randolph and Sen. - elect Robert C. Byrd, who arranged the meeting, are scheduled to be on hand for the conference. Members of the House from West Virginia also were invited to attend.

The federal agency had criticized the DPA'S system under which voluntary agencies that help with the distribution are allowed to accept donations from recipients.

DPA Director Thomas R. Egbert told the Board of Public Works last week his budget for distribution of surplus food would have to be doubled to $302,460 during the next fiscal year to meet federal requirements, including construction of new warehouses in Wheeling, Parkersburg and the Eastern Panhandle.

Egbert noted that a 5 per cent spending cutback ordered by the board because of declining revenues means the surplus division's budget for the remainder of this year has been slashed $7,170. The amount plus 3,000 would be needed to maintain the commodity distribution at its present level without making any improvements, the director said.

A total of 478,398 West Virginians are eligible to receive surplus commodities, including 86,862 DPA clients and 186,636 unemployed or low-income persons.

Federal officials have said West Virginia leads all other states in the percentage of its population eligible to receive surplus federal commodiites.

Greetings were extended by Thomas Pyle, a member of the staff of the State Board of Education; Ralph R. Webster, superintendent of Allegany County public schools, and Paul D. Beable, principal of Valley High.

Those in attendance were divided into four discussion groups which aired the responsibilities of high school principals in a comprehensive guidance program and also the responsibilities of counselors.

After the discussion periods the participants reassembled and reports were given by recorders of each group including John Snyder, Allegany High School counselor; Mrs. Catherine McGiboney, counselor at Bruce; James D. Preaskorn, counselor at Valley and Ernest Spoerlein, counselor at Southern Garrett County High School.

After the conference ended, interested persons were given an opportunity to visit a coal mine at Ocean. The tour was in charge of Thomas Powell, a mine inspector.

Citrus wood was the most costly furniture of Roman antiquity. It was obtained from a tree of the pine family.

Christmas Displays Near Completion

Large trees have been erected on the grounds of Emmanuel Episcopal Church and at city park area at Race and Seymour Street and at Valley Street.

All of the trees will be lighted Sunday at 9:15 p. m.

City crews were busy yesterday installing a public address system and placing small trees provided by the Water Department on the church grounds.

Mrs. Marguerite Findlay said the Christmas Creche has been built and that figures will be placed in the stable scene on Sunday.

Ridgeley UHF Names Leaders

Temporary officers were elected for the Ridgeley UHF TV Association Monday evening at the Ridgeley High School auditorium. They are to formulate plans for a general public meeting, which will be held early in January. At that time permanent officers will be elected.

The purpose of the organization is to promote the plan to bring UHF TV reception to the area.

Lee Marple, president of the Peoples Community TV Association of Cumberland, explained the operation of the system and stated that when completed, it would be comparable to having a multi-channel UHF station for the entire area.

Christmas Basket Applications Checked

The lists are checked to avoid duplication and to make existing funds stretch to cover all of the needy.

Men Of Emmanuel Will Meet Today

Rev. Lawrence Crawford, rector of St. George's Episcopal Church in Mt. Savage, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of the Men of Emmanuel at 7:30 p.m. today in the parish house of Emmanuel Episcopal Church.

Dr. Charles S. Beamer, president, said that the chief item of business will be a discussion of progress in sale of fruit cakes, the group's chief money-making project of the year.

Deaths

MRS. CHARLES COOK

Mrs. Rebecca Cook, 95, died yesterday at the home of her son, John R. Cook, 1022 National Highway, LaVale.

A native of Palto Alto, Pa., she was a daughter of the late John and Lydia (Sheirer) Lowery and the widow of Charles D. Cook.

Mrs. Cook was a member of Centre Street Methodist Church. She moved from Ellerslie to Clarksburg, W. Va. in 1911 and resided there until 1943 when she returned here to live with her son.

Also surviving are two grandchildren, Mrs. Grayson D. Holmes, LaVale, and Mrs. Thomas E. Ruppert, Randallstown, and two great-grandchildren.

The body is at the residence of her son where services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Cooks Mills Cemetery.

Services will be conducted by Rev. Carlton M. Harris, pastor of Centre Street Methodist Church.

MRS. CHARLES KROPKE

OAKLAND—Mrs. Josephine H. Kropke, 80, died Monday night in the Garrett County Memorial Hospital here, where she had been admitted the previous day.

A daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Anderson, she was born October 28, 1878, in Oslo, Norway. She was a former resident of Washington, D.C., but had resided the past 12 years at Mt. Lake Park.

Her husband, Charles J. Kropke died in 1932.

Mrs. Kropke is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Gladys Gardner, Gainesville, Va., Mrs. Mabel Pumphrey and Mrs. Eldred Groves, both of Oakland; a son, Edward Kropke, Silver Spring; two sisters, Mrs. Jennie Kropke and Miss Carrie Anderson, both of Chicago, Ill.; seven grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

She was a member of Bethel Methodist Church, Mt. Lake Park.

The body will be sent to Washington, D.C., for funeral services Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Deal Funeral Home, Georgia Avenue. Rev. James Duley will officiate and interment will be in Cedar Hill Cemetery, near Washington.

Entry Attempted

City Police are checking the attempted breaking and entering Monday night of the Maccabees Club on Bedford Street. Police said someone attempted to force a side door but entrance was not gained.

Potomac River Group To Study D.C. Problems

Commission Plans Meeting Jan. 29, 30

The water problems of the Washington Metropolitan area will be discussed by the Potomac River Commission when it meets on January 29 and 30 at the Hotel Washington.

For the past two years the commission's meetings have been concentrated in outlying areas of the Potomac Valley.

The theme of the January meeting will be "Protecting Metropolitan Water Quality." Oliver Gasch, United States attorney and chief legal counsel for the commission, will act as moderator of a panel discussion on "Protecting The Water Quality—Whose Responsibility?"

U. S. Senator Jennings Randolph of West Virginia will be the banquet speaker.

Another feature of the meeting will be a tour of the District of Columbia's new sewage treatment plant at its Blue Plains plant. This plant is rapidly becoming a major factor in the pollution control plans for the entire metropolitan area, as it now provides treatment for the Maryland suburbs and soon will handle the wastes from various Virginia communities as well.

Optimist Kettle Drive Nets $210.90

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commander of the Salvation Army Citadel, said the collection exceeds that made by any service club last year.

The Bedford Road Optimist Club will man the kettles today from 3 to 9 p.m.

Cranford To Get Juvenile Hearing

James Cranford, about 35, of Maryland Avenue will be tried at 10 a. m. Thursday in Juvenile Court on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old youth.

City police arrested Cranford early Sunday morning in the company of another teen-ager. He is being held in Allegany County Jail.

Authorities said yesterday the 17-year-old youth also will be tried Thursday on charges of being a delinquent minor.

Terra Alta Woman Found Strangled

BALTIMORE, Md. (UPI)—Baltimore police were still looking Tuesday for a motive in the strangulation death Sunday of Mrs. Lottie R. Kight, 60, a former resident of Terra Alta, W. Va.

Authorities said said several suspects had been picked up for questioning, but none of the men was identified. The woman was killed apparently while sweeping the sidewalk.

Blood was found on her hands and near her body, but police said it was not her type. They theorized that the woman had injured her assailant before death.

They said she might have struck the assailant with the broom handle, causing bleeding. A trail of blood spots covered a considerable distance from where the body was found.

Various Financial Matters Discussed By Board Here

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday spent some time discussing various financial matters

Magistrate Carl Shaffer of Westernport appeared before the board to clarify several items on a bill he submitted last week. They were the cost of feeding the prisoners and for cleaning of Shaffer's office.

The magistrate explained the food costs by stating the prisoners were arrested on state charges and held overnight in the Westernport town lockup. Commissioner John J. Rowan asked why the town of Westernport did not pay for the food for prisoners as he understands some of the fines go to the community. Shaffer agreed with this premise.

A room in a building in Westernport is rented by the county for $30 for Shaffer to conduct his duties. It was agreed by the board that the owner will be asked to supply janitor service for the room. Commissioner John Tucker Mason said if other renters in places like Frostburg and Lonaconing provide janitor service there is no reason why it should not be supplied in Westernport.

Commissioner Rowan told Shaffer that the board was not being critical of him but only wished to determine what was the best and most economical method to provide the magistrate's service to that community.

The board also decided to inquire if it would be feasible to have a gasoline tank and pump installed at the County Jail to provide fuel to cars used by the sheriff's office. The amount of gas and other costs in the matter will be discussed before any decision is made.

Harry Skelly, supervisor of the County Roads Department, was instructed to make all purchases where possible through wholesale houses. Skelly explained that he did buy where possible through wholesale outlets in the county.

N.Y. Police Recover Stolen Vehicle

Lt. Det. James E. Van said the truck was located in a parking lot in Hamburg, N. Y.

Lt. Van said John Gary Dawson, 23, of 474 Baltimore Avenue, reportedly stole the truck and $350 in cash from the food market on December 6 after making his daily grocery deliveries.

Lions Club To Host Children At Party

Each Lion member will escort two of the youngsters during the day's program. Children to be guests at the party will be selected from a list of the Associated Charities.

Local Couple House Parents At Boys' Home

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac J. Smith, 606 Greene Street, left Monday to become house parents at the Methodist Strawbridge Home for Boys at Sykesville.

Both have been active members of Kingsley Methodist Church and members of the church gave the Smiths a surprise farewell covered dish supper at the church Sunday night. The supper was sponsored by the Woman's Society for Christian Service, adult classes and the Official Board. Approximately 100 attended.

The Home for Boys is operated by the Baltimore and Peninsula Conferences of the Methodist Church. Several cottages are located there with 12 to 14 boys in each. At the maximum, the home cares for 29 to 32 boys at one time. Most are in the early teens and from broken homes but the number also includes some pre-school children.

The Smiths will be house parents to a group of early-teen boys. Another local couple, Mr and Mrs. George Zeigler of Cresaptown, are also house parents at Strawbridge.

Smith is well-known here as the operator of a service station at Greene and Lee streets. He took over its operation in February, 1946, after his return from Navy service in World War II. Prior to that, he had operated a station here nine years.

Wendell Hanft, 150 Polk Street, who has been with Smith since 1946 took over operation of the station effective December 1. He is married and the father of three children.

The Smiths have been active in Kingsley Church affairs for a number of years and both are members of the Official Board. He is a member of the Brotherhood Bible Class.

Mrs. Smith, the former Emma Wolfe of Huntington, W. Va., has been a member of the church and Faithful Workers Bible Class 24 years. She has served as class president, president of the Woman's Society for Christian Service four years and presently holds office in that organization. She has served as assistant superintendent of the Sunday School and is chairman of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism.

The Smiths have been married 26 years.

"Friendship" was the theme of the dinner. Brief talks were given by Mrs. Evelyn Hartman, Mrs. Thelma Wigal, Mrs. Mary Meder, Carl B. Perdew and the Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor.

The WSCS presented Mrs. Smith with a life membership pin and the church presented the couple a movie camera, projector and screen. Mrs. Smith also received an arm bouquet and Smith a boutonniere.

Penn Avenue School Plans Yule Programs This Week

Two Christmas programs will be presented at Pennsylvania Avenue School this week.

The Third, Fourth and Fifth grades will present "Christmas Windows," a song and pantomime program today at 1:30 p.m.

Included will be the following scenes, shopping window — Mrs. Edwena Arnold's Fifth grade; toyshop window — Mrs. Rosaline Nutter's Third Grade; department store window — Miss Mary Lou Malcomb's Third Grade; bookstore window — Miss Mary Margaret Dougherty's Fifth Grade; Christmas tree land — Miss Patricia Martz's Third grade; candy shop window — Mrs. Margaret Campbell's Fifth Grade; music shop window — Mrs. Alberta Warnick's Fourth Grade; the friendly beast — Miss Amy Meek's Fourth Grade; and church windows — Miss Mildred DeMoss's Fourth Grade. Approximately 300 children will participate.

The second program by the Sixth and Seventh grades will be presented Thursday at 1:30 p. m. It will consist of Scripture — verse speaking group, Miss Margaret Blake's Seventh Grade will give the "Twenty-Fourth Psalm" and "The Prophecy" from Isaiah. Selections by the Sixth Grade Glee Club, directed by Miss Anita Dickens, include: "Mary's Lullaby," and "Star of the East" (featuring Wayne Campbell, trumpet and Gary O'Neal, clarinet).

Under the direction of Miss Christina MacDonald, the string instrument group will play, "Jingle Bells." Three choral selections, "I Must Go Back," "Long, Long Ago," and "Bethlehem Town," will be presented by William Fazenbaker's Seventh Grade.

The program will conclude with "The Nativity" in story, music and tableau, directed by Miss Margaret Blake, featuring Kenneth Barnhart as narrator and Mary Ruckman, James Hudson, Barbara Hull, Linda Furlow, Sandra Mason, Randolph Rice, David Hartman and Wayne Brant will take part in the tableau. Background scenery is being painted by Jack Jones, Frank Valentine and Mitchell Durst.

The Seventh Grade Glee Club, directed by Miss Marie Goldsworthy, will sing "Silent Night," "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," "Angels We Have Heard on High," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Come All Ye Faithful."

Parkside To Hold Yule Program Today

The first, second and third grades of Parkside School will present a Christmas program in the auditorium at 10 a. m. today.

"Fun and Merriment of Santa's Toy Shop" will be portrayed by pupils of Miss Mary Smith and Miss Barbara Henry.

Music and dramatization of "The Little Shoemaker" will be given by pupils of Mrs. Virginia Plummer and Mrs. Katherine Wolford.

Chanukah, "The Festival of Lights" will be presented.

Street Crews Are Praised

The Street Department's "standby crew" program for emergency work in case of snow worked out satisfactorily over the weekend, Commissioner John J. Long said yesterday.

The standby crew was on the job promptly and Long yesterday complimented the men who went out of their way to report.

Long issued the standby order about a week ago after some criticism had been leveled at the department for delay in getting trucks and equipment on the streets after a snowfall. There had also been a shortage of manpower.

Foremen and Superintendent Andrew H. Heller in reports to Long said some of the reported street blocks during snowy and icy weather are caused by cars with "bald-headed" tires—that is, without tread or chains. These cars which stall and slide often are the cause of street tieups, it was pointed out. In these cases, the department is sometimes delayed even though equipment is at the scene and ready to work.

A crew reported to work as soon as snow began falling Sunday. During the day four trucks were on duty and as the situation eased, the number was reduced to one. A truck and crew remained on duty all night to take care of any complaints which were at a minimum, the commissioner said.

The Home for Boys is operated by the Baltimore and Peninsula Conferences of the Methodist Church. Several cottages are located there with 12 to 14 boys in each. At the maximum, the home cares for 29 to 32 boys at one time. Most are in the early teens and from broken homes but the number also includes some pre-school children.

The Smiths will be house parents to a group of early-teen boys. Another local couple, Mr and Mrs. George Zeigler of Cresaptown, are also house parents at Strawbridge.

Smith is well-known here as the operator of a service station at Greene and Lee streets. He took over its operation in February, 1946, after his return from Navy service in World War II. Prior to that, he had operated a station here nine years.

Wendell Hanft, 150 Polk Street, who has been with Smith since 1946 took over operation of the station effective December 1. He is married and the father of three children.

The Smiths have been active in Kingsley Church affairs for a number of years and both are members of the Official Board. He is a member of the Brotherhood Bible Class.

Mrs. Smith, the former Emma Wolfe of Huntington, W. Va., has been a member of the church and Faithful Workers Bible Class 24 years. She has served as class president, president of the Woman's Society for Christian Service four years and presently holds office in that organization. She has served as assistant superintendent of the Sunday School and is chairman of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism.

The Smiths have been married 26 years.

"Friendship" was the theme of the dinner. Brief talks were given by Mrs. Evelyn Hartman, Mrs. Thelma Wigal, Mrs. Mary Meder, Carl B. Perdew and the Rev. Jacob Snyder, pastor.

The WSCS presented Mrs. Smith with a life membership pin and the church presented the couple a movie camera, projector and screen. Mrs. Smith also received an arm bouquet and Smith a boutonniere.

Street Crews Are Praised

The Street Department's "standby crew" program for emergency work in case of snow worked out satisfactorily over the weekend, Commissioner John J. Long said yesterday.

The standby crew was on the job promptly and Long yesterday complimented the men who went out of their way to report.

Long issued the standby order about a week ago after some criticism had been leveled at the department for delay in getting trucks and equipment on the streets after a snowfall. There had also been a shortage of manpower.

Foremen and Superintendent Andrew H. Heller in reports to Long said some of the reported street blocks during snowy and icy weather are caused by cars with "bald-headed" tires—that is, without tread or chains. These cars which stall and slide often are the cause of street tieups, it was pointed out. In these cases, the department is sometimes delayed even though equipment is at the scene and ready to work.

A crew reported to work as soon as snow began falling Sunday. During the day four trucks were on duty and as the situation eased, the number was reduced to one. A truck and crew remained on duty all night to take care of any complaints which were at a minimum, the commissioner said.

Penn Avenue School Plans Yule Programs This Week

Two Christmas programs will be presented at Pennsylvania Avenue School this week.

The Third, Fourth and Fifth grades will present "Christmas Windows," a song and pantomime program today at 1:30 p.m.

Included will be the following scenes, shopping window — Mrs. Edwena Arnold's Fifth grade; toyshop window — Mrs. Rosaline Nutter's Third Grade; department store window — Miss Mary Lou Malcomb's Third Grade; bookstore window — Miss Mary Margaret Dougherty's Fifth Grade; Christmas tree land — Miss Patricia Martz's Third grade; candy shop window — Mrs. Margaret Campbell's Fifth Grade; music shop window — Mrs. Alberta Warnick's Fourth Grade; the friendly beast — Miss Amy Meek's Fourth Grade; and church windows — Miss Mildred DeMoss's Fourth Grade. Approximately 300 children will participate.

The second program by the Sixth and Seventh grades will be presented Thursday at 1:30 p.m. It will consist of Scripture — verse speaking group, Miss Margaret Blake's Seventh Grade will give the "Twenty-Fourth Psalm" and "The Prophecy" from Isaiah. Selections by the Sixth Grade Glee Club, directed by Miss Anita Dickens, include: "Mary's Lullaby," and "Star of the East" (featuring Wayne Campbell, trumpet and Gary O'Neal, clarinet).

Under the direction of Miss Christina MacDonald, the string instrument group will play, "Jingle Bells." Three choral selections, "I Must Go Back," "Long, Long Ago," and "Bethlehem Town," will be presented by William Fazenbaker's Seventh Grade.

The program will conclude with "The Nativity" in story, music and tableau, directed by Miss Margaret Blake, featuring Kenneth Barnhart as narrator and Mary Ruckman, James Hudson, Barbara Hull, Linda Furlow, Sandra Mason, Randolph Rice, David Hartman and Wayne Brant will take part in the tableau. Background scenery is being painted by Jack Jones, Frank Valentine and Mitchell Durst.

The Seventh Grade Glee Club, directed by Miss Marie Goldsworthy, will sing "Silent Night," "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night," "Angels We Have Heard on High," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "Come All Ye Faithful."

Parkside To Hold Yule Program Today

The first, second and third grades of Parkside School will present a Christmas program in the auditorium at 10 a. m. today.

"Fun and Merriment of Santa's Toy Shop" will be portrayed by pupils of Miss Mary Smith and Miss Barbara Henry.

Music and dramatization of "The Little Shoemaker" will be given by pupils of Mrs. Virginia Plummer and Mrs. Katherine Wolford.

Chanukah, "The Festival of Lights" will be presented.

Lake Huron and Lake Michigan in the Great Lakes have the same elevation.

Raver To Talk To Teachers

Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the Maryland State Teachers Association, will speak at the legislative dinner of the Allegany County Teachers Association, Thursday at 7 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club. Miss Mary E. Murray, ACTA president, will preside.

Frostburg Sets Work Schedule For Christmas

FROSTBURG—The Mayor and Council has voted to give hourly paid employes a half-day off Wednesday, December 24. However, the men will report for work December 26, at which time the weekly garbage collection will be made.

City Hall will remain open all day Wednesday but will close at 5 p. m. and remain closed until until 9 a. m. the following Monday.

Council approved bills for the corporate fund for $3,169.14 and for the water fund, $1,819.05.

James L. Reid, in charge of school buildings for the State Department of Education, discussed with council a new water main and meter location at the new Laboratory School, now under construction on Braddock Street.

A complaint was received concerning cars parking on First Street between Water Street and Beall's Lane. The complaint pointed out that it was practically impossible for residents to use the street when parking is allowed due to the narrow width and the steepness of the street. Council will investigate.

Christmas Event Held

FROSTBURG—A program and dinner marked the Christmas celebration of the Women's Work Group of the Frostburg Church of the Brethren held in the social room a recent evening. Members of the families were guests.

The Christmas theme was carried out in the table decorations. Jingle gifts were exchanged and secret pals revealed.

Mrs. Leona Durr presided and prayer was offered by Rev. Herbert Alford.

Attending were Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Alford, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Durr and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Durr Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Chaney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olin H. Choirs Present Contata Sunday

GRANTSVILLE — Community choirs will present a cantata Sunday, December 21, in Grantsville School at 8 p. m. with Lewis Michael as director and Mrs. Nevin U. Broadwater, accompanist.

Rev. Clarence Mayers, pastor of the Brethren Church, will speak.

ENDS BASIC — Airman Robert L. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Davis of Kitzmiller, has completed his initial Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. Airman Davis is a graduate of Elk Garden High School and was employed by the Eastern Products Company in Baltimore prior to his enlistment.

Senior Scouts Entertained

FROSTBURG — "A come as you are" party was held recently by members of Girl Scout troops 54 and 52. Both are senior units. Plans had been made for the party but the time was not announced. Bonnie Conrad and Joan Harris set the time which was approved by the leaders Mrs. Gurney Beeman and Mrs. Paul Snyder.

At a prearranged time Bonnie and Joan Began calling members telling them to come as they were to the party at the First Methodist Church.

Following a period of games, refreshments were served.

Free Parking Is Authorized At Lonaconing

LONACONING — The Mayor and Council has announced that there will be free parking on all parking meters throughout the community beginning Monday, December 22 and continuing through Saturday, December 27, as a convenience to shoppers.

Council also announced that it had donated $25 to the community Christmas treat committee.

Frostburg Sets Work Schedule For Christmas

FROSTBURG—The Mayor and Council has voted to give hourly paid employes a half-day off Wednesday, December 24. However, the men will report for work December 26, at which time the weekly garbage collection will be made.

City Hall will remain open all day Wednesday but will close at 5 p. m. and remain closed until until 9 a. m. the following Monday.

Council approved bills for the corporate fund for $3,169.14 and for the water fund, $1,819.05.

James L. Reid, in charge of school buildings for the State Department of Education, discussed with council a new water main and meter location at the new Laboratory School, now under construction on Braddock Street.

A complaint was received concerning cars parking on First Street between Water Street and Beall's Lane. The complaint pointed out that it was practically impossible for residents to use the street when parking is allowed due to the narrow width and the steepness of the street. Council will investigate.

Christmas Event Held

FROSTBURG—A program and dinner marked the Christmas celebration of the Women's Work Group of the Frostburg Church of the Brethren held in the social room a recent evening. Members of the families were guests.

The Christmas theme was carried out in the table decorations. Jingle gifts were exchanged and secret pals revealed.

Mrs. Leona Durr presided and prayer was offered by Rev. Herbert Alford.

Attending were Rev. and Mrs. Herbert Alford, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Durr and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Durr Jr. and family, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Chaney and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olin H. Wilhelm, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eberly Sr., Mesdames Hazel Spiker, Nellie Mae Coleman, Linnie Fike, Mary Crowe, Eliza Powell, Ruth Laslo, Annie Irwin, Marie McFarland, Leah Yates and Marie Bennett.

Choirs Present Contata Sunday

GRANTSVILLE — Community choirs will present a cantata Sunday, December 21, in Grantsville School at 8 p. m. with Lewis Michael as director and Mrs. Nevin U. Broadwater, accompanist.

Senior Scouts Entertained

FROSTBURG — "A come as you are" party was held recently by members of Girl Scout troops 54 and 52. Both are senior units. Plans had been made for the party but the time was not announced. Bonnie Conrad and Joan Harris set the time which was approved by the leaders Mrs. Gurney Beeman and Mrs. Paul Snyder.

At a prearranged time Bonnie and Joan Began calling members telling them to come as they were to the party at the First Methodist Church.

Following a period of games, refreshments were served.

Free Parking Is Authorized At Lonaconing

LONACONING — The Mayor and Council has announced that there will be free parking on all parking meters throughout the community beginning Monday, December 22 and continuing through Saturday, December 27, as a convenience to shoppers.

Council also announced that it had donated $25 to the community Christmas treat committee.

Long's Goal Wins Battle In Frostburg

Mike's Set Shot In Closing Seconds Breaks 66-66 Tie

FROSTBURG — The LaSalle High Explorers snapped out of a three-game losing spin last night as freshman forward Mike Long connected on a long set shot in the final five seconds to defeat Beall's Mountaineers, 68-66, on the Beall floor.

Long, last season's scoring champ in the Catholic Youth Basketball League, fired the winning counter from quarter court after taking a long pass following three consecutive unsuccessful shooting attempts by Beall in the last 30 seconds.

The nip-and-tuck thriller had Beall with a 16-12 first quarter advantage and a 32-31 halftime edge. LaSalle, playing its second game in as many nights, gained the upperhand, 53-47, at the close of the third stanza.

Jim Ternent sparked La Salle with 19 points. Mickey Scaletta, who went five-for-five in attempts from the floor in the Explorers 59-42 loss to Fort Hill Monday, continued in his hot streak with eight field goals and two foul tosses. Long, the evening's hero, followed up with 13 points. Guard Ed Finn grabbed the scoring laurels for the contest by caging 22 tallies for Beall. Jim Hansel and Chester Carter hung up 13 and 10 points, respectively, for the losers.

The loss was the third for the winless Mountaineers.

St. Mary's Coach Resigns, Basketball Team Disbands

Mae Smith Quits, Girls Teams Are Reduced To Four

St. Mary's High School has withdrawn its basketball team from competition following the resignation this week of Mrs. Mae Smith, who has tutored girls teams at the Oldtown Road Catholic school for the past four years.

Mrs. Smith, who was Miss Mae Welch, is a graduate of Penn Avenue High School where she excelled as a basketball player.

St. Mary's lost the only game it played this season to Valley High School by the score of 67-23. Last season St. Mary's won one out of ten games, that being a 40-31 decision over Hyndman.

Valley, Bruce and Fort Hill are among the schools that have been advised St. Mary's is cancelling all games on its schedule and is disbanding its team immediately.

Another team that will not appear on the schedules of Allegany county schools this season is Hyndman (Pa.) High School. Annabelle Leatherman, former Fort Hill High School star, who coached at Hyndman last season, is now teaching physical education and science at Frederick Junior High School. It is reported that Hyndman may not have a team this season. At least the Pennsylvania school will not play any games in Allegany county.

Allegany High School was entertaining hopes of having a girls basketball team this season but plans to organize a sextet have been abandoned.

The number of girls teams in Allegany county has dwindled to four, namely, Fort Hill, Bruce, Valley and Ursuline Academy.

Fort Hill's schedule has been reduced to seven games following the withdrawal of St. Mary's and Hyndman. Fort Hill, undefeated in four years and victorious in 45 consecutive games, opens the season December 30 with the Alumnae. Home-and-home games also are booked with Valley, Bruce and Hancock. Ursuline and Fort Hill have not played for several years following the breaking off of relations. Both teams posted 9-0 records last season.

Hornets Win, 59-56, JV Players Sparkle

HYNDMAN — Three JV players came off the bench last night to spark the Hyndman High Hornets to a 59-56 victory over Meyersdale High, giving the winners their second win of the season.

After three regulars left the game via the personal foul route, "Ace" Arnold, a JV regular, scored 10 points in the final quarter and his junior varsity teammates, Shoup and Miller, scored two points apiece to gain the win for Hyndman which trailed 42-41 at the close of the third stanza.

The winners were paced by Royce Waltman's 18 points, while Ed Younkin and Gary Nedrow tallied 19 apiece for the losers. The lineups:

U.S. Team Will Play Minus Kramer's Aid

"I will be in Sydney over the weekend and will miss the Italian matches," Kramer said.

This development adds emphasis to the contention of Jones and Kramer that the pro promoter's role with the Davis Cup team is purely advisory.

"Jack has been of tremendous value to us during the past week," Jones said. "We will miss him, naturally, but he will rejoin us at Brisbane if we win early next week."

F. & R. Shufflers Win

Fisher & Robinette won two out of three games from Sweitzer's Restaurant in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard match last night. K. Twigg paced the losers with 20 points and Bob Robinette had 24 for the F. & R. team.

New York Giants Stop Ticket Sale For Sunday Game

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants announced Tuesday night they have stopped the public sale of tickets for their Sunday playoff game with the Cleveland Browns at Yankee Stadium for the National Football League's Eastern Division title.

"We have enough mail orders to use up what few tickets we have left and people are lined up down the street waiting to buy," an exhausted club official said. The club's office is on the 16th floor.

The Giants have sold more than 50,000 tickets in 36 hours, the biggest ticket rush in the club's history. The Giants started it by defeating the Browns here last Sunday, 13-10, to tie Cleveland for the Eastern crown and force a playoff.

Black Knights Top Southern Cagers, 59-43

The Knights thus copped their fourth consecutive victory with George Lauder showing the way for the Johnny Myers-coached cagers with 22 points. Lauder, four-year veteran with the Detmolders, caged 12 of his total in the second quarter to send Valley out in front to stay. The teams battled to an 8-8 first quarter tie.

The Knights found the range for 24 field goals and a healthy 11-15 mark at the foul line. Southern, which now has an even 2-2 tab, canned 16 twin-pointers and 11-23 free throws. Box:

Slippery Rock Hands Bobcats Fifth Setback

Frostburg Blows 17-24 Foul Shots In 70-55 Defeat

FROSTBURG, Dec. 16—Slippery Rock (Pa.) Teachers College sank 20 out of 29 shots at the foul line tonight and handed Frostburg State Teachers College its fifth straight setback of the season. The score was 70-55.

Ed McFarlane and Capt. Ken Denne were the leading pointmakers for Slippery Rock with 20 and 16, respectively. They also accounted for 14 of the visiting team's 25 field goals.

Piedmont Scores 76-60 Victory At Petersburg

Fort Ashby Downs Ridgeley, 74-71, In Extra Period

Piedmont High School tied Romney High's Pioneers for the leadership of the Potomac Valley Conference by registering its third straight victory in the 17-school circuit at the expense of the Petersburg High School Vikings last night at Petersburg. The score was 76-60.

In other conference games, Fort Ashby's Eagles copped a 74-71 overtime thriller from the Ridgeley High Blackhawks, Paw Paw High's Pirates made their league debut with a 50-47 decision over Capon Bridge High and Wardensville High's Warriors trimmed the West Virginia School for the Deaf, 68-51. The loss was the third in a row for the Lions.

Joe Taylor was the "big gun" for Piedmont with 10 goals and 21 points. Wayne Russell and D. T. Twyman aided the cause with 15 and 13 tallies.

Ernie Nelson and Billy Reynolds with 17 and 16 points and Dave Koontz with 13 headed the Vikings' scoring.

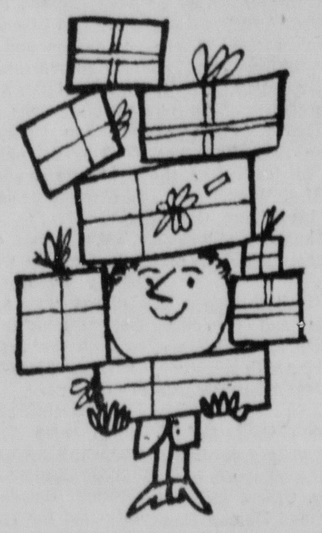

Glen Pyles' two field goals and Hershberger and Steed mes ed free throws for Fort Ashby after the regulation game with Ridgeley ended in a 66-66 deadlock. Lambert scored all of the Hawks' points in the extra stanza on three fouls and one field goal.

Bill Scott scored 16 field goals and 37 points for Ridgeley before fouling out in the fourth period. Pyles collected 12 goals and 28 points for the Eagles.

Brooks and Fridley with 17 and 14 tallies were the leading scorers in Wardensville's victory while Hudson racked up 22 markers for the Deaf School quint.

Undefeated Paw Paw High School bagged its fourth win of the campaign in turning back Capon Bridge. Sharp, Malcolm and Shade of Paw Paw fouled out as Capon Bridge meshed 21 of 36 free throws.

Kevin Edmondson of Paw Paw was the game's high scorer with 18 points. Whitacre collected 16 to pace Capon Bridge.

FROSTBURG — The LaSalle High Explorers snapped out of a three-game losing spin last night as freshman forward Mike Long connected on a long set shot in the final five seconds to defeat Beall's Mountaineers, 68-66, on the Beall floor.

Long, last season's scoring champ in the Catholic Youth Basketball League, fired the winning counter from quarter court after taking a long pass following three consecutive unsuccessful shooting attempts by Beall in the last 30 seconds.

The nip-and-tuck thriller had Beall with a 16-12 first quarter advantage and a 32-31 halftime edge. LaSalle, playing its second game in as many nights, gained the upperhand, 53-47, at the close of the third stanza.

Jim Ternent sparked La Salle with 19 points. Mickey Scaletta, who went five-for-five in attempts from the floor in the Explorers 59-42 loss to Fort Hill Monday, continued in his hot streak with eight field goals and two foul tosses. Long, the evening's hero, followed up with 13 points. Guard Ed Finn grabbed the scoring laurels for the contest by caging 22 tallies for Beall. Jim Hansel and Chester Carter hung up 13 and 10 points, respectively, for the losers.

The loss was the third for the winless Mountaineers.

St. Mary's Coach Resigns, Basketball Team Disbands

Mae Smith Quits, Girls Teams Are Reduced To Four

St. Mary's High School has withdrawn its basketball team from competition following the resignation this week of Mrs. Mae Smith, who has tutored girls teams at the Oldtown Road Catholic school for the past four years.

Mrs. Smith, who was Miss Mae Welch, is a graduate of Penn Avenue High School where she excelled as a basketball player.

St. Mary's lost the only game it played this season to Valley High School by the score of 67-23. Last season St. Mary's won one out of ten games, that being a 40-31 decision over Hyndman.

Valley, Bruce and Fort Hill are among the schools that have been advised St. Mary's is cancelling all games on its schedule and is disbanding its team immediately.

Another team that will not appear on the schedules of Allegany county schools this season is Hyndman (Pa.) High School. Annabelle Leatherman, former Fort Hill High School star, who coached at Hyndman last season, is now teaching physical education and science at Frederick Junior High School. It is reported that Hyndman may not have a team this season. At least the Pennsylvania school will not play any games in Allegany county.

Allegany High School was entertaining hopes of having a girls basketball team this season but plans to organize a sextet have been abandoned.

The number of girls teams in Allegany county has dwindled to four, namely, Fort Hill, Bruce, Valley and Ursuline Academy.

Fort Hill's schedule has been reduced to seven games following the withdrawal of St. Mary's and Hyndman. Fort Hill, undefeated in four years and victorious in 45 consecutive games, opens the season December 30 with the Alumnae. Home-and-home games also are booked with Valley, Bruce and Hancock. Ursuline and Fort Hill have not played for several years following the breaking off of relations. Both teams posted 9-0 records last season.

Hornets Win, 59-56, JV Players Sparkle

HYNDMAN — Three JV players came off the bench last night to spark the Hyndman High Hornets to a 59-56 victory over Meyersdale High, giving the winners their second win of the season.

After three regulars left the game via the personal foul route, "Ace" Arnold, a JV regular, scored 10 points in the final quarter and his junior varsity teammates, Shoup and Miller, scored two points apiece to gain the win for Hyndman which trailed 42-41 at the close of the third stanza.

The winners were paced by Royce Waltman's 18 points, while Ed Younkin and Gary Nedrow tallied 19 apiece for the losers. The lineups:

U.S. Team Will Play Minus Kramer's Aid

"I will be in Sydney over the weekend and will miss the Italian matches," Kramer said.

This development adds emphasis to the contention of Jones and Kramer that the pro promoter's role with the Davis Cup team is purely advisory.

"Jack has been of tremendous value to us during the past week," Jones said. "We will miss him, naturally, but he will rejoin us at Brisbane if we win early next week."

F. & R. Shufflers Win

Fisher & Robinette won two out of three games from Sweitzer's Restaurant in an Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard match last night. K. Twigg paced the losers with 20 points and Bob Robinette had 24 for the F. & R. team.

New York Giants Stop Ticket Sale For Sunday Game

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Giants announced Tuesday night they have stopped the public sale of tickets for their Sunday playoff game with the Cleveland Browns at Yankee Stadium for the National Football League's Eastern Division title.

"We have enough mail orders to use up what few tickets we have left and people are lined up down the street waiting to buy," an exhausted club official said. The club's office is on the 16th floor.

The Giants have sold more than 50,000 tickets in 36 hours, the biggest ticket rush in the club's history. The Giants started it by defeating the Browns here last Sunday, 13-10, to tie Cleveland for the Eastern crown and force a playoff.

Black Knights Top Southern Cagers, 59-43

The Knights thus copped their fourth consecutive victory with George Lauder showing the way for the Johnny Myers-coached cagers with 22 points. Lauder, four-year veteran with the Detmolders, caged 12 of his total in the second quarter to send Valley out in front to stay. The teams battled to an 8-8 first quarter tie.

The Knights found the range for 24 field goals and a healthy 11-15 mark at the foul line. Southern, which now has an even 2-2 tab, canned 16 twin-pointers and 11-23 free throws. Box:

Slippery Rock Hands Bobcats Fifth Setback

FROSTBURG, Dec. 16—Slippery Rock (Pa.) Teachers College sank 20 out of 29 shots at the foul line tonight and handed Frostburg State Teachers College its fifth straight setback of the season. The score was 70-55.

Ed McFarlane and Capt. Ken Denne were the leading pointmakers for Slippery Rock with 20 and 16, respectively. They also accounted for 14 of the visiting team's 25 field goals.

Piedmont Scores 76-60 Victory At Petersburg

Fort Ashby Downs Ridgeley, 74-71, In Extra Period

Piedmont High School tied Romney High's Pioneers for the leadership of the Potomac Valley Conference by registering its third straight victory in the 17-school circuit at the expense of the Petersburg High School Vikings last night at Petersburg. The score was 76-60.

In other conference games, Fort Ashby's Eagles copped a 74-71 overtime thriller from the Ridgeley High Blackhawks, Paw Paw High's Pirates made their league debut with a 50-47 decision over Capon Bridge High and Wardensville High's Warriors trimmed the West Virginia School for the Deaf, 68-51. The loss was the third in a row for the Lions.

Joe Taylor was the "big gun" for Piedmont with 10 goals and 21 points. Wayne Russell and D. T. Twyman aided the cause with 15 and 13 tallies.

Ernie Nelson and Billy Reynolds with 17 and 16 points and Dave Koontz with 13 headed the Vikings' scoring.

Glen Pyles' two field goals and Hershberger and Steed meshed free throws for Fort Ashby after the regulation game with Ridgeley ended in a 66-66 deadlock. Lambert scored all of the Hawks' points in the extra stanza on three fouls and one field goal.

Bill Scott scored 16 field goals and 37 points for Ridgeley before fouling out in the fourth period. Pyles collected 12 goals and 28 points for the Eagles.

Brooks and Fridley with 17 and 14 tallies were the leading scorers in Wardensville's victory while Hudson racked up 22 markers for the Deaf School quint.

Undefeated Paw Paw High School bagged its fourth win of the campaign in turning back Capon Bridge. Sharp, Malcolm and Shade of Paw Paw fouled out as Capon Bridge meshed 21 of 36 free throws.

Kevin Edmondson of Paw Paw was the game's high scorer with 18 points. Whitacre collected 16 to pace Capon Bridge.

Bill Corum, Noted Sports Writer, Dies

Headed Churchill Downs Race Track Since Winn Died

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Corum, long-time sports columnist for The New York Journal-American and president of Churchill Downs race track, died Tuesday night after an illness of two months.

Dr. Edward Arida of St. Luke's Hospital said Corum, who was 63, had been under treatment for cancer of the lung. He said the immediate cause of death was pneumonia.

Corum first entered the hospital during the World Series in October but was discharged last month. He reentered the hospital last week.

Born In Missouri

Born Martene Windsor Corum at Speed, Mo. July 20, 1895, he had been one of the nation's best known sports writers since he joined the Journal-American as a baseball writer in 1925. He became a columnist, later syndicated, for the paper in 1927.

He became president of Churchill Downs and head man of America's top horse race, the Kentucky Derby, in 1949 after the death of Col. Matt Winn.

In addition to his column, Corum also was widely known for his radio and television commentary at major fights.

He was a familiar figure at sporting events and frequently was accompanied by his mother, who survives along with a brother, Clayton, and a son. Corum's wife died in 1953.

Corum was one of the last of the group of sports writers developed during the upsurge of sports interest in the 1920s. Others included Grantland Rice and Damon Runyon.

Helped Build Derby

Corum covered his first derby in 1925. When Col. Winn died after serving as Churchill Downs president for 47 years, Corum was everyone's choice as his successor.

He was a longtime friend of fellow Missourian Ben A. Jones, the famous Calumet Farm trainer who saddled a record six derby winners.

Corum attended school at Boonville, Mo., Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., and the University of Missouri. He received his degree from Missouri while he was serving in France during World War I.

Cincinnati Bearcats Set Pace In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Basketball teams that have been tabbed as national leaders at this early stage of the season are doing their best to knock one another out of the top 10 in the rankins. In fact, it almost appears as if the schedules had been set up with this in mind.

Already West Virginia and Kansas State have learned that undefeated basketball seasons are very rare. Several others may get the same lesson before this week is over.

The top three in the Associated Press ranking poll, based on performances through last Saturday, are Cincinnati, Kentucky and Kansas State. They retained the positions they held in the first weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

N. C. State Advances

But almost before the votes were counted this week, Kansas State had taken its first defeat of the season and Kentucky had to play an overtime period to win its sixth straight. Kansas State, after two close calls against California and San Francisco, was taken 77-68 by Brigham Young Monday night and Kentucky pulled out a 58-56 overtime decision over Maryland.

These games, of course, weren't considered in the voting for this week's rankings, but an upset by Virginia last Saturday dropped West Virginia from fourth to seventh on the list, allowing North Carolina State to advance to fourth.

Behind N.C. State in the top 10 listing were Tennessee, Northwestern, West Virginia, Mississippi State, Xavier (Ohio) and North Carolina. Bradley and Michigan State tied for 11th place.

Kentucky narrowed Cincinnati's first place margin, polling 39 first place votes and 910 points to 40 and 938 for the Bearcats. Points are counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc.

Could Regain Prestige

Both Kansas State and West Virginia have opporutnities to regain prestige before next week's voting. Kansas State plays fourth-ranked North Carolina State Friday and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated 13th, on Saturday. West Virginia plays in the University of Kentucky Invitation Tournament this weekend with Kentucky, Oklahoma State and Ohio State.

Two other top 10 teams, Northwestern and North Carolina, are due to appear in the Blue Grass classic at Louisville, Friday and Saturday, along with Notre Dame and Louisville.

Cincinnati, with a 96-point average for its first three games, goes against well-regarded College of the Pacific Wednesday night and Marshall on Saturday. North Carolina State's three-game assignment is even rougher—LaSalle at Philadelphia Wednesday night, Kansas State at Manhattan Friday and Kansas at Lawrence Saturday.

Top Ten Teams

The top ten teams:

1, Cincinnati. 2, Kentucky. 3, Kansas State. 4, North Carolina State. 5, Tennessee. 6, Northwestern. 7, West Virginia. 8, Mississippi State. 9, Xavier. 10, North Carolina.

The second 10: Bradley and Michigan State, Auburn, St. Joseph's (Pa.), California, Seattle, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, UCLA, Southern Methodist.

John Horine Is Among 16 In Next Test

Soccerites From 13 Colleges Vie In Kansas City

John Horine, sharpshooting senior inside left forward of Frostburg State Teachers College, has qualified for the final tryouts for the United States soccer team that will compete in the Pan-American Games in Chicago, next year, according to a letter received by Kenneth Babcock, athletic director and soccer coach at the Frostburg school, from James Reed, of Princeton University, chairman of the Selection Committee.

Scored 8 of 12 Goals

Horine, who scored eight of the 12 goals credited to the Bobcats during the past season, participated in the eastern tryouts at Brooklyn College, New York, Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, when 16 out of 55 candidates from 22 colleges were picked for second round trials.

When Coach Babcock and Horine left New York they were under the impression that the Frostburg player had failed to make the final 16 qualifiers and a story to this effect appeared in the Cumberland News Monday, December 8.

A letter from Chairman Reed this week, however, imparted the glad tidings that Horine "made" the group that will vie with amateurs and members of the Armed Forces in the next tests set for March 20 and 21, 1959. Site for the trials probably will be Kansas City or St. Louis, Mo. The Pan-American Games are scheduled for Chicago in August.

Seven Linemen Named

Horine, who hails from Middletown in Frederick county, was among seven linemen selected.

Casey Shufflers Up Lead To 9½ Games

The Cumberland Knights of Columbus boosted their lead to 9½ games in the American Division of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League by winning three games from the Woodmen of the World on Monday night.

The match was moved ahead from Friday.

The match between the K. of C. and Outdoor Club, originally set for Christmas Day, will be held tonight at the Outdoor Club.

PLAYOFF RATED EVEN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Broadway oddsmakers have issued a "pick-'em" line on next Sunday's New York Giants - Cleveland Browns playoff game for the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League. That means the game is rated even in friendly man-to-man betting. In wagering with the bookie, however, a bettor must put up $11 to win $10 no matter which team he backs.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australia, facing the loss of two more amateur aces, is trying to cripple pro tennis but it's a cinch to be a losing battle as long as there's a promoter like Jack Kramer around.

Kramer — and his predecessors —have been raiding the amateurs for more than 25 years and the raids will continue even if there's nothing left but the winter barnstorming circuit in the U.S.

If the ban goes through, the pros will be dead in the big areas of Australia, at Forest Hills, in New York, at Wimbledon in England, at Roland Garros in Paris—places in which the pros have been gaining a strong foothold.

Can't Stop Raids

"That means," Kramer advises, "we'll simply have to invest in portable equipment to set up for play where and when we can in the nearest available arena even if it's not a regular tennis center."

So the Aussies aren't going to stop the raids by Kramer, or his successors, for there still is plenty of loot to be passed out to any stickout amateur who is fed up with playing for "expense accounts".

Mervyn Rose of Australia already has turned pro this season and, shortly after they defend the Davis Cup late this month, top Aussies Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson are likely to join up, too.

They'll only be the latest in a long line of "defectors" from Bill Tilden and Vincent Richards on down the line through Ellsworth Vines, Fred Perry, Don Budge, Bobby Riggs, Kramer, Pancho Segura, Pancho Gonzales, Tony Trabert, Frankie Parker, Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor, Ken Rosewall, Rex Hartwig and Lew Hoad.

And all but the Johnny - come-latelys on that list did right well simply by barnstorming the U.S. from the big barns like Madison Square Garden to the whistle-stop in the prairies.

Hurts U. S. Team

Check that list and you'll find evidence to support the theory that without pro raids the U.S. would have an even greater stranglehold on the Davis Cup than the Aussies now have.

Until just lately, Kramer could handle any player in the world except Gonzales. A U.S. Davis Cup team of Kramer, Gonzales and Trabert probably could have held the Australians at bay all these years — just as they have against the leading Aussies who turned pro.

In recent years, however, Kramer has been treading on Australian toes in another manner and therein lies his current troubles.

With a big troupe to keep busy, Jack has devised a series of tournaments instead of straight barnstorming. The pro tournaments in Australia have proved to be box-office bonanzas in direct competition with the ameteurs.

That's why the Australian Lawn Tennis Association wants to bar the pros from amateur courts which have been giving undue aid to a mortal enemy in the popularity battle.

Oddly, the pros have fared badly in America's amateur shrine—Forest Hills. The tennis is superb, the crowds tiny.

But as long as they love the pros at the whistle - stops, the Aussies never will stop the pro raids on top amateurs.

Officials Are Named For Rose Bowl Game

The staff, as announced by Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson of the Big Ten and Acing Commissioner Bernard Hammerbeck of the Pacific Coast Conference, includes:

SUBSTITUTE TV BOUT

CHICAGO (UPI) —The International Boxing Club Tuesday substituted a middleweight bout between seventh ranked Holly Mims and Bobby Boyd as the television fight in the Chicago Stadium Jan. 7. Originally light heavyweights Sunny Ray and Roque Maravilla were to feature the card, but Maraville lost last week in Boise, Idaho.

Colts To Scout Playoff Battle

Coaches To Attend Giants-Browns Tilt

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts aren't taking any chances on missing anything that will help against their opponent in the National Football League championship game on Dec. 28.

The entire five-man coaching staff headed by Weeb Ewbank will scout the Eastren Division playoff game Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants.

"Maybe the game will break open early and show us which one we must play," said Ewbank. "Maybe it won't."

The Colt squad, idle since Sunday's final scheduled game, will return to practice Wednesday.

Kellett estimates the Colts will have 12,000 tickets if the game is in Cleveland and 10,000 in New York.

ASK DATE CHANGE

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI) Sebring race officials have asked that the first Grand Prix of the United States be held next fall rather than on March 22 as scheduled, it was announced Monday. Race director Alex Ulmann said a date is necessary to give European car builders more time to ship their vehicles to this country.

Hickey Named 49ers Coach

Assistant Given 3-Year Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Assistant Coach Howard (Red) Hickey Tuesday replaced Frankie Albert as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, was given a three-year contract—and strongly hinted there would be a big shakeup among the players.

"I feel this club has the nucleus to become a winner but we need help," the 41-year-old Hickey said at a news conference.

"How good the club will be will depend upon the type of boys we come up with through our draft; it is my intention to go all out to get the best players and to be the best coach."

Albert quit as head coach Dec. 12, saying he loved his family more than football, and could not stand to see his wife and children suffer criticism.

Bill Corum, Noted Sports Writer, Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—Bill Corum, long-time sports columnist for The New York Journal-American and president of Churchill Downs race track, died Tuesday night after an illness of two months.

Dr. Edward Arida of St. Luke's Hospital said Corum, who was 63, had been under treatment for cancer of the lung. He said the immediate cause of death was pneumonia.

Corum first entered the hospital during the World Series in October but was discharged last month. He reentered the hospital last week.

Born In Missouri

Born Martene Windsor Corum at Speed, Mo. July 20, 1895, he had been one of the nation's best known sports writers since he joined the Journal-American as a baseball writer in 1925. He became a columnist, later syndicated, for the paper in 1927.

In addition to his column, Corum also was widely known for his radio and television commentary at major fights.

He was a familiar figure at sporting events and frequently was accompanied by his mother, who survives along with a brother, Clayton, and a son. Corum's wife died in 1953.

Corum was one of the last of the group of sports writers developed during the upsurge of sports interest in the 1920s. Others included Grantland Rice and Damon Runyon.

Helped Build Derby

Corum covered his first derby in 1925. When Col. Winn died after serving as Churchill Downs president for 47 years, Corum was everyone's choice as his successor.

He was a longtime friend of fellow Missourian Ben A. Jones, the famous Calumet Farm trainer who saddled a record six derby winners.

Corum attended school at Boonville, Mo., Wentworth Military Academy at Lexington, Mo., and the University of Missouri. He received his degree from Missouri while he was serving in France during World War I.

Cincinnati Bearcats Set Pace In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Basketball teams that have been tabbed as national leaders at this early stage of the season are doing their best to knock one another out of the top 10 in the rankins. In fact, it almost appears as if the schedules had been set up with this in mind.

Already West Virginia and Kansas State have learned that undefeated basketball seasons are very rare. Several others may get the same lesson before this week is over.

The top three in the Associated Press ranking poll, based on performances through last Saturday, are Cincinnati, Kentucky and Kansas State. They retained the positions they held in the first weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

N. C. State Advances

But almost before the votes were counted this week, Kansas State had taken its first defeat of the season and Kentucky had to play an overtime period to win its sixth straight. Kansas State, after two close calls against California and San Francisco, was taken 77-68 by Brigham Young Monday night and Kentucky pulled out a 58-56 overtime decision over Maryland.

These games, of course, weren't considered in the voting for this week's rankings, but an upset by Virginia last Saturday dropped West Virginia from fourth to seventh on the list, allowing North Carolina State to advance to fourth.

Behind N.C. State in the top 10 listing were Tennessee, Northwestern, West Virginia, Mississippi State, Xavier (Ohio) and North Carolina. Bradley and Michigan State tied for 11th place.

Kentucky narrowed Cincinnati's first place margin, polling 39 first place votes and 910 points to 40 and 938 for the Bearcats. Points are counted on the usual basis of 10 for each first place ballot, nine for second, etc.

Could Regain Prestige

Both Kansas State and West Virginia have opporutnities to regain prestige before next week's voting. Kansas State plays fourth-ranked North Carolina State Friday and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, rated 13th, on Saturday. West Virginia plays in the University of Kentucky Invitation Tournament this weekend with Kentucky, Oklahoma State and Ohio State.

Two other top 10 teams, Northwestern and North Carolina, are due to appear in the Blue Grass classic at Louisville, Friday and Saturday, along with Notre Dame and Louisville.

Cincinnati, with a 96-point average for its first three games, goes against well-regarded College of the Pacific Wednesday night and Marshall on Saturday. North Carolina State's three-game assignment is even rougher—LaSalle at Philadelphia Wednesday night, Kansas State at Manhattan Friday and Kansas at Lawrence Saturday.

Top Ten Teams

The top ten teams:

1, Cincinnati. 2, Kentucky. 3, Kansas State. 4, North Carolina State. 5, Tennessee. 6, Northwestern. 7, West Virginia. 8, Mississippi State. 9, Xavier. 10, North Carolina.

WVU Frosh Win

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —West Virginia University's freshman basketball team jumped off to an early 10-1 lead Tuesday night and coasted to an easy 98-68 win over Bethany's junior varsity.

John Horine Is Among 16 In Next Test

Soccerites From 13 Colleges Vie In Kansas City

John Horine, sharpshooting senior inside left forward of Frostburg State Teachers College, has qualified for the final tryouts for the United States soccer team that will compete in the Pan-American Games in Chicago, next year, according to a letter received by Kenneth Babcock, athletic director and soccer coach at the Frostburg school, from James Reed, of Princeton University, chairman of the Selection Committee.

Scored 8 of 12 Goals

Horine, who scored eight of the 12 goals credited to the Bobcats during the past season, participated in the eastern tryouts at Brooklyn College, New York, Friday and Saturday, December 6 and 7, when 16 out of 55 candidates from 22 colleges were picked for second round trials.

When Coach Babcock and Horine left New York they were under the impression that the Frostburg player had failed to make the final 16 qualifiers and a story to this effect appeared in the Cumberland News Monday, December 8.

A letter from Chairman Reed this week, however, imparted the glad tidings that Horine "made" the group that will vie with amateurs and members of the Armed Forces in the next tests set for March 20 and 21, 1959. Site for the trials probably will be Kansas City or St. Louis, Mo. The Pan-American Games are scheduled for Chicago in August.

Seven Linemen Named

Horine, who hails from Middletown in Frederick county, was among seven linemen selected.

Casey Shufflers Up Lead To 9½ Games

The Cumberland Knights of Columbus boosted their lead to 9½ games in the American Division of the Allegany County Men's Shuffleboard League by winning three games from the Woodmen of the World on Monday night.

The match was moved ahead from Friday.

The match between the K. of C. and Outdoor Club, originally set for Christmas Day, will be held tonight at the Outdoor Club.

PLAYOFF RATED EVEN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Broadway oddsmakers have issued a "pick-'em" line on next Sunday's New York Giants - Cleveland Browns playoff game for the Eastern Division championship of the National Football League. That means the game is rated even in friendly man-to-man betting. In wagering with the bookie, however, a bettor must put up $11 to win $10 no matter which team he backs.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)—Australia, facing the loss of two more amateur aces, is trying to cripple pro tennis but it's a cinch to be a losing battle as long as there's a promoter like Jack Kramer around.

Kramer — and his predecessors —have been raiding the amateurs for more than 25 years and the raids will continue even if there's nothing left but the winter barnstorming circuit in the U.S.

If the ban goes through, the pros will be dead in the big areas of Australia, at Forest Hills, in New York, at Wimbledon in England, at Roland Garros in Paris—places in which the pros have been gaining a strong foothold.

Can't Stop Raids

"That means," Kramer advises, "we'll simply have to invest in portable equipment to set up for play where and when we can in the nearest available arena even if it's not a regular tennis center."

So the Aussies aren't going to stop the raids by Kramer, or his successors, for there still is plenty of loot to be passed out to any stickout amateur who is fed up with playing for "expense accounts".

Mervyn Rose of Australia already has turned pro this season and, shortly after they defend the Davis Cup late this month, top Aussies Ashley Cooper and Mal Anderson are likely to join up, too.

They'll only be the latest in a long line of "defectors" from Bill Tilden and Vincent Richards on down the line through Ellsworth Vines, Fred Perry, Don Budge, Bobby Riggs, Kramer, Pancho Segura, Pancho Gonzales, Tony Trabert, Frankie Parker, Frank Sedgman, Ken McGregor, Ken Rosewall, Rex Hartwig and Lew Hoad.

And all but the Johnny - come-latelys on that list did right well simply by barnstorming the U.S. from the big barns like Madison Square Garden to the whistle-stop in the prairies.

Hurts U. S. Team

Check that list and you'll find evidence to support the theory that without pro raids the U.S. would have an even greater stranglehold on the Davis Cup than the Aussies now have.

Until just lately, Kramer could handle any player in the world except Gonzales. A U.S. Davis Cup team of Kramer, Gonzales and Trabert probably could have held the Australians at bay all these years — just as they have against the leading Aussies who turned pro.

In recent years, however, Kramer has been treading on Australian toes in another manner and therein lies his current troubles.

With a big troupe to keep busy, Jack has devised a series of tournaments instead of straight barnstorming. The pro tournaments in Australia have proved to be box-office bonanzas in direct competition with the ameteurs.

That's why the Australian Lawn Tennis Association wants to bar the pros from amateur courts which have been giving undue aid to a mortal enemy in the popularity battle.

Oddly, the pros have fared badly in America's amateur shrine—Forest Hills. The tennis is superb, the crowds tiny.

But as long as they love the pros at the whistle - stops, the Aussies never will stop the pro raids on top amateurs.

Officials Are Named For Rose Bowl Game

The staff, as announced by Commissioner Kenneth L. Wilson of the Big Ten and Acing Commissioner Bernard Hammerbeck of the Pacific Coast Conference, includes:

SUBSTITUTE TV BOUT

CHICAGO (UPI) —The International Boxing Club Tuesday substituted a middleweight bout between seventh ranked Holly Mims and Bobby Boyd as the television fight in the Chicago Stadium Jan. 7. Originally light heavyweights Sunny Ray and Roque Maravilla were to feature the card, but Maraville lost last week in Boise, Idaho.

Colts To Scout Playoff Battle

Coaches To Attend Giants-Browns Tilt

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Colts aren't taking any chances on missing anything that will help against their opponent in the National Football League championship game on Dec. 28.

The entire five-man coaching staff headed by Weeb Ewbank will scout the Eastren Division playoff game Sunday between the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants.

"Maybe the game will break open early and show us which one we must play," said Ewbank. "Maybe it won't."

The Colt squad, idle since Sunday's final scheduled game, will return to practice Wednesday.

Kellett estimates the Colts will have 12,000 tickets if the game is in Cleveland and 10,000 in New York.

ASK DATE CHANGE

SEBRING, Fla. (UPI) Sebring race officials have asked that the first Grand Prix of the United States be held next fall rather than on March 22 as scheduled, it was announced Monday. Race director Alex Ulmann said a date is necessary to give European car builders more time to ship their vehicles to this country.

Hickey Named 49ers Coach

Assistant Given 3-Year Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Assistant Coach Howard (Red) Hickey Tuesday replaced Frankie Albert as head coach of the San Francisco 49ers, was given a three-year contract—and strongly hinted there would be a big shakeup among the players.

"I feel this club has the nucleus to become a winner but we need help," the 41-year-old Hickey said at a news conference.

"How good the club will be will depend upon the type of boys we come up with through our draft; it is my intention to go all out to get the best players and to be the best coach."

Albert quit as head coach Dec. 12, saying he loved his family more than football, and could not stand to see his wife and children suffer criticism.

Keyser And Potomac State Make League Debut Tonight

Moorefield To Host KHS In PVC Game

Hagerstown Junior College At Keyser For Tri-State Tilt

Keyser High School will make its season debut in the Potomac Valley Conference and Potomac State College will play its first game of the season in the Tri-State Junior College Athletic Association Basketball League tonight.

Coach John Shelton's Golden Tornado is scheduled to play the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets at Moorefield while Coach "Horse" Lough's Catamounts will test Hagerstown Junior College at Keyser.

Rated as a leading contender for PVC honors, Keyser High has engaged in two non-league games to date, defeating Beall, 67-54, while losing to Valley High's Black Knights, 54-53. Moorefield has engaged in three P.V.C. games, having beaten Wardensville, 52-29 and Circleville, 54-43 while suffering a 59-53 setback at the hands of Franklin High's Panthers.

Met In Tourney Finale

Potomac State opens a home-and-home series with Irv Easterday's cagers from Hagerstown who copped the Tri-State Junior College tournament last season by defeating the Keyserites in the finals, 71-68, after the Catamounts had disposed of Montgomery Junior College of Takoma Park, Md., and Shenandoah College of Dayton, Va. Other teams on the Cats' Tri-State loop schedule this season include Shenandoah, St. Mary's, Md., Montgomery, Baltimore Junior College and Catonsville.

Tonight's game will be the seventh of the campaign for the Loughmen who have won one and lost five.

Frostburg State Teachers College plays its third game in as many nights at home when it faces Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers College tonight.

Coach "Gus" Smith's Franklin High Panthers will be shooting for their fifth straight victory when they tackle Monterey High School in Virginia tonight. Franklin's latest win was over Green Bank on Monday night. The Monterey game originally was listed for Franklin but was transferred to the Virginians' court. The series finale is set for Franklin January 20.

North Battles South

Coach Mel Henry's North Hagerstown floormen will be angling for their fifth win in a row when they oppose Nick Scallion's winless South High Rebels in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League game tonight. South is 0-3 to date in non-league contests. The Hubs have beaten Allegany, 60-56, and Fort Hill, 59-40, in the league and knocked off Hancock and Waynesboro in independent tilts.

Vasquez, Perkins Fight At Capital

Their bout will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

A fair hitter, Vasquez scored 18 knockouts while winning 52 of his 68 fights. He lost 15 and had one draw. He was stopped only once, by Miguel Buricaga in 1955.

Perkins, who has had but 16 professional fights, seeks his fourth kayo. He won nine decisions and lost four. He never was stopped.

Bonus Wins At Pimlico

Session Ends Today, Bets Down 6 Per Cent

BALTIMORE, Dec. 16 (AP) — William E. Bridgeforth's Bonus ran true to form in the $3,500 Suburban Purse, featured sixth race on today's semi-final program at Pimlico, when he took the lead immediately after the start and won with room to spare.

Ridden by veteran Freddy Kratz, Bonus was not seriously threatened after the first furlongs and won by two-and-a-half lengths from Willy Schwab's Steverino. J. Graham Brown's tacking was third.

The ninth winner of the 29-day-old meeting for Kratz, Bonus paid only $5.20, $3.20 and $2.60 for $2 and was clocked for the five-and-a-half furlongs in 1:06 2/5.

Weather remained cold for the next-to-last program of the Maryland Jockey Club meeting and only 7,695 fans wagered $849,094 on eight races. The session will be completed tomorrow with a betting decrease of about six per cent below last year.

Pettit Leads NBA Scoring With 28.5

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks remained first in the National Basketball Association's individual scoring race Tuesday but Paul Arizin replaced Elgin Baylor in the runnerup spot.

Pettit led in total points with 684 and in average points per game with 28.5. Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors was second with 638 points and Baylor, rookie star for the Minneapolis Lakers, was third with 611. Each has averaged 25.5 points per game.

Dark Glove, 7-1 Shot, Takes 7th Race At Tropical

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—Dark Glove, responding to Lois Cook's strong urging was up in the closing strides to take a neck decision in the Hermis purse at Tropical Park today before 4,625 rain-soaked fans, a season low.

The O. S. Deming gelding, a $16.40 proposition in the betting, bested F. M. Prickett's Hammer Mill in 1:10 for six furlongs over a sloppy track.

Morrie Moss' Morrie A. was three quarters of a length behind Hammer Mill and three and a half lengths ahead of Gerald S. Colella's Admiral's Joy.

Licausi Injured, Will Be Lost To Racing For Year

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jockey Joe Licausi, 30, of New York won't be able to ride for at least a year, Dr David Weinberg reported Tuesday.

Licausi suffered a badly crushed leg and knee in a spill at Pimlico race track yesterday. Dr. Weinberg said x-rays showed he suffered fractures of his right thigh bone and knee injuries.

The doctor said the leg will be in a cast for six months.

Licausi was hurt in the second race when his horse, King's Fortune, collapsed while running last. The horse fell on top of the jockey after somersaulting.

Kell Replaces Ott

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers Tuesday added former infielder George Kell to their broadcasting staff, replacing Mel Ott who died of auto accident injuries last month.

Kell, 36, who retired from baseball competition after the 1957 season, worked as an announcer on the CBS game of the week during 1958. He was the Tigers third baseman from 1946 to 1952 and later played for the Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles.

Keyser And Potomac State Make League Debut Tonight

Moorefield To Host KHS In PVC Game

Hagerstown Junior College At Keyser For Tri-State Tilt

Keyser High School will make its season debut in the Potomac Valley Conference and Potomac State College will play its first game of the season in the Tri-State Junior College Athletic Association Basketball League tonight.

Coach John Shelton's Golden Tornado is scheduled to play the Moorefield High School Yellowjackets at Moorefield while Coach "Horse" Lough's Catamounts will test Hagerstown Junior College at Keyser.

Rated as a leading contender for PVC honors, Keyser High has engaged in two non-league games to date, defeating Beall, 67-54, while losing to Valley High's Black Knights, 54-53. Moorefield has engaged in three P.V.C. games, having beaten Wardensville, 52-29 and Circleville, 54-43 while suffering a 59-53 setback at the hands of Franklin High's Panthers.

Met In Tourney Finale

Potomac State opens a home-and-home series with Irv Easterday's cagers from Hagerstown who copped the Tri-State Junior College tournament last season by defeating the Keyserites in the finals, 71-68, after the Catamounts had disposed of Montgomery Junior College of Takoma Park, Md., and Shenandoah College of Dayton, Va. Other teams on the Cats' Tri-State loop schedule this season include Shenandoah, St. Mary's, Md., Montgomery, Baltimore Junior College and Catonsville.

Tonight's game will be the seventh of the campaign for the Loughmen who have won one and lost five.

Frostburg State Teachers College plays its third game in as many nights at home when it faces Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers College tonight.

Coach "Gus" Smith's Franklin High Panthers will be shooting for their fifth straight victory when they tackle Monterey High School in Virginia tonight. Franklin's latest win was over Green Bank on Monday night. The Monterey game originally was listed for Franklin but was transferred to the Virginians' court. The series finale is set for Franklin January 20.

North Battles South

Coach Mel Henry's North Hagerstown floormen will be angling for their fifth win in a row when they oppose Nick Scallion's winless South High Rebels in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League game tonight. South is 0-3 to date in non-league contests. The Hubs have beaten Allegany, 60-56, and Fort Hill, 59-40, in the league and knocked off Hancock and Waynesboro in independent tilts.

Vasquez, Perkins Fight At Capital

Their bout will be televised nationally by ABC at 10 p.m. e.s.t.

A fair hitter, Vasquez scored 18 knockouts while winning 52 of his 68 fights. He lost 15 and had one draw. He was stopped only once, by Miguel Buricaga in 1955.

Perkins, who has had but 16 professional fights, seeks his fourth kayo. He won nine decisions and lost four. He never was stopped.

Bonus Wins At Pimlico

Session Ends Today, Bets Down 6 Per Cent

BALTIMORE, Dec. 16 (AP) — William E. Bridgeforth's Bonus ran true to form in the $3,500 Suburban Purse, featured sixth race on today's semi-final program at Pimlico, when he took the lead immediately after the start and won with room to spare.

Ridden by veteran Freddy Kratz, Bonus was not seriously threatened after the first furlongs and won by two-and-a-half lengths from Willy Schwab's Steverino. J. Graham Brown's tacking was third.

The ninth winner of the 29-day-old meeting for Kratz, Bonus paid only $5.20, $3.20 and $2.60 for $2 and was clocked for the five-and-a-half furlongs in 1:06 2/5.

Steverino paid $4.80 and $3.60 and tacking $3.20.

Weather remained cold for the next-to-last program of the Maryland Jockey Club meeting and only 7,695 fans wagered $849,094 on eight races. The session will be completed tomorrow with a betting decrease of about six per cent below last year.

Pettit Leads NBA Scoring With 28.5

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks remained first in the National Basketball Association's individual scoring race Tuesday but Paul Arizin replaced Elgin Baylor in the runnerup spot.

Pettit led in total points with 684 and in average points per game with 28.5. Arizin of the Philadelphia Warriors was second with 638 points and Baylor, rookie star for the Minneapolis Lakers, was third with 611. Each has averaged 25.5 points per game.

George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons, defending champion in the scoring race, was fourth with 575 points and Jack Twyman of the Cincinnati Royals was fifth with 543.

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)— The University of Iowa's Rose Bowl party of 124 persons will leave in two planes Wednesday from the Cedar Rapids, airport for a nonstop flight to the West Coast. Fourteen wives of Hawkeye players are to make the trip.

Dark Glove, 7-1 Shot, Takes 7th Race At Tropical

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 16 (AP)—Dark Glove, responding to Lois Cook's strong urging was up in the closing strides to take a neck decision in the Hermis purse at Tropical Park today before 4,625 rain-soaked fans, a season low.

The O. S. Deming gelding, a $16.40 proposition in the betting, bested F. M. Prickett's Hammer Mill in 1:10 for six furlongs over a sloppy track.

Morrie Moss' Morrie A. was three quarters of a length behind Hammer Mill and three and a half lengths ahead of Gerald S. Colella's Admiral's Joy.

Licausi Injured, Will Be Lost To Racing For Year

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jockey Joe Licausi, 30, of New York won't be able to ride for at least a year, Dr David Weinberg reported Tuesday.

Licausi suffered a badly crushed leg and knee in a spill at Pimlico race track yesterday. Dr. Weinberg said x-rays showed he suffered fractures of his right thigh bone and knee injuries.

The doctor said the leg will be in a cast for six months.

Licausi was hurt in the second race when his horse, King's Fortune, collapsed while running last. The horse fell on top of the jockey after somersaulting.

Kell Replaces Ott

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers Tuesday added former infielder George Kell to their broadcasting staff, replacing Mel Ott who died of auto accident injuries last month.

Kell, 36, who retired from baseball competition after the 1957 season, worked as an announcer on the CBS game of the week during 1958. He was the Tigers third baseman from 1946 to 1952 and later played for the Boston Red Sox and Baltimore Orioles.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Give Yourself A Back Facial

Skirts are getting shorter and necklines for late day and evening are getting lower.

Low-cut dresses are part of the holiday fun. Unfortunately, though Dame Fashion can put more of your skin in full view, she can do little to make certain that your skin is free of blemishes.

Remember to give yourself a "back facial" with a long-handled brush each day, when you take time to relax in a tub of warm, billowing soapsuds. The woman who nurtures her face but neglects her all-over complexion reminds me of the ostrich with head in sand. Everyone sees the plumage except the owner.

By using your bath brush you can rid the tired skin pores of secreted wastes that would be detrimental to health and fastidiousness if not ousted. Also, you can provide the necessary stimulation that improves the color, texture and clarity of the body's complexion.

For body complexion and day-tired skin you've probably heard of using salt as a body rub, but have you ever tried it? It's one of the least expensive treatments yet one of the finest for every type of skin. Blemishes, sallowness, sluggish pores and rough spots are all dissuaded by the action of salt.

To make your skin glow anew follow these directions: Place a long bath mat on the floor beside the tub. Have handy a long-handled brush, a saucer of salt and a bottle of body lotion. Then take a long, hot bath.

When your skin is pink, step out—dripping on the mat. Drain the tub and start refilling it with tepid water. Now, lather your body brush and dip it into the salt. Gently rub the mixture onto your skin; re-soap and re-salt the brush as necessary. Be sure every inch of you is covered below the chin. Don't scrub, but use plenty of persuasive pressure. Pay special attention to elbows, wrists, heels and shoulders. When finished, return to the bath and rinse all salt off your body. Follow with a brisk rub with a not-too-soft towel. Use your body lotion, letting it dry on your body. Then rub down with a soft towel.

After just a few of these salt rub treatments you will have a glowing clean body complexion. But don't overdo — one salt rub a week is sufficient.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Barrie Chase is out of "Say One For Me" but only because she has been given a better chance. She had luncheon several times with Jack Cummings, who is producing the Cole Porter-Abe Burrows stage musical, "Can Can." Jack told Buddy Adler that he wanted Barrie for an important role but he didn't want her to have an unimportant part before he got around to filming "Can Can."

There are 13 other members in "Say One for Me," and Barrie who was to play herself had a relatively small part, so she has been taken off the picture with the chance of really going to town in the dance sequences in this picture for Jack Cummings productions. After all, dancing is her forte.

Deborah Kerr, now in London with her two little girls, has joined the list of stars dipping into their personal bank accounts to buy movie stories. (Wonder if she got the idea from her good friend, Cary Grant, just about the smartest businessman in our business?)

Anyway, Deborah has bought a comedy called "I Rode the Snubway", by Vivyan Hillary, a hilarious account of a London chorus girl who works and marries her way to becoming a duchess.

Debbie wants to do some lighter stories. She's pleased with the comedy she just finished with Rossano Brazzi, "Count Your Blessings", and after so many heavy dramas she'd made during the past two years, she's looking for laughs.

Talk about a switch in casting! Peter Lorre and Red Buttons, who are in the cast of "The Big Circus" really step out of their usual type casting. Red will play a pompous banker and Peter will play the clown. Now whoever though of Peter as a clown—He's usually the menace.

Red and Peter join the cast with Rhonda Fleming, Victor Mature, Vincent Price and Gilbert Roland for "Circus," with Irwin Allen set to produce and Joseph Newman to direct for United Artists.

I am very sorry for Debbie Power, Ty's widow, with all those stories printed about her and Rock Hudson. Debbie is heartbroken over them.

"I am seven months pregnant," she said. "Ty hasn't been dead a month, and yet they're saying that I have another man in my life. I am sorry, too, for Rock Hudson because it is very embarrassing for both of us. He was a good friend of Ty's and he's a good friend of mine, and if you don't see your friends when you're in trouble, whom do you see? Couldn't you please say marriage is the furtherest thing from my mind!"

As a rule I don't like to deny other reporters' stories because I make enough mistakes myself, but Debbie was in such a state I felt I must do something.

20th Century-Fox just won't take "no" for an answer—for Bishop Fulton J. Sheen to play himself in "Say One For Me." In reply to the studio's bid, his excellency replied that he is too busy at this time to take a trip to the West Coast, so the studio has now countered with a proposition that is not only flattering, but they hope irresistible.

Frank Tashlin, the director, is offering to fly Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds and Bob Wagner to New York between now and March 5th, at the bishop's convenience, and to duplicate the set in which he will appear, at a New York studio, if he'll only say "yes" to their deal.

It's purely selfish on my part but I hope Michael Curtiz doesn't desert Hollywood for Broadway to direct Donald O'Connor and Jeanmaire in 'C'est la Vie", which incidentally would be the first show Mike ever directed on Broadway. I say I hope Mike doesn't go away for he's a close and dear friend, plus being one of the funniest men, consciously and unconsciously, in movietown. We would really miss him.

So eager are producers Charles Peck and composer Walter Scharf to get Curtiz for "C'est la Vie" that they will delay rehearsals until June, so he has a chance to think it over. Have you noticed how New York is bidding for Hollywood talent this year?

Television and Radio

Murder With A Moral

"No crime ever shocked the public more deeply," said Eric Sevareid, the narrator of Playhouse 90's gripping, unsentimental, and marvelously thorough recapitulation of the St. Valentine's Day massacre which might have been called "The Plot to Kill Bugs Moran."

This is the second of these documentary murder stories to be done on Playhouse 90 this year, the first one being the highly theoretical and thoroughly absorbing story of Stalin's death, which drew a thundering denunciation from the Soviet Union. This one opened with a shot of a street, the snow drifting down, and a couple of hoodlums being led away at gunpoint by a couple of phoney cops. This was the last scene in the marvelously planned assassination of Bugs Moran which was marred by only one tiny flaw. Seven men died against the wall of that Chicago garage but Moran wasn't one of them. A small error in identification by two lookouts posted across the street, a little delay in Moran's schedule which neither Moran nor Machine Gun Jack McGurn could possibly have foreseen—and the plot went agley.

"From the end of the story, the drama named "Seven Against the Wall" flashed back to its beginning—a board meeting of the very top echelon of Al Capone's crime empire with Sevareid's off-camera voice quietly introducing and explaining the cast of characters from Machine Gun Jack McGurn, top triggerman and pretty boy who planned the massacre, to the chairman of the board, known to his mobsters as The Man or the Big Boy, Capone himself.

Right from the outset you get the idea this was big, big television. There was a spaciousness to the sets, to the streets, to the size of cost, to the very scope of the enterprise. The action switched from Capone's board room to Moran's apartment and then, in a telling scene, to an ordinary speakeasy where a couple of Moran's bully boys tormented a bartender, broke his glassware, drained his beer.

You got some idea of the helplessness of the ordinary citizen against this crime cartel. A moment later, the feeling was strengthened when a cop, frisking McGurn, says: "Oh, Mr. McGurn," and gives him back his gun, with the remark: "Sorry, I didn't recognize you." The gangsters were king then and all cops were terribly respectful. One is tempted to say that this was the shame of the '20s. Until you pause to think that the '20s sent Capone finally to jail and McGurn and Moran to death.

Says Capone: "Aaah, the hell with the public. The public is the guy who wants his glass of beer and his highball"—and orders the assassination. He was wrong about that. The Valentine's Day killing, as Sevareid pointed out, marked the beginning of the end of the public's tolerance of Al Capone. Within three months he was in jail and he spent about half the rest of his life in jail.

From there the story picked up speed and guts. McGurn was made chief of operations and his meticulous planning was a marvel of organization. The fake hijack of a Capone truck was a master stroke resembling as it did the Trojan Horse, which was perhaps its model. "This was a team of experts," Sevareid says of the murder squad, "each man selected for a special talent. The idea of disguising a pair of the killers as cops was another master stroke of irony. Not only did it work—because who was afraid of cops?—but it must have afforded Chairman of the Board Capone some rich amusement.

It was all richly detailed—who did what to whom and just how and when, as behooves the recording of an historic and important event. "Everything has been done, everything that experience and ingenuity can devise," said Sevareid. The meticulous planning, the observation nest across the street from the murder garage, the lines of communication, the exact replica of a police car, even the weather report.

The final operation was a little like the blowing up of the bridge in "Bridge on the River Kwai." You knew it was going to happen, but watching it unfold was agonizingly suspenseful. The final touch of irony—the fact that the one guy it was all planned for missed the party by sheer accident—was a delightfully piquant touch. I'm happy, too, that Sevareid ended the proceedings with the wry admission that today "twenty-five years later gang operations are more flagrant than ever."

I have a few small complaints. The writing was a marvel of journalism but, as dramaturgy, it was painfully ordinary, lacking distinction and characterization. Only Capone and McGurn emerged very clearly as people. Also, the hard bright aroma of the '20s—its speech and bounce and bite—was totally missing. Apart from that, everyone connected with it deserves a low bow, especially Franklin Shaffner for his clean, swift, and economical direction, and John Houseman for his extravagantly handsome production. Incidentally, without a single big name in the cast, the acting was just splendid.

Behind The News In Business

by Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — Louis Wolfson, the Florida operator, got the publicity but he h plenty of company as a wrong guesser on the stock market. There is a stubborn short interest of more than 4 million shares on the Stock Exchange.

Wolfson, with two representatives on the board of American Motors, went short of the stock early in the spring at $11, after selling out his 430,000 share holdings around that price. He had paid $7 for his stock.

American Motors went up and up, hitting $36.75. Wolfson covered his short position around $28. He couldn't have been more wrong.

He got in trouble with the SEC when spokesmen gave a false picture of his market position. He was reported by a spokesman as in the process of selling his investment, when as a matter of fact he had sold out all his shares and gone short in a big way.

Wolfson's wrong guess was a $12 million one. He lost $1½ million on his short sales and missed out on a paper profit of $10½ million by failing to stick with his original investment.

Wolfson figured business was going into a tailspin last spring and so would the stock market. He was wrong on both counts. Business hit bottom in April and the stock market went on to new highs, and is again knocking around its all-time peak after a recent sharp sell off.

The short position on the Stock Exchange in the middle of last March was 4,460,600 shares — the biggest figure at that time since September 1931.

The latest figures, covering the middle of November, show a short position of 4,890,991 shares — a gain of 430,331 shares since March. The short position has been higher this year, crossing 6 million shares in July.

Here's what happened in the stock market between these dates. The Dow, Jones industrial price average has gone from 453.04 — where it closed March 14, a Friday — to above 570. It is currently close to that peak. Current prices represent a gain of more than 110 points, or nearly 25 per cent.

The shorts have taken a terrific trimming. In some of the stocks a virtual corner exists. Polaroid is one. The short position in this stock was 122,967 shares the middle of March when the stock was around $63. It is currently around $104. The short position is down some to 81,443 shares.

There is a stubborn short interest in U. S. Steel. This was 315,652 in March and has since come down to 213,021 shares, but the wrong guessers have paid high all the way along. The stock was around $60 and is currently close to $90.

Studebaker-Packard is another one. From 17,793 shares in March the short position has grown to 455,084 shares. The stock in March was around $3.12½ and has since gone to $16, and is currently around $13.50.

Some of these short side losses are being long term ones—more than 6 months

Reveille Signal For Tea In Bed

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctic (AP) — Reveille, an annoying sound on any continent, is being softened at the South Pole by a cup of tea in bed.

Personnel at the U.S. scientific station there were pleasantly pulled out of sleep the other day by members of the night crew bearing cups of tea.

Disperse Villagers

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (UPI) — Police charged with swinging clubs Tuesday to disperse 2,000 angry villagers who tried to destroy a railroad line because they wanted a highway built. Twelve demonstrators were reported injured in the clash at the nearby rail junction of San Gregorio.

Strip Liner

LE HAVRE, France (UPI) — Workmen started stripping the liner Ile de France Tuesday to prepare it for the scrap heap. The ship, onetime pride of France's transatlantic passenger fleet and a World War II troopship, ended its 32-year career last month.

BAN NEWSPAPER

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — The English-language Daily Times of Indonesia has been banned for an indefinite period because of an article considered "harmful to the good name of the country," the Jakarta military command announced Tuesday. The announcement said the ban went into effect Saturday but did not identify the offending article.

POPE'S SCHOOLMATE DIES

ROME (UPI) — Police Tuesday reported the death of 80-year-old Luigi Pellegrino who had walked 350 miles to see his old schoolmate, Pope John XXIII. Pellegrino was the victim of a heart attack in a hostel in Maccarese, 20 miles west of Rome.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North

4 ♦	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥.

Today's hand resembles a chess battle wherein East and South contrived strokes and counter-strokes to foil each other with the honors finally going to the defender.

The final contract was reached very logically and lest anyone question North's jump raise on three small trumps it should be noted that South was assumed to have a good five card suit as part of his vulnerable overcall.

West opened the queen of hearts. East saw that unless a ruff could be obtained there was no hope for the defense, whereupon he overtook West's queen and returned the deuce of clubs. It was, of course, his intention to run up with the ace on the first lead of trumps, put partner in by means of the jack of hearts and obtain the necessary ruff.

His purpose did not escape declarer, who improvised a method to prevent East from reaching partner's hand. That East held the high diamonds as well as the ace of hearts seemed very likely. South therefore led a diamond to his hand and returned to the dummy's king. Then came the nine of diamonds, and when East covered with the 10, South declined to ruff, discarding his remaining heart instead.

This put an end to East's aspirations for a ruff, for there was no way to reach partner's hand. However, another line of defense suggested itself. It depended upon West having at least three spades headed by the nine. East continued with a fourth round of diamonds. South was compelled to ruff with an honor, and lead a spade honor from his hand. East won with the ace, returned the fifth round of diamonds, and declarer was helpless, for he could not prevent West from scoring a trick with the nine of trumps.

Learn to use a bath brush and a salt rub correctly.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Give Yourself A Back Facial

Skirts are getting shorter and necklines for late day and evening are getting lower.

Low-cut dresses are part of the holiday fun. Unfortunately, though Dame Fashion can put more of your skin in full view, she can do little to make certain that your skin is free of blemishes.

Remember to give yourself a "back facial" with a long-handled brush each day, when you take time to relax in a tub of warm, billowing soapsuds. The woman who nurtures her face but neglects her all-over complexion reminds me of the ostrich with head in sand. Everyone sees the plumage except the owner.

By using your bath brush you can rid the tired skin pores of secreted wastes that would be detrimental to health and fastidiousness if not ousted. Also, you can provide the necessary stimulation that improves the color, texture and clarity of the body's complexion.

For body complexion and day-tired skin you've probably heard of using salt as a body rub, but have you ever tried it? It's one of the least expensive treatments yet one of the finest for every type of skin. Blemishes, sallowness, sluggish pores and rough spots are all dissuaded by the action of salt.

To make your skin glow anew follow these directions: Place a long bath mat on the floor beside the tub. Have handy a long-handled brush, a saucer of salt and a bottle of body lotion. Then take a long, hot bath.

When your skin is pink, step out—dripping on the mat. Drain the tub and start refilling it with tepid water. Now, lather your body brush and dip it into the salt. Gently rub the mixture onto your skin; re-soap and re-salt the brush as necessary. Be sure every inch of you is covered below the chin. Don't scrub, but use plenty of persuasive pressure. Pay special attention to elbows, wrists, heels and shoulders. When finished, return to the bath and rinse all salt off your body. Follow with a brisk rub with a not-too-soft towel. Use your body lotion, letting it dry on your body. Then rub down with a soft towel.

After just a few of these salt rub treatments you will have a glowing clean body complexion. But don't overdo — one salt rub a week is sufficient.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Barrie Chase is out of "Say One For Me" but only because she has been given a better chance. She had luncheon several times with Jack Cummings, who is producing the Cole Porter-Abe Burrows stage musical, "Can Can." Jack told Buddy Adler that he wanted Barrie for an important role but he didn't want her to have an unimportant part before he got around to filming "Can Can."

There are 13 other members in "Say One for Me," and Barrie who was to play herself had a relatively small part, so she has been taken off the picture with the chance of really going to town in the dance sequences in this picture for Jack Cummings productions. After all, dancing is her forte.

Deborah Kerr, now in London with her two little girls, has joined the list of stars dipping into their personal bank accounts to buy movie stories. (Wonder if she got the idea from her good friend, Cary Grant, just about the smartest businessman in our business?)

Anyway, Deborah has bought a comedy called "I Rode the Snubway", by Vivyan Hillary, a hilarious account of a London chorus girl who works and marries her way to becoming a duchess.

Debbie wants to do some lighter stories. She's pleased with the comedy she just finished with Rossano Brazzi, "Count Your Blessings", and after so many heavy dramas she'd made during the past two years, she's looking for laughs.

Talk about a switch in casting! Peter Lorre and Red Buttons, who are in the cast of "The Big Circus" really step out of their usual type casting. Red will play a pompous banker and Peter will play the clown. Now whoever though of Peter as a clown—He's usually the menace.

Red and Peter join the cast with Rhonda Fleming, Victor Mature, Vincent Price and Gilbert Roland for "Circus," with Irwin Allen set to produce and Joseph Newman to direct for United Artists.

I am very sorry for Debbie Power, Ty's widow, with all those stories printed about her and Rock Hudson. Debbie is heartbroken over them.

"I am seven months pregnant," she said. "Ty hasn't been dead a month, and yet they're saying that I have another man in my life. I am sorry, too, for Rock Hudson because it is very embarrassing for both of us. He was a good friend of Ty's and he's a good friend of mine, and if you don't see your friends when you're in trouble, whom do you see? Couldn't you please say marriage is the furtherest thing from my mind!"

As a rule I don't like to deny other reporters' stories because I make enough mistakes myself, but Debbie was in such a state I felt I must do something.

20th Century-Fox just won't take "no" for an answer—for Bishop Fulton J. Sheen to play himself in "Say One For Me." In reply to the studio's bid, his excellency replied that he is too busy at this time to take a trip to the West Coast, so the studio has now countered with a proposition that is not only flattering, but they hope irresistible.

Frank Tashlin, the director, is offering to fly Bing Crosby, Debbie Reynolds and Bob Wagner to New York between now and March 5th, at the bishop's convenience, and to duplicate the set in which he will appear, at a New York studio, if he'll only say "yes" to their deal.

It's purely selfish on my part but I hope Michael Curtiz doesn't desert Hollywood for Broadway to direct Donald O'Connor and Jeanmaire in 'C'est la Vie", which incidentally would be the first show Mike ever directed on Broadway. I say I hope Mike doesn't go away for he's a close and dear friend, plus being one of the funniest men, consciously and unconsciously, in movietown. We would really miss him.

So eager are producers Charles Peck and composer Walter Scharf to get Curtiz for "C'est la Vie" that they will delay rehearsals until June, so he has a chance to think it over. Have you noticed how New York is bidding for Hollywood talent this year?

Television and Radio

Murder With A Moral

"No crime ever shocked the public more deeply" said Eric Sevareid, the narrator of Playhouse 90's gripping, unsentimental, and marvelously thorough recapitulation of the St. Valentine's Day massacre which might have been called "The Plot to Kill Bugs Moran."

This is the second of these documentary murder stories to be done on Playhouse 90 this year, the first one being the highly theoretical and thoroughly absorbing story of Stalin's death, which drew a thundering denunciation from the Soviet Union. This one opened with a shot of a street, the snow drifting down, and a couple of hoodlums being led away at gunpoint by a couple of phoney cops. This was the last scene in the marvelously planned assassination of Bugs Moran which was marred by only one tiny flaw. Seven men died against the wall of that Chicago garage but Moran wasn't one of them. A small error in identification by two lookouts posted across the street, a little delay in Moran's schedule which neither Moran nor Machine Gun Jack McGurn could possibly have foreseen—and the plot went agley.

"From the end of the story, the drama named "Seven Against the Wall" flashed back to its beginning—a board meeting of the very top echelon of Al Capone's crime empire with Sevareid's off-camera voice quietly introducing and explaining the cast of characters from Machine Gun Jack McGurn, top triggerman and pretty boy who planned the massacre, to the chairman of the board, known to his mobsters as The Man or the Big Boy, Capone himself.

Right from the outset you get the idea this was big, big television. There was a spaciousness to the sets, to the streets, to the size of cost, to the very scope of the enterprise. The action switched from Capone's board room to Moran's apartment and then, in a telling scene, to an ordinary speakeasy where a couple of Moran's bully boys tormented a bartender, broke his glassware, drained his beer.

You got some idea of the helplessness of the ordinary citizen against this crime cartel. A moment later, the feeling was strengthened when a cop, frisking McGurn, says: "Oh, Mr. McGurn," and gives him back his gun, with the remark: "Sorry, I didn't recognize you." The gangsters were king then and all cops were terribly respectful. One is tempted to say that this was the shame of the '20s. Until you pause to think that the '20s sent Capone finally to jail and McGurn and Moran to death.

Says Capone: "Aaah, the hell with the public. The public is the guy who wants his glass of beer and his highball"—and orders the assassination. He was wrong about that. The Valentine's Day killing, as Sevareid pointed out, marked the beginning of the end of the public's tolerance of Al Capone. Within three months he was in jail and he spent about half the rest of his life in jail.

From there the story picked up speed and guts. McGurn was made chief of operations and his meticulous planning was a marvel of organization. The fake hijack of a Capone truck was a master stroke resembling as it did the Trojan Horse, which was perhaps its model. "This was a team of experts," Sevareid says of the murder squad, "each man selected for a special talent. The idea of disguising a pair of the killers as cops was another master stroke of irony. Not only did it work—because who was afraid of cops?—but it must have afforded Chairman of the Board Capone some rich amusement.

It was all richly detailed—who did what to whom and just how and when, as behooves the recording of an historic and important event. "Everything has been done, everything that experience and ingenuity can devise," said Sevareid. The meticulous planning, the observation nest across the street from the murder garage, the lines of communication, the exact replica of a police car, even the weather report.

The final operation was a little like the blowing up of the bridge in "Bridge on the River Kwai." You knew it was going to happen, but watching it unfold was agonizingly suspenseful. The final touch of irony—the fact that the one guy it was all planned for missed the party by sheer accident—was a delightfully piquant touch. I'm happy, too, that Sevareid ended the proceedings with the wry admission that today "twenty-five years later gang operations are more flagrant than ever."

I have a few small complaints. The writing was a marvel of journalism but, as dramaturgy, it was painfully ordinary, lacking distinction and characterization. Only Capone and McGurn emerged very clearly as people. Also, the hard bright aroma of the '20s—its speech and bounce and bite—was totally missing. Apart from that, everyone connected with it deserves a low bow, especially Franklin Shaffner for his clean, swift, and economical direction, and John Houseman for his extravagantly handsome production. Incidentally, without a single big name in the cast, the acting was just splendid.

Reveille Signal For Tea In Bed

MCMURDO SOUND, Antarctic (AP) — Reveille, an annoying sound on any continent, is being softened at the South Pole by a cup of tea in bed.

Personnel at the U.S. scientific station there were pleasantly pulled out of sleep the other day by members of the night crew bearing cups of tea.

Disperse Villagers

REGGIO CALABRIA, Italy (UPI) — Police charged with swinging clubs Tuesday to disperse 2,000 angry villagers who tried to destroy a railroad line because they wanted a highway built. Twelve demonstrators were reported injured in the clash at the nearby rail junction of San Gregorio.

Strip Liner

LE HAVRE, France (UPI) — Workmen started stripping the liner Ile de France Tuesday to prepare it for the scrap heap. The ship, onetime pride of France's transatlantic passenger fleet and a World War II troopship, ended its 32-year career last month.

BAN NEWSPAPER

JAKARTA, Indonesia (UPI) — The English-language Daily Times of Indonesia has been banned for an indefinite period because of an article considered "harmful to the good name of the country," the Jakarta military command announced Tuesday. The announcement said the ban went into effect Saturday but did not identify the offending article.

POPE'S SCHOOLMATE DIES

ROME (UPI) — Police Tuesday reported the death of 80-year-old Luigi Pellegrino who had walked 350 miles to see his old schoolmate, Pope John XXIII. Pellegrino was the victim of a heart attack in a hostel in Maccarese, 20 miles west of Rome.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	3 ♠
4 ♦	4 ♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♥.

Today's hand resembles a chess battle wherein East and South contrived strokes and counter-strokes to foil each other with the honors finally going to the defender.

The final contract was reached very logically and lest anyone question North's jump raise on three small trumps it should be noted that South was assumed to have a good five card suit as part of his vulnerable overcall.

West opened the queen of hearts. East saw that unless a ruff could be obtained there was no hope for the defense, whereupon he overtook West's queen and returned the deuce of clubs. It was, of course, his intention to run up with the ace on the first lead of trumps, put partner in by means of the jack of hearts and obtain the necessary ruff.

His purpose did not escape declarer, who improvised a method to prevent East from reaching partner's hand. That East held the high diamonds as well as the ace of hearts seemed very likely. South therefore led a diamond to his hand and returned to the dummy's king. Then came the nine of diamonds, and when East covered with the 10, South declined to ruff, discarding his remaining heart instead.

This put an end to East's aspirations for a ruff, for there was no way to reach partner's hand. However, another line of defense suggested itself. It depended upon West having at least three spades headed by the nine. East continued with a fourth round of diamonds. South was compelled to ruff with an honor, and lead a spade honor from his hand. East won with the ace, returned the fifth round of diamonds, and declarer was helpless, for he could not prevent West from scoring a trick with the nine of trumps.

Behind The News In Business

by Leslie Gould

NEW YORK — Louis Wolfson, the Florida operator, got the publicity but he h plenty of company as a wrong guesser on the stock market. There is a stubborn short interest of more than 4 million shares on the Stock Exchange.

Wolfson, with two representatives on the board of American Motors, went short of the stock early in the spring at $11, after selling out his 430,000 share holdings around that orice. He had paid $7 for his stock.

American Motors went up and up, hitting $36.75. Wolfson covered his short position around $26. He couldn't have been more wrong.

He got in trouble with the SEC when spokesmen gave a false picture of his market position. He was reported by a spokesman as in the process of selling his investment, when as a matter of fact he had sold out all his shares and gone short in a big way.

Wolfson's wrong guess was a $12 million one. He lost $1½ million on his short sales and missed out on a paper profit of $10½ million by failing to stick with his original investment.

Wolfson figured business was going into a tailspin last spring and so would the stock market. He was wrong on both counts. Business hit bottom in April and the stock market went on to new highs, and is again knocking around its all-time peak after a recent sharp sell off.

The short position on the Stock Exchange in the middle of last March was 4,460,600 shares — the biggest figure at that time since September 1931.

The latest figures, covering the middle of November, show a short position of 4,890,991 shares — a gain of 430,331 shares since March. The short position has been higher this year, crossing 6 million shares in July.

Here's what happened in the stock market between these dates. The Dow, Jones industrial price average has gone from 453.04 — where it closed March 14, a Friday — to above 570. It is currently close to that peak. Current prices represent a gain of more than 110 points, or nearly 25 per cent.

The shorts have taken a terrific trimming. In some of the stocks a virtual corner exists. Polaroid is one. The short position in this stock was 122,967 shares the middle of March when the stock was around $63. It is currently around $104. The short position is down some to 81,443 shares.

There is a stubborn short interes. in U. S. Steel. This was 315,652 in March and has since come down to 213,021 shares, but the wrong guessers have paid high all the way along. The stock was around $60 and is currently close to $90.

Studebaker-Packard is another one. From 17,793 shares in March the short position has grown to 455,084 shares. The stock in March was around $3.12½ and has since gone to $16, and is currently around $13.50.

Some of these short side losses are being long term ones—more than 6 months

INVITATION FOR BIDS

The Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland will receive bids for furnishing all materials, equipment, and labor necessary for demolition and clearing of site as specified, and related items necessary to complete the work on Project MD 5-3 until 3:00 P. M. (S. T.) on the 29th day of December, 1958, at First Street and Memorial Avenue, at which time and place all bids will be publicly opened.

Proposed forms of Contract Documents, including drawings and specifications are on file at the office of S. Russ Minter, Architect, at 72 Persning Street, Cumberland, Maryland.

Copies of the documents may be obtained by depositing $10.00 with S. Russ Minter, Architect, for each set of documents so obtained. Such deposit will be refunded to each person who returns the drawings, specifications and other documents in good condition within 10 days after bid opening.

A certified check or bank draft, payable to the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, U. S. Government bonds, or a satisfactory bid bond executed by the bidder and acceptable sureties in the amount of 15% of the bid shall be submitted with each bid.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish and pay for satisfactory performance and payment bond or bonds.

Attention is called to the fact that not less than the minimum salaries and wages as set forth in the Specifications must be paid on this project.

The Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, Maryland reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any informalities in the bidding.

No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of thirty (30) days subsequent to the opening of bids without the consent of the Housing Authority of the City of Cumberland, Maryland.

Jimmy Brown Leads In Ground Gaining

LeBaron, the quick-handed quarterback of the Washington Redskins, wound up the season with a log of 79 completions in 145 attempts for a 9.41 average gain. He connected for 11 touchdowns and posted a 54.5 pass completion percentage.

Brown, who had the ground gaining title won as early as four weeks ago when he passed Steve Van Buren's old record mark of 1,146 yards for a season, finished with 1,527 yards gained on 257 runs. He averaged 5.9 yards per try.

Other departments included:

Pass receiving — Ray Berry of Baltimore and Pete Retzlaff of the Philadelphia Eagles tied with 56 catches each, Berry gained 794 yards and Retzlaff 766.

Bulldogs Score 29 In Fourth Quarter

ELK GARDEN, W. Va. — Outscoring their opponents 29 to 13 in the final quarter, Bruce High's Bulldogs notched their second win of the season here last night by turning back the Elk Garden Stags, 64-60.

Bruce, which has lost once, trailed 47-35 going into the final eight minutes, but held the winless Stags in check over the final heat. The loss was the third for Elk Garden.

Biv Wiltison led the Bruce attack with 22 points and was followed by teammate Bob Kalbaugh, who meshed 16. Jerold Milovec was the "big gun" of the evening, sinking 23 tallies. Danny Milovec was runnerup for the losers with 15.

The Bulldogs converted on 16 of 18 foul shots with Kalbaugh putting in a 10 for 10 performance at the charity stripe. Lineups:

Old Sub Breaks Loose From Tow, Vanishes

The 500-ton submarine, called the Virulent when she did service in the British navy, broke loose as she was being towed from Malta to England. No one was aboard.

The British Iron & Steel Corp., Ltd., which purchased the old campaigner, said a tug was searching for the wayward submarine, but was hampered by a northerly gale.

West Virginia Wins Over Spiders, 98-67

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) —Jerry West and Bob Smith ran wild Tuesday night as West Virginia posted a 98-67 Southern Conference basketball victory over undermanned Richmond.

West scored 29 points and Smith 23 before they left the game with some 14 minutes remaining in the second half. By that time, the Mountaineers were coasting along with a 70-41 lead on their way to their sixth win in seven starts.

The victory was the fourth consecutive of the season in the conference for West Virginia and 40th in a row in the league since 1956. It also marked the 26th consecutive on the home floor.

LeBaron Tops National Grid Loop Passers

Jimmy Brown Leads In Ground Gaining

LeBaron, the quick-handed quarterback of the Washington Redskins, wound up the season with a log of 79 completions in 145 attempts for a 9.41 average gain. He connected for 11 touchdowns and posted a 54.5 pass completion percentage.

Brown, who had the ground gaining title won as early as four weeks ago when he passed Steve Van Buren's old record mark of 1,146 yards for a season, finished with 1,527 yards gained on 257 runs. He averaged 5.9 yards per try.

Behind Brown in the ground gaining department came Baltimore's Alan Ameche, 791 yards on 171 attempts for a 4.6 average.

Other departments included:

Pass receiving — Ray Berry of Baltimore and Pete Retzlaff of the Philadelphia Eagles tied with 56 catches each, Berry gained 794 yards and Retzlaff 766.

Old Sub Breaks Loose From Tow, Vanishes

The 500-ton submarine, called the Virulent when she did service in the British navy, broke loose as she was being towed from Malta to England. No one was aboard.

The British Iron & Steel Corp., Ltd., which purchased the old campaigner, said a tug was searching for the wayward submarine, but was hampered by a northerly gale.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Judge Harris Sentences Two For "Muggings"

Flynn And Keller Draw Year Each

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday meted out sentences of one year in the Maryland Reformatory for Males to two young men who figured in three "muggings" here on November 6.

Scheduled to be taken to the institution today are George Robert Keller, 23, of 239 Henderson Avenue, and Robert E. Flynn Jr., 22, of Washington, formerly of here.

Pleaded Guilty

On November 26 the accused men entered pleas of guilty to assault and robbery when they were tried in Allegany County Circuit Court on criminal informations filed by the State's Attorney's office.

The two men waived their right to indictment by a grand jury and were tried on the criminal informations. Victims of the "muggings" were Joseph A. McKenzie, 74, of 208 Columbia Street; James G. Zink, 47, of 619 North Mechanic Street, and Herman Dicken, 59, of 219 Bedford Street.

Mr. MeeKnzie the most seriously injured, was hospitalized for two weeks and suffered fractures of the facial bones and nose and the sight of his left eye has been impaired. Keller and Flynn pleaded guilty to robbing Mr. McKenzie and Mr. Dicken and to assault with intent to rob Mr. Zink.

The two men yesterday were sentenced to one year in the institution on all three informations and the terms are to run concurrently beginning November 7. Keller was committed to the county jail on that date while Flynn was committed on November 11.

Papers Signed

Committment papers signed by Judge Harris included a pre-sentence investigation report from David M. Steele, probation officer, and copies of psychiatric reports of Dr. Richard W. Trevaskis Jr.

The reports indicated the need of psychiatric treatment for both the men. Judge Harris recommended that after the two prisoners are processed at the institution that doctors should determine if they should not be sent to the Patuxent Institution for treatment.

Students Decorate Scout House

Post Office Concerned By Lag In Mail

Last-Minute Rush May Delay Delivery

Postal officials, unable to explain the severe lag in holiday mail this year, are concerned that a last-minute rush may swamp the Cumberland Post Office and result in Christmas mail and packages not reaching their destinations in time.

Yesterday's concellations compared to 145,000 on the same Tuesday in 1957, postal authorities noted. This meant that the mail handle was more than 200,000 pieces behind the comparable period a year ago.

If the present pace for mailing continues through Christmas week, the Post Office said, there will be a lot of letters and packages which won't be delivered in time for the holiday.

The week before Christmas in 1957 found cancellations as high as 154,000 in one day before the mail rush began to taper off as the holiday approached. This enabled the Post Office to handle and deliver all mail on time, postal officials said. A normal day's handle is around 22,000 cancellations, they added.

On Saturday before Christmas last year there were 64,400 cancellations; 30,100 on Sunday; 54,900 on Monday and Tuesday (the day before Christmas in 1957) 19,800.

Christmas falls a day later this year and postal officials are hopeful the heavy influx of mailing will begin soon to avoid the late tie-ups which will result in delay of the delivery of the mail.

One official explained that no matter how much extra help is placed on duty in the Post Office it still takes an experienced man to handle the final steps in the distribution of the mail and this is where the greatest delay can develop.

Speculation as to whether the public is just lax this season or whether the increase in the mailing rates is the cause is being voiced among postal officials.

Aid Is Sought For Family That Lost Home In Fire

Residents of Flintstone are undertaking a drive seeking clothing and furniture for the family of Robert Heavner of Town Creek Road, whose home and belongings were destroyed by fire early Saturday morning.

Firemen said the father and four young children were still in bed when the fire was discovered by Mrs. Heavner and the family escaped to safety in below-freezing temperatures.

Besides their belongings the family lost $1,700 cash which was in an upstairs room, about $200 worth of Christmas toys, presents and clothing, as well as a supply of canned goods, potatoes and apples stored in the basement of the two-story frame farm house.

The origin of the fire is undetermined according to Cleo Helmick, one of the volunteer firemen of Flintstone who responded to the blaze which occured about 7:30 a. m.

The firemen said the blaze started in the kitchen and the flames ate their way up through the partition to the second floor and the entire upstairs was almost in flames before the fire was discovered by Mrs. Heavner.

Her husband and four small children were still in bed at the time and they were fortunate in escaping from the burning dwelling. Firemen said they managed to save a refrigerator, china closet, and chair from the kitchen and when they went back into the house to get the television set the ceiling of the front room collapsed.

About 12 or 15 volunteers took the Flintstone Fire Company's two pumpers to the fire but were unable to save the home and concentrated in wetting down two other buildings in the immediate area. A barn across the road from the burning home was not damaged.

Mr. Helmick, driver of one of the pumpers, said that the fire was visible across a meadow about a mile away and the roof was in flames. The damage is partially covered by insurance, according to Mr. Heavner.

He and his family are staying temporarily at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fletcher, who live in the Martin Mountain area. Mr. Heavner, said his father had given him $1,700 on Friday night, proceeds from the sale of some cattle.

Volunteer firemen of Flintstone will accept clothing and furniture for the Heavner family.

State Bonus Plan To Be Formulated

Commission Will Convene Friday

A big step toward getting a bonus for Maryland veterans will be taken on Friday night at the City Hall in Baltimore when 15 members of a special Veterans Commission take action favoring the bonus and outline specific means by which the necessary funds will be raised.

Del. Noel Speir Cook, of Frostburg, a member of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly, is one of the 15 members of the commission set up by the 1958 Legislature.

The meeting on Friday will begin at 7:30 p.m., according to Delegate Cook, who said last night that the recommendations will be drawn up for presentation to the Legislature which convenes at Annapolis next month.

The big question — where will the money come from? A number of sources of revenue will be submitted in the commission's findings, Delegate Cook said.

In recent months, meetings have been held with veterans organizations throughout Maryland to learn the feeling of veterans toward the bonus. All meetings ended in favor of a bonus.

Delegate Cook said the bonus per individual would not be in excess of $500 with $10 for each month of service stateside and $15 for each month out of the country.

A soldier's bonus bill introduced in the Legislature would be subject to a referendum by the residents of Maryland. Two meetings on the bonus question were held in Cumberland and were attended by members of veterans organizations.

Estimated cost of the bonus would be $100,000,000 including about $10,000 for administrative costs.

Trucker Dies In Parking Lot Accident

John Lee Crushed By Truck At Bedford

A 36-year-old Indiana truck driver was crushed to death last night when he was run over by a backing tractor-trailer rig at a service station on U. S. 220 at the Bedford interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

John A. Lee, Pendleton, Ind., was pronounced dead on arrival at Bedford County Memorial Hospital where he was taken shortly after the accident at 7:30 p. m.

Pennsylvania State Police said Lee was struck by the huge tractor-trailer which was backing into a parking lot at the Como Service Station. They said Lee apparently was walking across the parking lot at the time.

The rig was driven by Edward Weber Bell Jr., 37, of Harrisburg, Pa., who told police he did not see Lee in the darkness of the lot and did not realize he had struck the man until the heavy vehicle had passed over the victim's body.

Federal Aid To Education Is Discussed

The possibility of using federal funds alloted to the states to further public education was discussed yesterday by Dr. Frank L. Sievers, guest speaker at a three-county guidance conference held at Valley High School at Lonaconing.

Dr. Sievers is chief, Guidance and Student Personnel Section, Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C. and his topic of discussion was "Guidance, A Forward Look."

A bill signed into law this year aids certain phases of public education including languages, guidance and science. He said Maryland's share would be turned over to the Department of Educattion which in turn would make plans for allocations to the various counties.

The plan may include a comprehensive testing program for students at a federal grade level. Dr. Sievers pointed out that there is a possibility of additional guidance personnel in the county school system. Also supplies and materials needed in the guidance program would also be provided.

About 65 high school principals, guidance counselors and supervisory staff members of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties attended the conference.

Miss Sarah Leiter, state supervisor of personnel services, presided over a general session which began yesterday morning.

Allegany Art Group Spreads Yule Spirit

Members of the Senior Art and Poster Club of Allegany High School have been busy recently spreading the Christmas spirit throughout the community by their posters and paintings.

Mrs. Ethel C. Bruce is the advisor to the club which makes it an annual project to visit various places to decorate and extend the feeling of Christmas through the use of paintings and decorations.

A group from the club visited the County Home and Infirmary and decorated for Christmas. The group included Beverly Holcome, Lois Ayres, Robert Funk, Ann Williams, Edward Wendt, Betty Lou Long and Pat Robertson.

Yesterday, three members of the club visited the Girl Scout headquarters to put the finishing touches on Christmas scenes there. The girls were June Powers, Joyce Mace and Beverly Holcome.

Other members of the club placed decorations throughout the school on bulletin boards, auditorium door, showcases and windows.

Ministerial Group Installs Officers, Names Workers

Officers for the Cumberland Ministerial Association were installed Monday at a luncheon program at Central YMCA which was held in conjunction with a meeting of the ladies auxiliary.

Capt. Daniel K. Biggs, commanding officer of the Salvation Army Citadel is the new president, succeeding Rev. William Snyder, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran church.

Also installed at Monday's meeting were Dr. E. E. Miller, First Evangelical United Brethren Church, vice president; Rev. Wayne J. Eberly, pastor of Living Stone Church of the Brethren, secretary-treasurer, and Rev. William Snyder, Rev. Jacob Snyder, Kingsley Methodist Church and Rev. W. Randolph Keefe Jr., Grace Baptist Church, were elected to the board of directors.

The group elected James Fortner to the association. Committees appointed at the luncheon meeting were public relations, B. U. Smith, chairman: Rev. Russell Fink, Rev. Bruce Pfeiffer, Rev. William Harold, Dr. Crates S. Johnson and Rev. Jacob Snyder as representative of the executive board.

Social action and education committee, Rev. Maurice Robertson chairman; Rev. Everett Culp, Rev. Carlton Harris, Rev. Archie Prevatte, and Rev. E. E. Miller, executive board.

Special services committee, Herman Smith, chairman; Rev. George Bell, Rev. Louis Emerick, Rev. Harold McClay, Rev. B. F. Hartman, Rev. Robert Huddle, Rev. Robert Nimon and Rev. Keefe, executive board.

Recreation and youth activities Lt. Richard McConniel, Salvation Army, chairman; Rev. Robert Bavender, Rev. James Elliott, Rev. William W. Patterson, James Fortner, and Rev. William Snyder, executive board.

The ministers and ladies held separate business meetings prior to the luncheon program which was featured by group singing, an address by Dr. Miller and song selections by the Allegany Musettes under the direction of Mrs. Hayes Chambers.

The YMCA ladies auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Marshall Twigg served the luncheon to the 46 persons who attended the social program.

The next meeting will be held January 19.

Highway Safety Is Urged During Yule Holidays

With the Christmas holidays fast approaching, traffic and law enforcement agencies are urging more care by motorists to curtail deaths and injuries on Maryland highways.

The Department of Motor Vehicles, noting that more than 40,000 resident students are enrolled in Maryland's 32 colleges and universities, stressed special care be taken by those who must travel any distance to return to their homes on the long holiday vacation.

Most vacation periods, James B. Monroe, commissioner of motor vehicles, said will begin this year on Friday. He further urges students living off their campuses to put off starting their trips home until the following day, December 20, after a good night's rest rather than leaving immediately after classes end on Friday, for the trip.

He also pointed out that students can help reduce the possibilities of accidents by not driving too long or too far at one time, by stopping for coffee-breaks or rest periods every 100 miles or so on the longer trips, and by seeing that automobiles are fit for travel.

The commissioner also said many students do not drive while at college but will be using the family car during the holidays. These drivers, he stated, may be more out of practice than they realize and should drive with extra care.

The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission said this is the triple-threat season for motorists and pedestrians. Visibility is reduced by earlier darkness and swift weather changes create unexpected hazards for motorists.

Holiday party-goers are asked to drive safely and soberly and the commission suggests money used to purchase alcoholic beverages for office parties instead be donated to some worthy charity.

Gov. McKeldin has proclaimed Friday, December 26, a legal holiday for Maryland to give most people a long holiday weekend. The traffic commission urges special care be utilized by motorists during this period.

Meanwhile, state and city police officials are girding for the heavy traffic rush over the holiday period, urging that drivers remain sober to avoid accidents. "As Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Flemming said at Cumberland Monday, "If you're going to drink and drive, you'll have police for chasers."

Committee To Meet

Infirmary Admission Policy Seen

A three-member committee to supervise admission proceedings and to determine a rate of pay to be charged persons admitted to the Allegany County Infirmary was discussed yesterday morning during a meeting of the County Board of Commissioners.

The naming of such a committee was on a motion by Commissioner John T. Mason and was seconded by Commissioner John J. Rowan. However there were no persons selected to make up the committee.

The Welfare Board investigates the background of persons, who are seeking admission to the Infirmary and up until now the rate of pay has been determined according to the person's resources.

It is the aim of the proposed commitee to come up with admission proceedings as well as to establish a definite pay schedule.

Heretofore a portion of the person's Social Security has been accepted for payment of care at the Infirmary and the patients are allowed so much for personal comforts.

In other business transacted yesterday at the meeting, Emmanuel Walsh, of Bottle Run, appeared before the board and complained that water is running over the road near his home and has been freezing, creating a hazardous condition.

Harry Skelly, supervisor of county roads, pointed out that the road in that vicinity does not come under the jurisdiction of the county since it is not a county road.

Three Tots Die In Home Fire At Meyersdale

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (UPI) — Three children, all under five years of age, were burned to death Tuesday night when flames swept their home here.

Robert, Ronald and Linda Ansell, were trapped in the home while their mother attended a church meeting and their father was caring for chickens at a nearby barn.

James Ansell, the father, said he heard an explosion and ran from the barn to see the home engulfed in flames. He said he tried to get into the home to rescue the children but was driven back by intense heat.

Meyersdale firemen, hampered by the heat, were not able to recover the bodies for several hours. Firefighters were called to the Ansell's farm home, about one mile east of here, around 9 p.m.

Attends Conferences

State Senator Charles M. See will be in Baltimore through today, attending business meetings of the Maryland Workshop for the Blind. He is a trustee of the state-aided institution.

Attends Meeting

Teachers Assn. Confident Of Salary Boost

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Teachers Assn. remains convinced its 12 million dollar request for teacher salary increases will be approved by Gov.-elect Tawes and the Legislature despite pessimism from fiscal and political circles.

Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the association, said he is not sure whether new taxes would be needed to finance the higher salaries. But Raver said that's the responsibility of the governor and General Assembly.

Is Not Worried

Raver said his organization is not worried despite a growing feeling in state fiscal and political circles that the raises — equal to $400 in State aid for each public school teacher — will not be granted.

He gave two reasons for his optimism:

1. Tawes' "unequivocal commitment" on behalf of the salary increases, made in public during the election campaign at a Montgomery County PTA meeting.

2. The pledged support, either direct or indirect, of 79 per cent of the members of the incoming Legislature.

Wants Entire $400

Raver said he expects Tawes to balance the budget within present taxes and without teachers salaries in the first instance; and then, Raver says, he looks for introduction of a separate measure raising the legal salary scales of teachers. This bill, he anticipates, would call for a revenue measure providing sufficient funds for the raises.

And Raver said the teachers association is not interested in a compromise. The entire $400 increase is needed to make Maryland teacher salaries competitive with other states, he said.

Warm Air Hits Area, Snow Melts

Low for the day was 12 degrees early yesterday morning before the mercury began to rise steadily. At 6 p. m. yesterday it had dropped to 27 and was slowly falling.

Brisk winds were recorded early in the morning but died down shortly after sunrise.

The bright sun helped melt some of the snow on the ground at Oakland and vicinity and State Police and State Roads Commission officials reported nearly all roads dry and bare.

Valley Lions Selling Trees

The Potomac Valley Lions Club is conducting its annual Christmas tree sale at its usual location on McMullen Highway. The sale will continue through Saturday and Sunday, beginning both days at 9 a. m. and lasting until 9 p. m.

The proceeds from this project are utilized in the Cresaptown area to finance the eye conservation program for needy children. The club has adopted the slogan, "Buy our Christmas trees, please, so the little ones can see a Merry Christmas."

The club has purchased some freshly-cut spruce trees from a nearby community and has also obtained long-leaf needle pines.

The committee in charge of handling sales includes Robert Rogers, Oberlin Chaney, Augustine Diaz, John Millar, Robert Boniece, Grayson Solomon, Harold Weber, John Yoder, George Parker, Harry Wright, Lester McGill, John Barton, Charles Brockey, Rex Hazelton, Royce Johnson, Chelsu Liller, William Loar, Tucker Mason, Jay Pile, Bob Reinhard, Walter Richardson, Richard Winer, William Yoder, and Walter Yoder.

As many committee members as possible are asked to assist in the sales over the weekend.

7 SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

COPE Unit Will Meet Here Tonight

The Committee on Political Education of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Joseph V. Burke, area COPE director, will preside at the session, when plans for a continuing program will be made.

Rotary Club Children Entertained

Children of members of the Cumberland Rotary Club were guests last night at the Cumberland Country Club at the annual Christmas party sponsored by the Rotary Club. The featured entertainment was the Loveless Marionettes from Pittsburgh. Shown above are two members of the entertainment in the middle of a show with the marionettes.

The YMCA ladies auxiliary under the direction of Mrs. Marshall Twigg served the luncheon to the 46 persons who attended the social program.

The next meeting will be held January 19.

Teachers Assn. Confident Of Salary Boost

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Teachers Assn. remains convinced its 12 million dollar request for teacher salary increases will be approved by Gov.-elect Tawes and the Legislature despite pessimism from fiscal and political circles.

Milson C. Raver, executive secretary of the association, said he is not sure whether new taxes would be needed to finance the higher salaries. But Raver said that's the responsibility of the governor and General Assembly.

Is Not Worried

Raver said his organization is not worried despite a growing feeling in state fiscal and political circles that the raises — equal to $400 in State aid for each public school teacher — will not be granted.

He gave two reasons for his optimism:

1. Tawes' "unequivocal commitment" on behalf of the salary increases, made in public during the election campaign at a Montgomery County PTA meeting.

2. The pledged support, either direct or indirect, of 79 per cent of the members of the incoming Legislature.

Wants Entire $400

Raver said he expects Tawes to balance the budget within present taxes and without teachers salaries in the first instance; and then, Raver says, he looks for introduction of a separate measure raising the legal salary scales of teachers. This bill, he anticipates, would call for a revenue measure providing sufficient funds for the raises.

And Raver said the teachers association is not interested in a compromise. The entire $400 increase is needed to make Maryland teacher salaries competitive with other states, he said.

Warm Air Hits Area, Snow Melts

Cumberland experienced what one observer termed a "heat wave" yesterday when temperatures rose to 30 degrees during the bright, sunny day.

Low for the day was 12 degrees early yesterday morning before the mercury began to rise steadily. At 6 p. m. yesterday it had dropped to 27 and was slowly falling.

Brisk winds were recorded early in the morning but died down shortly after sunrise.

The bright sun helped melt some of the snow on the ground at Oakland and vicinity and State Police and State Roads Commission officials reported nearly all roads dry and bare.

7 SHOPPING DAYS TO CHRISTMAS

Highway Safety Is Urged During Yule Holidays

With the Christmas holidays fast approaching, traffic and law enforcement agencies are urging more care by motorists to curtail deaths and injuries on Maryland highways.

The Department of Motor Vehicles, noting that more than 40,000 resident students are enrolled in Maryland's 32 colleges and universities, stressed special care be taken by those who must travel any distance to return to their homes on the long holiday vacation.

Most vacation periods, James B. Monroe, commissioner of motor vehicles, said will begin this year on Friday. He further urges students living off their campuses to put off starting their trips home until the following day, December 20, after a good night's rest rather than leaving immediately after classes end on Friday, for the trip.

He also pointed out that students can help reduce the possibilities of accidents by not driving too long or too far at one time, by stopping for coffee-breaks or rest periods every 100 miles or so on the longer trips, and by seeing that automobiles are fit for travel.

The commissioner also said many students do not drive while at college but will be using the family car during the holidays. These drivers, he stated, may be more out of practice than they realize and should drive with extra care.

The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission said this is the triple-threat season for motorists and pedestrians. Visibility is reduced by earlier darkness and swift weather changes create unexpected hazards for motorists.

Holiday party-goers are asked to drive safely and soberly and the commission suggests money used to purchase alcoholic beverages for office parties instead be donated to some worthy charity.

Gov. McKeldin has proclaimed Friday, December 26, a legal holiday for Maryland to give most people a long holiday weekend. The traffic commission urges special care be utilized by motorists during this period.

Meanwhile, state and city police officials are girding for the heavy traffic rush over the holiday period, urging that drivers remain sober to avoid accidents.

"As Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Flemming said at Cumberland Monday, "If you're going to drink and drive, you'll have police for chasers."

Valley Lions Selling Trees

The Potomac Valley Lions Club is conducting its annual Christmas tree sale at its usual location on McMullen Highway. The sale will continue through Saturday and Sunday, beginning both days at 9 a. m. and lasting until 9 p. m.

The proceeds from this project are utilized in the Cresaptown area to finance the eye conservation program for needy children. The club has adopted the slogan, "Buy our Christmas trees, please, so the little ones can see a Merry Christmas."

The club has purchased some freshly-cut spruce trees from a nearby community and has also obtained long-leaf needle pines.

The committee in charge of handling sales includes Robert Rogers, Oberlin Chaney, Augustine Diaz, John Millar, Robert Boniece, Grayson Solomon, Harold Weber, John Yoder, George Parker, Harry Wright, Lester McGill, John Barton, Charles Brockey, Rex Hazelton, Royce Johnson, Chelsu Liller, William Loar, Tucker Mason, Jay Pile, Bob Reinhard, Walter Richardson, Richard Winer, William Yoder, and Walter Yoder.

As many committee members as possible are asked to assist in the sales over the weekend.

Post Office Concerned By Lag In Mail

Last-Minute Rush May Delay Delivery

Postal officials, unable to explain the severe lag in holiday mail this year, are concerned that a last-minute rush may swamp the Cumberland Post Office and result in Christmas mail and packages not reaching their destinations in time.

Slightly over 100,000 cancellations to midnight last night continued to show a decided lag behind last year, Postmaster Thomas F. Conlon said.

Yesterday's concellations compared to 145,000 on the same Tuesday in 1957, postal authorities noted. This meant that the mail handle was more than 200,000 pieces behind the comparable period a year ago.

If the present pace for mailing continues through Christmas week, the Post Office said, there will be a lot of letters and packages which won't be delivered in time for the holiday.

The week before Christmas in 1957 found cancellations as high as 154,000 in one day before the mail rush began to taper off as the holiday approached. This enabled the Post Office to handle and deliver all mail on time, postal officials said. A normal day's handle is around 22,000 cancellations, they added.

On Saturday before Christmas last year there were 64,400 cancellations; 30,100 on Sunday; 54,900 on Monday and Tuesday (the day before Christmas in 1957) 19,800.

Christmas falls a day later this year and postal officials are hopeful the heavy influx of mailing will begin soon to avoid the late tie-ups which will result in delay of the delivery of the mail.

One official explained that no matter how much extra help is placed on duty in the Post Office it still takes an experienced man to handle the final steps in the distribution of the mail and this is where the greatest delay can develop.

Speculation as to whether the public is just lax this season or whether the increase in the mailing rates is the cause is being voiced among postal officials.

Infirmary Admission Policy Seen

A three-member committee to supervise admission proceedings and to determine a rate of pay to be charged persons admitted to the Allegany County Infirmary was discussed yesterday morning during a meeting of the County Board of Commissioners.

The naming of such a committee was on a motion by Commissioner John T. Mason and was seconded by Commissioner John J. Rowan. However there were no persons selected to make up the committee.

The Welfare Board investigates the background of persons, who are seeking admission to the Infirmary and up until now the rate of pay has been determined according to the person's resources.

It is the aim of the proposed commitee to come up with admission proceedings as well as to establish a definite pay schedule.

Heretofore a portion of the person's Social Security has been accepted for payment of care at the Infirmary and the patients are allowed so much for personal comforts.

In other business transacted yesterday at the meeting, Emmanuel Walsh, of Bottle Run, appeared before the board and complained that water is running over the road near his home and has been freezing, creating a hazardous condition.

Harry Skelly, supervisor of county roads, pointed out that the road in that vicinity does not come under the jurisdiction of the county since it is not a county road.

Committee To Meet

The Legislative committee of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce will meet today at 4 p. m. in the Chamber offices. Harry I. Stegmaier is chairman.

Aid Is Sought For Family That Lost Home In Fire

Residents of Flintstone are undertaking a drive seeking clothing and furniture for the family of Robert Heavner of Town Creek Road, whose home and belongings were destroyed by fire early Saturday morning.

Firemen said the father and four young children were still in bed when the fire was discovered by Mrs. Heavner and the family escaped to safety in below-freezing temperatures.

Besides their belongings the family lost $1,700 cash which was in an upstairs room, about $200 worth of Christmas toys, presents and clothing, as well as a supply of canned goods, potatoes and apples stored in the basement of the two-story frame farm house.

The origin of the fire is undetermined according to Cleo Helmick, one of the volunteer firemen of Flintstone who responded to the blaze which occured about 7:30 a. m.

The firemen said the blaze started in the kitchen and the flames ate their way up through the partition to the second floor and the entire upstairs was almost in flames before the fire was discovered by Mrs. Heavner.

Her husband and four small children were still in bed at the time and they were fortunate in escaping from the burning dwelling. Firemen said they managed to save a refrigerator, china closet, and chair from the kitchen and when they went back into the house to get the television set the ceiling of the front room collapsed.

About 12 or 15 volunteers took the Flintstone Fire Company's two pumpers to the fire but were unable to save the home and concentrated in wetting down two other buildings in the immediate area. A barn across the road from the burning home was not damaged.

Mr. Helmick, driver of one of the pumpers, said that the fire was visible across a meadow about a mile away and the roof was in flames. The damage is partially covered by insurance, according to Mr. Heavner.

He and his family are staying temporarily at the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Fletcher, who live in the Martin Mountain area. Mr. Heavner, said his father had given him $1,700 on Friday night, proceeds from the sale of some cattle.

Volunteer firemen of Flintstone will accept clothing and furniture for the Heavner family.

Three Tots Die In Home Fire At Meyersdale

MEYERSDALE, Pa. (UPI) — Three children, all under five years of age, were burned to death Tuesday night when flames swept their home here.

Robert, Ronald and Linda Ansell, were trapped in the home while their mother attended a church meeting and their father was caring for chickens at a nearby barn.

James Ansell, the father, said he heard an explosion and ran from the barn to see the home engulfed in flames. He said he tried to get into the home to rescue the children but was driven back by intense heat.

Meyersdale firemen, hampered by the heat, were not able to recover the bodies for several hours. Firefighters were called to the Ansell's farm home, about one mile east of here, around 9 p.m.

State Bonus Plan To Be Formulated

Commission Will Convene Friday

A big step toward getting a bonus for Maryland veterans will be taken on Friday night at the City Hall in Baltimore when 15 members of a special Veterans Commission take action favoring the bonus and outline specific means by which the necessary funds will be raised.

Del. Noel Speir Cook, of Frostburg, a member of the Allegany County Delegation to the General Assembly, is one of the 15 members of the commission set up by the 1958 Legislature.

The meeting on Friday will begin at 7:30 p.m., according to Delegate Cook, who said last night that the recommendations will be drawn up for presentation to the Legislature which convenes at Annapolis next month.

The big question — where will the money come from? A number of sources of revenue will be submitted in the commission's findings, Delegate Cook said.

In recent months, meetings have been held with veterans organizations throughout Maryland to learn the feeling of veterans toward the bonus. All meetings ended in favor of a bonus.

Delegate Cook said the bonus per individual would not be in excess of $500 with $10 for each month of service stateside and $15 for each month out of the country.

A soldier's bonus bill introduced in the Legislature would be subject to a referendum by the residents of Maryland. Two meetings on the bonus question were held in Cumberland and were attended by members of veterans organizations.

Estimated cost of the bonus would be $100,000,000 including about $10,000 for administrative costs.

Color Guard Plans Christmas Party

The Color Guard of Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will hold its sixth annual Christmas Cheer Party on Friday night at the home of Cumberland Council 586, K. of C.

The party will begin at 9 p. m., according to Arthur Young, who said that W. E. Neus will be master of ceremonies.

The Casey Chorus is arranging a program of Christmas selections and will entertain throughout the evening. As usual a large turnout is expected. Members of the Knights of Columbus are invited to attend.

Trucker Dies In Parking Lot Accident

John Lee Crushed By Truck At Bedford

A 36-year-old Indiana truck driver was crushed to death last night when he was run over by a backing tractor-trailer rig at a service station on U. S. 220 at the Bedford interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

John A. Lee, Pendleton, Ind., was pronounced dead on arrival at Bedford County Memorial Hospital where he was taken shortly after the accident at 7:30 p. m.

Pennsylvania State Police said Lee was struck by the huge tractor-trailer which was backing into a parking lot at the Como Service Station. They said Lee apparently was walking across the parking lot at the time.

The rig was driven by Edward Weber Bell Jr., 37, of Harrisburg, Pa., who told police he did not see Lee in the darkness of the lot and did not realize he had struck the man until the heavy vehicle had passed over the victim's body.

Federal Aid To Education Is Discussed

The possibility of using federal funds alloted to the states to further public education was discussed yesterday by Dr. Frank L. Sievers, guest speaker at a three-county guidance conference held at Valley High School at Lonaconing.

Dr. Sievers is chief, Guidance and Student Personnel Section, Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C. and his topic of discussion was "Guidance, A Forward Look."

A bill signed into law this year aids certain phases of public education including languages, guidance and science. He said Maryland's share would be turned over to the Department of Educattion which in turn would make plans for allocations to the various counties.

The plan may include a comprehensive testing program for students at a federal grade level. Dr. Sievers pointed out that there is a possibility of additional guidance personnel in the county school system. Also supplies and materials needed in the guidance program would also be provided.

About 65 high school principals, guidance counselors and supervisory staff members of Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties attended the conference.

Miss Sarah Leiter, state supervisor of personnel services, presided over a general session which began yesterday morning.

COPE Unit Will Meet Here Tonight

The Committee on Political Education of the Western Maryland Central Labor Council, AFL-CIO, will meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Allegany Labor Temple.

Joseph V. Burke, area COPE director, will preside at the session, when plans for a continuing program will be made.

In the past, officials said, COPE was generally inactive at the local level between major elections.

Rotary Club Children Entertained
